University Profile

Mission and Objectives

The mission of the university from its beginning has been to demonstrate the meaning of Jesus Christ by offering a caring educational community in which each individual may achieve the highest intellectual and personal growth, and by participating responsibly in our world's concerns. The foregoing mission statement of George Fox University is detailed in the following institutional objectives:

through his life, death, and resurrection, to reconcile us to God. He is now actively present with us as Savior, Teacher, Lord, Healer, and Friend.

God the Holy Spirit

We believe in the Holy Spirit, who breathed God's message into the prophets and apostles, opens our eyes to God's Truth in Jesus Christ, empowers us for holy living, and carries on in us the work of salvation.

Salvation

We believe that salvation comes through Jesus Christ alone, to whom we must respond with repentance, faith, and obedience. Through Christ we come into a right relationship with God, our sins are forgiven, and we receive eternal life.

The Bible

We believe that God inspired the Bible and has given it to us as the uniquely authoritative, written guide for Christian living and thinking. As illumined by the Holy Spirit, the Scriptures are true and reliable. They point us to God, guide our lives, and nurture us toward spiritual maturity.

The Christian Life

We believe that God has called us to be and to make disciples of Jesus Christ and to be God's agents of love and reconciliation in the world. In keeping with the teaching of Jesus, we work to oppose violence and war, and we seek peace and justice in human relationships and social structures.

The Church

We believe in the church as the people of God, composed of all who believe in Jesus Christ, who support and equip each other through worship, teaching, and accountability, who model God's loving community, and who proclaim the gospel to the world.

Christian Worship

We believe Christ is present as we gather in his name, seeking to worship in spirit and in truth. All believers are joined in the one body of Christ, are baptized by the Spirit, and live in Christ's abiding presence. Christian baptism and communion are spiritual realities, and, as Christians from many faith traditions, we celebrate these in different ways.

The Future

We believe in the personal return of Jesus Christ, in the resurrection of the dead, in God's judgment of all persons with perfect justice and mercy, and in eternal reward and punishment. Ultimately, Christ's kingdom will be victorious over all evil, and the faithful will reign with him in eternal life.

Values Statement

The George Fox University community values...

- Following Christ, the Center of Truth
- Honoring the worth, dignity, and potential of the individual
- Developing the whole person—spirit, mind, and body
- Living and learning in a Christ-centered community
- Pursuing integrity over image
- Achieving academic excellence in the liberal arts
- Preparing every person to serve Christ in the world
- Preserving our Friends (Quaker) heritage

Student Outcomes

In any enterprise involving students of varied preparedness, motivation, and discipline, there will be differences in outcomes.

Education is realistic and idealistic. It reaches beyond the average, the assured, and the guaranteed. University objectives, indeed the entire catalog, may be seen as sincere intention to provide an educational program of high quality. Accountability to students is fulfilled by providing qualified teachers, a community with Christian values, and the historical continuity of a Quaker university. The opportunity for personal growth and development is here, yet student initiative and responsibility are vital. The catalog is not an unconditional contract.

Accreditations and Approval

George Fox University is accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges and by the National Association of Schools of Music. It is approved by the U.S. government and the states of Oregon and Idaho for the education of veterans, and by the U.S. attorney general for the admission of international students.

The university is a member of the national Christian College Consortium, the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, the Association of American Colleges, the College Scholarship Service, the Council of Independent Colleges, the American Association for Higher Education, the Friends Association for Higher Education, the National Association of Evangelicals, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Northwest Conference, the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the Evangelical Teacher Training Association, the Northwest Association of Private College and University Libraries, the Oregon Independent Colleges Association, the Oregon Independent College Foundation, the National Council of Schools and Programs of Professional Psychology, and the Council of Graduate Departments of Psychology.

The School of Education is approved by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) for the preparation of early childhood and elementary teachers at the undergraduate and graduate levels and for the preparation of middle and high school level teachers in specific fields at the graduate level. The School of Education is also approved by TSPC for the preparation of principals, superintendents, and other administrators as well as school counselors and school psychologists.

The seminary, a graduate school of George Fox University, is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada and by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

The counseling and marriage and family therapy degrees fulfill all the educational requirements for licensure by the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists.

The school counseling and school psychology degrees and certificates fulfill all the educational requirements for licensure by the Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC).

The play therapy certificate fulfills all the educational requirements to become a Registered Play Therapist (RPT) through the Association for Play Therapy (APT).

The Graduate School of Clinical Psychology is accredited by the American Psychological Association's Committee on Accreditation. Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) degrees fulfill all the educational requirements for licensure by the Oregon Board of Psychology Examiners and for listing in the National Council of Health Service Providers in Psychology.

The other 12 members of the Christian College Consortium are Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky.; Bethel College, St. Paul, Minn.; Gordon College, Wenham, Mass.; Greenville College, Greenville, Ill.; Houghton College, Houghton, N.Y.; Malone College, Canton, Ohio; Messiah College, Grantham, Pa.; Seattle Pacific University, Seattle, Wash.; Taylor University, Upland, Ind.; Trinity College, Deerfield, Ill.; Westmont College, Santa Barbara, Calif.; and Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

The Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, based in Washington, D.C., was founded in 1976. Each of the 100 U.S. member institutions is committed to academic excellence and to the integration of faith, learning, and living. The council, comprised of four-year liberal arts colleges with full regional accreditation, provides a medium for strengthening and unifying this important sector of private higher education.

Place

George Fox University serves students at a number of locations in the Pacific Northwest, including its Portland Center, Salem Center, Boise (Idaho) Center, and teaching sites in Eugene and other Oregon communities. Its residential undergraduate campus is in Newberg, Ore., in the lower Willamette Valley, on an 85-acre tree-shaded campus in a residential neighborhood. This area offers a variety to meet most interests: a friendly community close (23 miles) to a major metropolitan environment of 1.7 million people, located in the beauty of the Pacific Northwest, with nearby mountain ranges for skiing and easy access to rugged coastal beaches just an hour away.

Oregon — 97,060 square miles of variety — stretches from the Pacific Coast, over the Coast Range, through the fertile Willamette Valley, past the snowcapped Cascades, and into the high desert country of central and eastern Oregon. More than half of the student body call Oregon home. Others come to school in Oregon and decide to make it their new home — despite the fabled rain. Yes, there is rain, and sometimes it falls hard in the valley between the mountain ranges where George Fox University is located. But it is the rain that makes Oregon green and gives it natural beauty. Umbrellas and raincoats do come in handy during

More than a century ago, early Oregon Quaker pioneers helped settle the rich and fruitful Chehalem Valley of Oregon. One of their first priorities, along with the founding of their church, was the education of their children. In 1885, the Christian instruction of their offspring was assured with the establishment of Friends Pacific Academy. At the same time, founding pioneers were looking ahead with a dream of a college to provide further and more advanced education. That time came September 9, 1891, with the opening of the doors of Pacific College. Fifteen students were counted on opening day.

In the 115 years since George Fox University's founding, there have been major changes, of course, including the name of the university itself, changed in 1949 because of the many "Pacific" colleges and retitled in honor of the founder of the Friends Church. The name changed again in July 1996 when George Fox College became George Fox University, incorporating Western Evangelical Seminary with 300 students on a campus in Tigard, Ore.

From only a handful of courses in the 1890s, the university now offers 40 undergraduate majors and graduate programs in psychology, counseling, education, business, ministry, and religion. In all, more than 16,000 students over the years have called this institution their alma mater.

George Fox has grown rapidly in the last two decades — both in reputation and facilities. U.S. News & World Report for 17 years has named George Fox "One of America's Best Colleges." In 2005, George Fox ranked in the top tier in the category of Best Universities — Master's, West Region. National recognition also has come from the John Templeton Foundation, which selected George Fox as one of 100 in its Honor Roll of Character-Building Colleges.

Following a series of campus master plans, George Fox has expanded in recent years to now include 70 buildings on approximately 85 acres. The most recent expansion is the 2006 purchase of an adjacent eight acres formerly occupied by Providence Newberg Hospital. The growth to the east incorporates tree-filled Hess Creek Canyon within the main campus. The canyon formerly served as the campus' eastern boundary. A Defining Chapter campaign is raising funds for the property purchase, to renovate and expand the Hoover Academic Building (now in progress), and to construct a 120-bed residence hall, to open in 2006. A 24-acre tract north of the campus also is to be developed into a new athletic field complex. More than 3,000 students come to George Fox from across the nation to participate in the experience of sharing faith and learning with dedicated faculty and administrators.

Depending on the program, graduate students attend classes either on the Newberg campus, the Portland Center, the Boise Center, the Salem Center, or at one of the university's teaching sites in Eugene and other Oregon communities. Off-campus teaching sites are also the location of classes offered through the George Fox degree-completion program for working adults.

The Christian atmosphere is a university priority. With other Christians, the university holds to the historic truths and teachings of Christianity, as outlined in the statement of faith. From its founding, the university has been guided by Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church. It historically has emphasized the necessity of a genuinely experiential Christian faith, personal integrity and purity, the spiritual nature of the ordinances, the importance of peacemaking and responsible social action, the involvement of

Newberg Campus Facilities

Located in a residential area, George Fox's Newberg campus incorporates Hess Creek Canyon, with its natural setting of tall trees, ferns, and wildflowers. The campus has grown in recent years according to a series of master plans and now includes 85 acres featuring an academic quadrangle; a recreational area with sports center and athletics fields; and a living area with major residence halls. A new campus plan is redefining the plan with significant expansion to the east on a newly acquired eight-acre tract. Following is a list of facilities corresponding to the campus map:

Armstrong House, a Newberg historic building, was constructed in 1923 and purchased by the university in 1995. Located at 215 North Center Street, it houses the Office of University Advancement.

The Art Annex is a former residence at East North and North Center streets. It houses graphic design faculty, senior studio art studios, and the Fox Agency, a group of advanced art students who do graphic design.

The William and Mary Bauman Chapel/Auditorium opened in the fall of 1982 as the final phase of the Milo C. Ross Center. It seats 1,150 persons in a facility that is among the finest in the Northwest. Rotating art exhibits appear in the adjacent Donald H. Lindgren Gallery.

Brougher Hall, erected in 1947 and remodeled and enlarged in 1959 and 1961, contains classrooms and art facilities.

new nursing program.

Lemmons Center, built in 1964 and remodeled in 1997, is the combination of three hexagon modules providing classrooms, offices for education and family and consumer sciences faculty, and Calder Lecture Hall, which seats 165.

The Media Communication Center, completed in 1979, houses a television production studio, as well as offices and EFP video equipment for the media communication major. This facility also is used in the authoring and production of interactive multimedia.

Meridian Street House is at 206 N. Meridian St. A residence purchased in 1995, it houses the graduate education faculty and staff.

The Virginia Millage Memorial Rose Garden has 224 plants of 43 varieties in 24 beds. The 72-foot-diameter circular garden was created in 1992, honoring a George Fox alumna and volunteer leader.

Minthorn Hall

The Edward F. Stevens Center opened in 2001. It houses offices and services for student life, housing/residence life, career services, campus ministries, multicultural student services, graduate and undergraduate admission, the registrar, student financial services, and marketing and communications. It also contains classrooms and the institutional technology center on the third floor.

The Student Union Building (SUB), built in 1958 and enlarged in 1968 and 1979, includes student government offices, student post office, the University Store, and the Foxhole coffee shop and recreation area.

Housing

A variety of housing is available in Newberg and throughout the Portland metropolitan area. Rental rates vary according to size and location. It is the responsibility of the graduate student to make all arrangements for housing. Follow this link for information about off-campus housing options. View the housing page on the George Fox website for information about summer graduate housing while taking classes.

Standards of Conduct

By accepting admission to George Fox University, students agree to respect the appointed leadership and expectations of the institution. The standards of conduct are designed to allow the fullest liberty, while at the same time promoting the welfare of the entire campus community.

The university admits students with the understanding that they will comply with these expectations in every respect and conduct themselves as responsible citizens. All students are expected to maintain standards of behavior that conform to state and local laws.

Any student whose behavior is dishonest, destructive, unethical, or immoral — or whose conduct is detrimental to the total welfare of the community — shall be subject to disciplinary action that may result in suspension or dismissal. Disciplinary and

Murdock Learning Resource Center (Newberg) and Portland Center Library (Tigard)

George Fox University maintains libraries at both the Newberg and Portland Center campuses. The Murdock Learning Resource Center (MLRC) is a three-story, 35,000-square-foot building serving the Newberg campus from a central location. The MLRC houses 136,000 print volumes and receives nearly 900 periodical titles. In addition, thousands of full-text periodicals are also available online from both the Newberg campus and the Portland Center, and off campus through a proxy server. The MLRC has several special collections, including the Quaker Collection of basic Quaker books, pamphlets, and periodicals. The archives of Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church and of George Fox University, dating from the 1880s, are preserved in a special room. The Hoover Collection contains materials written about President Herbert Hoover and his administration. The Peace Collection contains books and periodicals pertaining to conflict resolution and international peacekeeping.

The Portland Center library houses 67,000 print volumes and receives more than 300 periodicals. The collection is especially

Newberg Campus Programs

Center for Peace and Justice

The Center for Peace and Justice was established in order that George Fox University have an active learning program dealing with peacemaking and conflict resolution. Planning for the center was the specific result of searching questions about the university's contribution to peacemaking made by Senator Mark Hatfield in his address at the 1984 inauguration of President Edward Stevens. Hatfield now teaches a peace studies course at George Fox.

The center coordinates a number of courses, taught by faculty in various departments, which can be combined in a minor or used to enrich preparation for service in such careers as social work, pastoral ministry, peace education, teaching in public or private schools, diplomacy, and business. In addition to regular course work, the center offers a variety of learning experiences for students and community participants, including lectures, films, international work/study trips, and field experience placements. Research is encouraged and made possible by the peace collection in the Murdock Learning Resource Center and by the specialized materials in the Center for Peace and Justice.

The Center for Peace and Justice conducts a study program in conflict management to prepare students for practical peacemaking in their work, church, community, and family. Certificates are awarded upon completion of the program, details of which are presented in the peace and conflict studies section of the undergraduate catalog.

Herbert Hoover Symposia

Every two years since 1977, members of the history faculty have invited to the George Fox University campus leading authorities on the life and career of Herbert Hoover. These meetings are attended by professional historians, students, faculty, and friends of the university. Credit is offered to students who study selected aspects of the rich and varied career of the 31st president of the United States.

The ties between Herbert Hoover and George Fox University began in 1885. That fall, 11-year-old Bert Hoover, recently orphaned in Iowa, moved to Newberg, Ore., to live with his uncle and aunt, Dr. Henry John and Laura Ellen Minthorn. Minthorn had recently opened Friends Pacific Academy, and Bert enrolled in the first class shortly after his arrival. He studied under dedicated Quaker mentors and helped pay his way by tending furnace, sweeping floors, and cleaning blackboards.

"As a young student there for three years," President Herbert Clark Hoover said in later years, "I received whatever set I may have had toward good purposes in life."

The academy was the predecessor school to George Fox University, which was founded in 1891. Those on campus with a sense of heritage often think of the quiet lad who studied here a century ago. No one dreamed he would grow to be named "Engineer of the Century," that he would live and work on five continents, that he would direct the greatest humanitarian projects the world has seen — and that in 1928 he would be elected president of the United States.

"I can't afford to underestimate the potential of any student," is the way one professor puts it. "The steady gaze of young Bert in those old photos won't let me!"

School of Professional Studies

Program Description

The School of Professional Studies offers five majors to adult students who are returning to college to complete their undergraduate degree.

The majors are unique alternatives to the traditional method of pursuing a college degree. Courses are designed to meet the needs and learning styles of working adults. Classes are conveniently located and meet one night each week, and several Friday nights/Saturdays, as well as online.

Students study with other adults who share similar interests and concerns. Together they form an academic learning community, drawing from their own personal, professional, and technical backgrounds as they follow an intense program of classes and individual study.

Students who successfully complete the courses of their major program and the accompanying degree requirements are granted either a bachelor of science degree in management and business information systems (MBIS) or project management (MPJM), or a bachelor of arts degree in social and behavioral studies (MSBS), management and organizational leadership (MGOL), or health administration (MGHA).

Applicants to these programs generally require a minimum of 31 semester hours of transferable college credit from accredited institutions or approved military education.

Through these programs the School of Professional Studies serves the needs of adult learners and helps them assess personal values, develop interpersonal skills, and enhance competencies in order to better contribute to the organizations and individuals they seek to serve.

Credit for Prior Learning

College-level learning occurs in many environments in addition to the traditional college classroom. Students in the professional studies degree programs may earn college credit for learning outside of the classroom. A maximum of 28 semester hours may be earned through prior learning credit.

General Education and Elective Courses

These classes will assist in building required credits in order to enter the major. The classes are designed for adult learners and scheduled either evenings or weekends. The classes offered are general education or general elective credits. Please contact the School of Professional Studies or admissions for the schedule of coming classes.

Course Structure

The Management Core Courses

Students choosing the management and organizational leadership (MGOL), health administration (MGHA), management and business information systems (MBIS), and project management (MPJM) majors are required to complete the following core courses:

MSBS 431 Contemporary Social Dynamics and Public Policy

3 hours. An exploration of behaviors, values, and attitudes in personal and social relationships as they affect the development of public policy.

MSBS 432 Personal and Professional Ethics

3 hours. An exploration of the place human values have in one's personal and professional life. Students will examine and develop systems for making ethical decisions.

MSBS 441 Senior Thesis I

1 hour. The student will design a research project, develop survey instruments, conduct a review of the literature, and develop a research proposal.

MSBS 442 Senior Thesis II

1 hour. The student will design a research project, develop survey instruments, conduct a review of the literature, and develop a research proposal.

MSBS 475 Practicum (1–3 credit electives)

(Optional — by arrangement with the School of Professional Studies)

Active internship in the social services field in which the student is employed or seeks employment.

(Students in the MSBS program are required to plan, implement, and report on an approved research project. The project examines issues in the student's social and behavioral environment.)

Graduate Programs

Mission

George Fox University's graduate and professional programs seek to fulfill the university's mission by providing students with accessible, high-quality educational programs that enhance professional skills and foster intellectual and spiritual growth.

Doctor of Management

(DMgt Degree)

Mission

The structure and focus of the Doctor of Management Program reflects the mission of the School of Management and the university as a whole.

The School of Management at George Fox University encourages continual intellectual, social, and spiritual growth through a caring, Christ-centered learning community that is responsive to the individual. We develop promising leaders and managers to be servants for the world.

George Fox University (Pacific College) was born in 1891 with the aim of "sending forth many Christian teachers, ministers, and missionaries, as well as Christian business men [sic], farmers, etc." Even in those early days, the college emphasized "community life, organization, and preparation for leadership." George Fox himself advocated liberal learning, but in the context of "useful

Master of Business Administration

(MBA Degree)

Program Description

The George Fox University master of business administration degree is intended for students who want to improve their management and leadership ability through intellectual, moral, and creative growth through completion of a two-year program. The program is situated squarely within the university's mission, believing that its Christian values, concern for integration, and commitment to quality speak to managers who desire training that is both theoretically sound and humanly meaningful. Managers have become increasingly aware of the importance of values, ethics, service, and other spiritually significant elements that are part and parcel of George Fox University programs.

BUSG 544 Managing and Organizing

3 hours. We study the fundamental changes in the way organizations are being managed in a culture that is increasingly global. We see the need to manage change and apply it to such areas as new ventures, not-for-profits, businesses in crisis, and businesses saved from crisis. We seek to harmonize our espoused theories with our theories in use and do so with integrity, effectiveness, and joy.

BUSG 551 Decision Making and Information Management

3 hours. We investigate systematic approaches to identifying and measuring organizational and process improvement. Emphasis is given to project development and management, and to information systems required to support decision making.

BUSG 552 Community Learning and Consulting

3 hours. This experience provides an opportunity for students to work with a public benefit organization to apply skills, theory, course concepts, and research-based decision-making skills. A faculty mentor will structure the learning, coordinate with the cooperating organizations, assess level and significance of student learning, and monitor the overall experience. Students will provide oral and written reports to organization and class.

BUSG 556 Transformational Leadership

3 hours. Explores both historical and contemporary leadership theories and models. Particular emphasis is given to evaluating leadership theories from a values perspective and determining the ways in which they can be applied to the most current developments in organizational change strategies. Using this knowledge, students are presented with ways in which leadership can be reconceptualized and applied to meet the requirements of today's increasingly complex organizations.

BUSG 560 Strategic Thinking

3 hours. In the process of learning to think strategically, we become proficient in the use of strategic management tools and apply these tools and concepts to our own professional contexts. We seek to creatively anticipate alternative futures.

BUSG 701 Faith, Spirituality, and Management

3 hours. Designed to enhance understanding of the relationship between Christian faith, spirituality, and the practice of organizational management. Special focus on the integration of faith and learning, the relationship between religion and organizational management.

Students are encouraged to frame their research within the scope of their dissertation project, and relate their paper to individual dissertation chapters and topics.

BUSG 715 Advanced Topics in Marketing

3 hours. Intensive study of current marketing literature, focusing on rapid globalization, the growth of not-for-profits, the call for ethics and social responsibility, the impact of the digital age, and the new world of customer relationships.

This course examines contemporary trends and issues in American higher education designed to orient students to issues, ideas, and literature that constitute the study of higher education, with emphasis on underlying social and political issues that shape higher education and organizational change.

Doctor of Psychology

(PsyD Degree)

Program Description

The Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) Program follows a professional (practitioner-scholar) model and is designed to prepare qualified, professional psychologists. The professional model is distinguished from the more traditional scientist-practitioner model leading to the PhD. While the PsyD degree provides training in the scientific foundations of psychology and in research methods and statistics, it places greater emphasis on the development of clinical skills. Since the initial endorsement of the doctor of psychology degree by the American Psychological Association in 1979, the professional model has been incorporated into the reflects the distinctive Quaker traditions of social service and advocacy for the rights and well-being of all persons, especially those whose opportunities are compromised by prejudice and injustice. This integration of faith and service is also a distinctive of the program.

Clinical Training

Clinical training is a central component of the PsyD curriculum. Although it is a distinct part of the curriculum, it is also integrated with the academic course work throughout the program. The clinical training process begins in the first year and continues throughout the program, ultimately preparing the student for postdoctoral residency training and licensure as a psychologist.

students, although it is not a requirement.

Graduate Studies in Religion Course Offerings

George Fox University offers a range of graduate courses in religion designed especially to serve the PsyD program. Sixteen hours of required courses in religion are offered with regularity, and several other seminars integrating religion and psychology are offered on a rotating basis. Integration paradigm seminars or specialized studies may be conducted with the consent of faculty members on an individualized basis to meet the needs and interests of students.

Research Sequence

The research sequence introduces students to statistical methods and research design while cultivating the foundational skills necessary for the critical evaluation of scientific research and clinical programs. In addition, students are given broad exposure to the research literature in clinical psychology and the psychology of religion. Students are encouraged to participate in ongoing research, and in recent years a majority of graduates have had a research paper accepted for professional presentation or publication.

Students participate in vertically integrated research teams beginning in their first year. These teams meet biweekly with core faculty members as team leaders. Teams consist of small groups of students from each year in the program. During the first year, students rotate through all research teams to observe and learn about the areas of research being undertaken. In the second year, students choose a team in which they wish to participate throughout the remainder of their experience with the GDCP. Students will then engage in research under the direction and support of the faculty member who leads the team. This research will culminate in completion and defense of the doctoral dissertation. The research teams provide a mentoring experience for students as they learn about research, engage in their own research, and often participate in additional collaborative research with other team members.

The dissertation, while usually empirical, can also be theoretical or applied. It is normally completed during the third or fourth years of the program. The goal of the research sequence is to equip graduates with the knowledge and skills necessary for the effective generation and use of the evolving body of knowledge in the science of psychology, and in so doing, to lay a foundation for continued professional growth and contribution throughout each graduate's career. (See GDCP Research Policies Handbook for more information.)

Research and Training Facilities

The psychology computer lab is located within the Stevens Center computer lab on the Newberg campus. High-speed computers, laser printers, and complete statistical (SPSS) and graphics software are provided. In addition, students have access to university e-mail and library search engines from their home computers.

The Murdock Learning Resource Center provides library support for the psychology program. The library has an excellent collection of materials addressing the integration of psychology and the Christian faith and a good collection of contemporary work in most areas of psychology. In addition, the library receives or has immediate full-text access to more than 100 periodicals members are licensed psychologists who represent varied specialty areas and research interests; one core faculty member is a licensed physician; and one basic science faculty member is a specialist in research design, statistical methods, and cognitive psychology. All core faculty are actively engaged in research and other scholarly activity. A number of adjunct faculty members further enhance the course offerings, clinic training, and specialties available to students in the program.

Theoretical orientations represented by the faculty include psychodynamic, behavioral, cognitive-behavioral, object relational, family systems, and psychobiological. Despite its diversity in theoretical orientation, the faculty is united by a common commitment to a Christian worldview, to providing high-quality professional training and mentoring, and to upholding the highest standards of scholarship, ethics, and clinical expertise among its students.

Additionally, several of the core psychology faculty members have graduate degrees or course work in theology and religion. Thus, the faculty is well trained to fulfill the stated mission and objectives of the GDCP.

Professional Standards

Standards for graduate education in psychology, as well as for practice of psychology, are set by the policies of the American Psychological Association (APA) through its Committee on Accreditation and those of the relevant state laws and administrative rules. In Oregon, these include the Oregon Revised Statutes and Oregon Administrative Rules of the Oregon State Board of Psychologist Examiners. The design, structure, and processes of graduate education at George Fox University are influenced by these statutes and policies. Consequently, in addition to the policies of the university's graduate program, students in the a minimum of 9 hours each semester, failure to enroll for a minimum of 2 hours each semester (summer term is excepted) will result in suspension from the program. Reenrollment will require application for readmission.

Leave of Absence

Students who must temporarily discontinue graduate study for medical or other reasons may arrange a leave of absence of up to one academic year with the approval of their advisor and the chairperson of the GDCP. Students who wish to discontinue for longer than one year will normally be required to apply for readmission into the program.

Grading Policy, Scholarship, Probation, and Suspension

Graduate Psychology Course Offerings

The curriculum is designed so that students are required to take core courses in the scientific foundations of psychology, psychological research, clinical psychology, and Bible/religion. Courses in clinical psychology are structured in domains that cover major areas of the field. Within the domains, students are required to take particular essential courses and then allowed to choose electives that enhance their desired areas of professional development. Issues of cultural diversity and spiritual integration are infused throughout much of the curriculum.

Core Psychology Courses

Scientific Foundations of Psychology

PSYD 501 Theories of Personality and Psychotherapy

3 hours. Required. Focuses on the major theories of personality, their authors, and the systems of psychotherapy associated with those personality theories. This course provides an understanding of the basic principles of personality development, structure, dynamics, and process. The course also serves as a survey of the major systems of psychotherapy. Significant research on personality and psychotherapy outcome and process will be reviewed.

PSYD 502 Psychopathology

3 hours. Required. Focuses on understanding the basic processes and distinguishing features among the major categories of mental disorders and becoming familiar with standard diagnostic categories and systems. Assessment and case reports using DSM IV criteria are emphasized.

PSYD 503 Learning, Cognition, and Emotion

3 hours. Required. Examines contemporary perspectives on thought, learning, memory, emotion, and other higher mental processes. After a review of theoretical perspectives on learning, cognition, and emotion, cognition-emotion interaction and the development of this interaction will be discussed.

PSYD 504 Social Psychology

3 hours. Required. An overview of some of the major theories, concepts, and research topics in social psychology. The social aspects of the individual's behavior are studied, with special reference to the social agencies involved in shaping behavior.

PSYD 505 Human Development

3 hours. Required. An overview of the important psychological developments that occur throughout the life span. Contemporary research and developmental theories will provide a structure for understanding the change of people from infancy to senescence. Central issues of human functioning such as intelligence, social relations, motor functions, gender, faith, morality, and selfhood will be discussed in order to provide a normative and foundational basis for understanding people.

PSYD 507 History and Systems of Psychology

3 hours. Required. An overview of the development of psychology via prominent historical figures and systems from the early Greek philosophers to the 21st century. Current developments from these roots will be critically evaluated.

PSYD 509 Biological Basis of Behavior

3 hours. Required. An overview of human neuroscience is provided, with emphasis on those areas of importance to the clinical uses of nshipurs

Psychological Research

PSYD 511 Psychometrics and Test Development

3 hours. Required. A survey of theory and methods of test construction, with emphasis on professional standards for evaluating published tests and application of test results. Concepts of test development will be examined, including scaling, item analysis, standardization, measurement error, reliability, and validity. Basic statistics and statistical software related to correlational analyses will also be included. Commonly used psychology tests will be used as psychometric examples (especially cognitive scales). Original instruments with sound psychometric properties will be designed by those enrolled as a means to apply course concepts. Issues of test use among ethnic and special populations will also receive attention.

PSYD 512 Statistics

3 hours. Required. This course begins with a review of basic statistics (univariate statistics such as Pearson r , t -tests, and ANOVA), then generalizes these to the case of multiple dependent variables. Numerous methods of comparing and combining results will be discussed including test assumptions, methods for tests of significance, effect sizes, and probabilities.

PSYD 513 Advanced Statistics and Research Design

3 hours. Required. A rigorous examination of the spectrum of methods available for research in the clinical domain, ranging from basic to applied, and including descriptive, traditional experimental research, and strategies used in evaluating the effectiveness of intervention programs in a variety of mental health settings. Topics include the principles of experimental and quasiexperimental design and an introduction to qualitative research. Data analyses include MANOVA, MANCOVA, Discriminate Analysis, Canonical Analysis, Factor Analysis, and an examination of the assumptions of each.

Clinical Psychology Courses

(PsyD Degree)

DOMAN, ETHICAL AND PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS IN RESEARCH 20002 This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the ethical and professional standards that govern research in the field of psychology. The course covers a wide range of topics, including the history of research ethics, the role of the researcher, the rights of research participants, and the importance of informed consent. Students will also learn about the various ethical guidelines that have been developed to protect research subjects, such as the Belmont Report and the APA Ethical Principles of Research. The course is designed to be both informative and interactive, with a focus on applying ethical principles to real-world research scenarios. 3 hours

3 hours

3 hours. Required. An introduction to individualized assessment of intellectual and other selected cognitive functions, such as memory and academic achievement. Theoretical, conceptual, and clinical aspects of test administration and interpretation will be emphasized. A weekly one-hour lab practicum experience is included in order to provide practice with and coaching on the most common cognitive test instruments.

Prerequisite: PSYD 511 Psychometrics.

PSYD 523 Projective Assessment

2 hours. Elective. Introduces the basic concepts of projective assessment and the administration, interpretation, and report writing for a variety of projective techniques, such as the House-Tree-Person, Draw-A-Person, Thematic Apperception Test, Roberts Apperception Test, Senior's Apperception Test for Children, Holtzman Inkblot Test, and Word Association Test. The Rorschach Inkblot Test and the Comprehensive System of John E. Exner (revised) will be emphasized.

Prerequisite: PSYD 521 Personality Assessment.

PSYD 524 Comprehensive Psychological Assessment

2 hours. Elective. An advanced assessment course that focuses on enhancing skills in conducting comprehensive psychological evaluations by consolidating data accrued from personality, intellectual, and projective assessments and communicating the results in written reports. The course will include administering, scoring, interpreting, and preparing written reports of assessment results. A variety of other assessment strategies will be explored to expand the student's repertoire of assessment skills.

Prerequisites: PSYD 521 Personality Assessment and PSYD 522 Cognitive Assessment.

PSYD 525 Neuropsychological Assessment

3 hours. Elective. An introduction to the anatomical, empirical, and clinical aspects of neuropsychology, with an emphasis upon clinical assessment. Fixed, flexible, and process battery approaches will be illustrated in a weekly practice lab component of the course. Integrating test findings, functional neurology, history, and report writing will be highlighted.

Prerequisites: PSYD 521 Personality Assessment and PSYD 522 Cognitive Assessment.

PSYD 562 Child/Adolescent Therapy and Assessment

3 hours. Elective. This course will build on PSYD 505 Human Development and begin to look at clinical work with children and adolescents. Focus will be given to cognitive behavioral, behavioral, and developmental play therapy techniques. Topics will include therapeutic interventions with children and adolescents, symptom and disorder specific treatments including: behavior disorders, enuresis, attention deficit disorders, depressive and anxiety disorders, adjustment disorders, and post-traumatic stress disorders.

DOMAIN C: PRACTICUM SEQUENCE

PSYD 530-531 Prepracticum

4 hours. Required. This two-semester sequence prepares the student for the beginning practicum. It involves a laboratory experience in which students learn interpersonal communication and empathy skills using role-play techniques and audio and video feedback. Students are expected to participate in team meetings, oversight groups, and didactics to introduce them to the legal and ethical issues of practice, the administrative structure and functioning of clinical settings, and the practical issues of assessment, psychotherapy, case management, and record keeping.

PSYD 532-533 Practicum I

4 hours. Required. This is a sequence of at least two semesters that builds on PSYD 530-531 Prepracticum and emphasizes practical training in assessment, diagnosis, psychotherapy, and case management through supervised practice in a variety of clinical settings. Students also participate in team meetings, didactics, and oversight training groups.

Prerequisites: PSYD 517 Ethics for Psychologists and PSYD 530-531 Prepracticum.

PSYD 556 Object Relations Therapy

2 hours. Elective. An introduction to object-relational theory and psychotherapeutic techniques that grow out of that perspective. Though this is not a practicum course, ideally the student should be involved in working in a counseling setting in which applications of this psychodynamic approach may be tested in practice.

Prerequisites: PSYD 501 Theories of Personality and Psychotherapy and PSYD 551 Psychodynamic Psychotherapy.

DOMAIN F: CHILD, FAMILY, AND GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPIES

PSYD 576 Integration Seminar

2 hours. Required. This seminar is intended as a capstone course for integrating faith and psychology. Students will be asked to formulate position papers on major issues relevant to applied integration of psychology and Christianity.

DOMAIN H: PHYSIOLOGICAL AND HEALTH PSYCHOLOGY

PSYD 581 Human Sexuality and Sexual Dysfunction

2 hours. Elective. Provides an overview of physiological, sociological, and psychological aspects of sexuality and sexual dysfunctions. Approaches to evaluation and treatment of dysfunctions and consideration of the influences of beliefs upon the causes and remediations of problems are included.

Prerequisite: PSYD 532-533 Practicum I.

PSYD 582 Substance Abuse

2 hours. Elective. A survey of the literature on substance abuse and chemical dependency. Emphasis is placed on psychological assessment and intervention for persons with substance abuse disorders.

PSYD 583 Stress and Psychophysiological Disorders

2 hours. Elective. A survey of the application and integration of biobehavioral knowledge and techniques relevant to physical health and illness, including such issues as psychophysiological disorders, biofeedback, hypnosis, stress management, and preventive medicine.

Prerequisite: PSYD 509 Biological Basis of Behavior.

PSYD 584 Sports Psychology

2 hours. Elective. This course covers topics related to athletic performance. Common issues faced by those engaged in personal physical enhancement as well as athletic competition will be addressed. Psychological interventions designed to improve performance will be a particular focus of the course.

DOMAIN I: CLINICAL SUBSPECIALTIES

PSYD 591 Rural Psychology

2 hours. Elective. Concepts and methods of rural mental health are introduced, with special emphasis upon the unique challenges and opportunities associated with practice in rural settings.

PSYD 597 Forensic Psychology

2 hours. Elective. Introduces legal, psychological, ethical, and practical issues involved in the practice of forensic psychology. Assessment strategies and legal issues involved in child custody and abuse, law enforcement evaluation of fitness for duty, competency to stand trial, criminal responsibility (sanity), presentencing evaluations, personal injury, and workers' compensation are addressed.

Prerequisites: PSYD 521 Personality Assessment, PSYD 522 Cognitive Assessment, and PSYD 532-533 Practicum I.

PSYD 598 Industrial/Organizational Psychology

2 hours. Elective. This course examines the roles for psychologists in business settings. Issues of organizational structure, functions, and development are discussed in relation to individual and group dynamics. Personnel selection, placement, performance appraisal, organizational culture and attitudes, leadership, and motivation will be particular areas of focus.

Prerequisites: PSYD 504 Social Psychology and PSYD 521 Personality Assessment. DISSERTATION SEQUENCE

PSYD 600-605 Dissertation

12 hours. Required. Students must individually complete and defend a doctoral-level dissertation. The dissertation may be of an empirical, applied, or theoretical nature. Students should be able to complete their dissertations within the context of the vertically integrated research teams.

PSYD 655 Dissertation

2 hours. To maintain continuous enrollment until dissertation is complete.

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY INTERNSHIP

PSYD 610-619 Clinical Internship

A full-time internship comprising 50 weeks and 2,000 hours is required. The internship may be scheduled as a half-time placement for two calendar years or a full-time placement for a single year. Students are strongly encouraged to obtain an APA-accredited or APPLIC-recognized internship site. It is likely that students will have to move out of state to complete the approved internship.

Prerequisite: completion of MA degree and practicum requirements and approval by the director of clinical training. Special fee assessed.

GRADUATE BIBLICAL STUDIES COURSES

BIBG 511 Old Testament Studies and Interpretation

3 hours. An investigation of the books of the Old Testament emphasizing thematic and structural elements that enhance the student's ability to perceive unity within diversity and that provide a basis for continued theological and integrative studies. Issues in interpretation will also be explored, with attention given to meaningful application of central themes.

BIBG 521 New Testament Studies and Interpretation

3 hours. An introduction to the New Testament literature and the contextual settings of the writings. Building on the approach outlined in BIBG 511, this course also explores matters of unity and diversity in the first-century Christian movement and helps the student become familiar with appropriate interpretive methodologies leading to meaningful application of central themes.

GRADUATE RELIGION COURSES

RELG 510 Christian Theology

3 hours. A study of classical and contemporary models for developing a consistent, logical, and systematic approach to Christian theology based on an authoritative view of Scripture. Experiential aspects of faith will also be considered, accompanied by analyses of strengths and weaknesses of particular theological approaches to life's pressing issues.

RELG 520 Spiritual Formation

2 hours. An introduction to the ways God works in human lives, effecting redemptive change and spiritual transformation. A theoretical basis for reflection, combined with experiential components of the classical spiritual disciplines, will enable the student to establish a personal foundation of spiritual formation, including such elements as prayer, journaling, and various approaches to worship.

RELG 530 Contemporary Religious Worldviews

2 hours. An introduction to the development and teachings of the major non-Christian religions of the world (East and West). Special attention to elements shaping multicultural understandings of God, humanity, the world, and the purpose/goal of life will be explored with special attention given to how the Christian therapist might become sensitized to a broad range of religious views, concerns, and practices.

RELG 551 History of Theology and Church Tradition

3 hours. An overview of significant events, people, and developments in the history of the Christian movement from the first century to the present. The purpose is to provide a panoramic view of church history as a foundation for continued reflection upon the central aspects of Christian faith as well as the key issues and traditions that shaped Western culture and society.

Counseling Academic Program Information

The following information pertains to the counseling program only. Please check with your advisor to confirm the specific requirements for your program.

Degree Candidacy

Candidacy for the master of arts in counseling degree or master of arts and certificate in marriage and family therapy, master of arts and certificate in school counseling, and the master of science and certificate in school psychology will be determined by the Graduate Department of Counseling (GDC) faculty after the student has been admitted into his or her chosen degree or certificate program. An ongoing review process serves as a way to assess the student's fit for the program; fit for the profession; emotional, psychological, and intellectual ability; as well as maturity level for functioning safely as a mental health professional. GDC faculty will review students each fall and spring semester. During spring term prior to internship, GDC students must pass a national exam before they can start their internship. School counseling students must pass the Praxis II specialization in school counseling. School psychology students must pass the Praxis II specialization in school psychology. Counseling and marriage and family therapy students must pass the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Examination (CPCE). Only students that passed the national exam may start their internship after having completed all prerequisites. For more specific information, please refer to the applicable student handbook.

Time Limitations

After the student has been admitted to the GDC and started taking classes, he/she must complete the program within a five-year period. One extension request may be considered under special circumstances, such as ill health. If the program is not completed by that time, the student's status of being a degree- or certificate-seeking student shall lapse. A student wishing to reestablish degree- or certificate-seeking status will need to reapply to the faculty of the GDC, who shall have jurisdiction to make any further requirements deemed necessary for such reinstatement.

Certificate in Marriage and Family Therapy

Program Objectives

Because the vast array of practitioners in the helping professions are faced with the need for expertise in providing resources to couples and families, the Graduate Department of Counseling provides the special training and expertise required for working effectively with couples and families.

Helping professionals — e.g., licensed professional counselors, clinical psychologists, and social workers — who want and need to be more effective in their service to individuals, couples, and families can avail themselves of a variety of educational and training opportunities.

Clergy who hold a master's degree and can verify training in foundational counseling skills at the graduate level may take an occasional professional studies offering, or may wish to enroll in the Certificate in Marriage and Family Therapy Program that includes not only essential seminars and course work but also a supervised clinical experience in marriage and family therapy in one or more community settings. They may not be eligible for licensure or membership in American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT).

Licensed professional counselors and others who hold at least a master's degree in counseling or another mental health degree may qualify to pursue clinical membership in the AAMFT and Oregon licensure as a marriage and family therapist (LMFT).

Certificate Requirements

Each certificate applicant will be assessed, and a plan of training developed according to his/her specific needs. Graduate course work completed with a grade of B or higher from an accredited school may be considered for transfer credit. Transfer credit will be limited to 12 semester hours of graduate course work from an accredited institution and is subject to the approval of the Graduate Department of Counseling. Applicants will be required to address any academic deficiencies.

- Satisfactorily complete a minimum of 30 semester hours with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above.
No grade shall be lower than a B in all core courses. If a grade of a B- or lower is received in a course, that course must be retaken (for more specific information please refer to the student handbook).

Notes:

The internship can be at either of the paired levels: Level 1: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling, or Level 2: Middle Level and High School. It requires a minimum of 600 clock hours of supervised school counseling experience in a public school per TSPC guidelines, and demonstrating the skills and competencies required for licensure to the university supervisor.

Track II

Those students who cannot verify two years of full-time or four years of part-time teaching experience are required to take:

EDFL 504 Classroom Teaching and Learning	3
EDFL 515CO Learning Practicum for School Counseling	3

For these students, 60 hours will be required for the master of arts in school counseling.

The teaching practicum for school counseling must be supervised and consist of a minimum of 200 clock hours in a regular classroom in a public school or other approved school per TSPC guidelines. It must include a minimum of 75 clock hours of full responsibility for teaching and classroom management.

In addition to fulfilling the above course requirements, school counseling students in the master's program who seek the Initial School Counseling License will be asked to submit passing scores on the: (1) California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST) or Praxis I Test, (2) Praxis II Specialty Area Test in School Counseling, and (3) Discrimination and the Oregon Educator Test. (George Fox University's Graduate Department of Counseling offers education in U.S. and Oregon civil rights laws as part of MSCN 505 and requires students to take a comprehensive test that has been approved by the TSPC.)

Initial School Counseling Licensure Preparation Program

(Non-degree)

Approved by Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC)

Program Objectives

We recognize the clinical and educational training and expertise required for working effectively with elementary through high school students, as well as the interaction with schools and school systems. It is intended for the graduate of the Initial School Counseling Licensure Preparation Program to:

- Understand students as having physiological, psychological, relational, spiritual, and educational needs
- Understand and articulate the core dynamics of school counseling in concert with sound theological principles
- Acquire, refine, and demonstrate appropriate school counseling and guidance skills used in working with students, families, and school and community systems
- Have begun the development of a professional identity as a school counselor
- Work knowledgeably and with facility in a variety of school situations, e.g., individual and group counseling and classroom guidance, as well as working with private, institutional, community, ecclesiastical, ethnic and culturally and socioeconomically diverse

Be prepared for becoming a licensed school counselor as defined by the Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) of the state of Oregon and a regular member of the American School Counselor's Association

- No grade shall be lower than a B in all core courses. If a grade of a B- or lower is received in a designated course, that course must be retaken (for more specific information please refer to the student handbook).
- GDC faculty will regularly review all students in fall and spring semester and may request to meet with the student in case of observed difficulties. They have jurisdiction to request further requirements deemed necessary to encourage student growth and avoid future harm of clients. In some situations the fit for the profession will be assessed and guidance provided by the GDC faculty as they deem necessary. (For more information, please refer to your student handbook.)

Notes:

Students who have previously taken a career counseling and/or ethical and legal issues graduate course may request that the course be reviewed for possible transfer credit. If transfer credit is granted for 2 credits each, for the two courses, they may register for only 1 credit in MSCN 570 Lifestyle and Career Development and/or 1 credit in MSCN 505 Ethical and Legal Issues in Education.

The internship can be at either of the paired levels: Level 1: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling, or Level 2: Middle Level and High School. It requires a minimum of 600 clock hours of supervised school counseling experience in a public school or other approved school per TSPC guidelines, and demonstrating the skills and competencies required for licensure to the university supervisor.

Play Therapy Certificate Program

The Graduate Department of Counseling's Northwest Center for Play Therapy Studies (NWCPTS) provides a Certificate in Play Therapy, which will meet the educational requirements for becoming a Registered Play Therapist (RPT) through the Association for Play Therapy (APT), an international organization established in 1982.

Students currently enrolled in a master's program in a mental health profession, or human service professionals who hold a bachelor's degree that pertains to children will benefit from the certificate by acquiring the knowledge and skills to competently provide individual, group, and family play therapy.

Students in pursuit of this certificate should meet with the director of the Northwest Center for Play Therapy Studies (NCPTS) for more information about how to meet the GFU/GDC and/or Association for Play Therapy (APT) requirements.

Prerequisites: Students must have completed a bachelor's degree in a mental health field and a graduate course equivalent to COUN545. Students must also have completed a graduate course equivalent to COUN545. Students must also have completed a graduate course equivalent to COUN545. Students must also have completed a graduate course equivalent to COUN545.

Mental Health Trauma Certificate

The Graduate Department of Counseling is offering a Mental Health Trauma Certificate. The certificate is designed to prepare mental health professionals to be more fully prepared to work with trauma survivors. It is designed to provide mental health professionals (in pursuit of a master's or higher degree, as well as those with a master's or higher degree in a mental health field) with a foundation to understand the physiological and psychological impact of trauma on trauma survivors, their families, and the community.

The program allows great flexibility and an opportunity for participants to choose from a selection of courses to meet the needs and interests of the individual, with the opportunity of specialization in one of three areas:

Choose from "Additional Electives"	12 clock hours
Additional Electives (optional)
Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing I*	12 clock hours
Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing II*	12 clock hours
Trauma and Grief Recovery	6 clock hours

*These courses can be taken only by mental health professionals who hold an active mental health license.

Course Sequence

There is no requirement concerning the order in which these courses must be taken. However, three courses are often best taken first: (1) Overview of the Physiological Impact of Trauma; (2) Overview of the Psychological Impacts of Trauma; and (3) Trauma Responses, Needs, and Treatment From a Developmental Process.

Prerequisites: Students must be enrolled in a graduate degree program in counseling, social work, marriage and family therapy, psychology, and/or psychiatry, or have earned a master's or doctoral degree in one of the above mental health professions.

Registration process: Individuals wanting to pursue one or more trauma specializations should request and complete the special Trauma Certificate Application Form. Transfer requests must be approved by the GDC chair.

Certificate Completion

Individuals who have completed all of the certificate requirements must submit copies of all certificates of attendance, including documentation of hours. After review of this material, those individuals who have met all requirements will be awarded a trauma certificate.

Counseling Course Descriptions

COUN 501 Principles and Techniques of Counseling I

3 hours. This course examines and invites the student to experience issues, topics, and foundational skill building in counseling. The focus is primarily on principles, techniques, and a personal introspective process.

psychology, health and toxic faith systems, spiritual development, spiritual/religious assessment, the spiritual/religious orientation and value system of the therapist, and treatment interventions in the spiritual/religious realm.

COUN 562 Spirituality and Clinical Praxis II

3 hours. This course examines several major spiritual traditions with a view to understanding the implications for a clinical practice with persons in these populations. Within each tradition the following are explored: history and tradition; sacred writings; central doctrines; spiritual authority; faith communities; communal and personal disciplines/rituals; health/happiness and pathology; means of grace; social and cultural practice; relationship to creator/creation; gender, blood, and faith relationships; compare and contrast with Western Christian worldview; systemic analysis; and therapeutic implications. It is recommended that students complete COUN 561 prior to enrolling in this course.

COUN 570 Lifestyle and Career Development

3 hours. A study of the foundational issues and resources of career counseling, the lifestyle and career decision-making process, career guidance programs for special populations, and future issues. The integration of career counseling and psychotherapy will be considered for a "total person" approach.

Prerequisite: COUN 501 Principles and Techniques of Counseling I or equivalent.

COUN 577 Images of God

1 hour. This course seeks to facilitate the student's growing awareness of God's presence in one's life by exploring the various images of God as presented in Scripture and in our faith communities. Special emphasis is placed on exploring internalized distorted images, which impact our understanding of self and others. Through class readings, discussion, personal reflection, group sharing, meditation, and prayer, students will explore various images of God, with an extended exploration of gender-based God imagery.

COUN 578 Shame and Grace

1 hour. It is challenging to understand the difference between guilt, shame, and grace. It is also difficult to know then how to apply this to our spiritual lives, and yet harder to know how to apply this to someone else's life. This course is designed to inform the therapist about family shame, guilt, and grace. Definitions, characteristics, and change strategies for shame in clients, both individuals and families, will be discussed. Models of grace and healing for shame will be identified. There will be significant emphasis on the student's own experience of shame and grace.

COUN 579 Spiritual Identity

1 hour. Provides an opportunity for students to develop/deepen their own spiritual identity. Views of God, creation, self, family, relationships, faith communities, personal disciplines, personality type, spiritual health, and pathology are among the topics for

COUN 590 Research/Thesis

3 hours. Conduct graduate-level research in the area of counseling psychotherapy, including study design, data collection, data analysis, and drawing inferences from data. Research design will be quantitative or qualitative, and may be experimental, theoretical, or applied. Requires two faculty readers, with at least one being a Graduate Department of Counseling faculty member, and oral and written defense before full faculty.

Prerequisites: assignment of faculty research advisor; completion of or concurrent enrollment in COUN 582; approval of research plan from full faculty.

COUN 591, 592, 593, 594 Clinical Internship

Supervised clinical experience in community counseling programs. Students must sign up and attend fall and spring terms concurrently with treatment planning. Summer I and II are optional. Pass/No pass

Prerequisites: COUN 501 Principles and Techniques of Counseling I, COUN 502 Principles and Techniques of Counseling II, plus 18 additional hours in counseling (MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy, COUN 510 Human Growth and Development, COUN 520 Personality and Counseling Theories, COUN 530 Psychopathology and Appraisal, COUN 540 Professional Orientation, and COUN 550 Graduate Seminar in Counseling and Guidance). Requires analysis therapist from the community. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. Additional course fee is required.

COUN ____ Integration Elective

1 hour. To be chosen from a list of courses offered in the Graduate Department of Counseling, School of Education, and seminary.

Marriage and Family Therapy Courses

MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy

3 hours. An examination of key concepts in marital and family systems, including the family life cycle, as well as an introduction to various approaches to marital and family therapy. Core counseling skills as used in systems therapy will be taught and practiced. Prevention services as well as the roles of ethnicity and culture will be studied.

MMFT 514 Advanced Marriage Therapy I

3 hours. This course is intended to equip the student to work more effectively with couples. Attention is given to understanding and assessing the couple as an interacting system, treatment planning, developing and maintaining therapeutic balance, as well as acquiring and practicing specific skills and frameworks for system intervention.

Prerequisites: MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy or its equivalent and the permission of the instructor.

MMFT 524 Advanced Family Therapy I

3 hours. A course concentrating on utilizing the interactional/systemic perspective in counseling with families. Attention is given to the acquisition and practice of family therapy skills and procedures, the development of an integrated approach to working with families, and the impact of culture and ethnicity in family counseling.

Prerequisites: MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy and MMFT 514 Advanced Marriage Therapy I or their equivalent and the permission of the instructor.

MMFT 534 Human Sexuality

3 hours. Aspects of ourselves as sexual people will be addressed in terms of anatomy and physiology, identity, intimacy, values, attitudes, and relationships with others and with the creator of sex. Sexuality will be viewed in the context of marriage and family as well as in the larger cultural milieu. Also addressed is how therapists can recognize and properly deal with their own sexual feelings that arise in the helping relationship. In addition, students have an introduction to sexual therapy and its role in therapeutic process.

MMFT 554 Substance Abuse From a Systemic Perspective

3 hours. This course examines the nature and prevalence of alcohol and drug abuse and addiction, as well as the impact chemical addictions have on individuals, marriages, and families. Various treatment approaches are examined, including systemic, psychodynamic, behavioral, and self-help models in order to prepare the entry-level therapist to effectively intervene in families that have been impacted by substance abuse/addictions either presently or in the past.

Prerequisites: MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy or its equivalent and the permission of the instructor.

MMFT 574 Relationship Assessment

3 hours. An examination of various relationship assessment devices and their role in the assessment, diagnosis, and treatment of couples and families. Assessment of premarital, marital, parenting, and family systems is considered. Participants are trained in the administration and clinical application of five standardized inventories. Students also will examine how their theoretical orientation informs their assessment methodology.

Prerequisites: MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy or its equivalent and the permission of the instructor.

Student should be enrolled in MMFT 593 Clinical Internship concurrently with enrollment in this course.

MMFT 580 Play Therapy

3 hours. This course will cover an introduction to the theory and practice of play therapy as a primary therapeutic approach when working with children in individual and family psychotherapy. The course is designed to prepare the student to effectively provide developmentally appropriate counseling for children, focusing on the development of a therapist-child relationship and utilization of play media in the systemic counseling process as a means to facilitate expression, self-understanding, and personal growth and development. Students will become familiar with play therapy theory techniques, therapeutic stages, ethical issues, and application. Observation of and experience in play therapy are an integral part of the course.

Prerequisite: MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy or its equivalent and the permission of the instructor.

MMFT 583 Filial Therapy

3 hours. This course covers an introduction to the theory and practice of filial therapy, a play-therapy-based parent-training program. Filial therapy has been shown to be an empirically effective child- and family-therapy intervention. Parents are trained by experienced play therapists to be agents of therapeutic change in their children's lives through the utilization of their basic play therapy skills. These skills are employed in regularly scheduled parent-child structured play sessions in their own homes. How to train parents in their overall principles and methodology of child-centered play therapy is addressed.

Prerequisite: MMFT 580 Play Therapy or permission of the instructor.

MMFT 585 Seminar

1-3 hours. A seminar involving a group of students with a professor studying a specially selected topic. Students are encouraged to submit suggestions for seminar topics to the department director. Such requests, as well as faculty interests and special opportunities, will be considered in arrangements for a seminar.

MMFT 590 Research/Thesis

3 hours. Conduct graduate-level research in the area of counseling psychotherapy, including study design, data collection, data analysis, and drawing inferences from data. Research design will be quantitative or qualitative, and may be experimental, theoretical, or applied. Requires two faculty readers, with at least one being a Graduate Department of Counseling faculty member, and oral and written defense before full faculty.

Prerequisites: assignment of faculty research advisor; completion of or concurrent enrollment in COUN 582; approval of research plan from full faculty.

MMFT 591, 592, 593, 594 Clinical Internship

Supervised clinical experience in community counseling programs. Students must sign up and attend fall and spring terms concurrently with treatment planning. Summer I and II are optional. Pass/No pass

Prerequisites: COUN 501 Principles and Techniques of Counseling I, COUN 502 Principles and Techniques of Counseling II, plus 18 additional hours in counseling (MMFT 500 Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy, COUN 510 Human Growth and Development, MMFT 514 Advanced Marriage Therapy I, COUN 520 Personality and Counseling Theories, MMFT 524 Advanced Family Therapy I, COUN 530 Psychopathology and Appraisal, COUN 540 Professional Orientation, and COUN 550 Group Theory and Therapy) and approved candidacy status.

Students are expected to follow the sequence COUN 592 (4 hours), COUN 593 (4 hours) beginning in the fall semester. Students who begin their internship in the summer will register for COUN 591 (an additional 2 hours). Students who do not finish client hours at the end of spring (COUN 593) will register for COUN 594 in summer (an additional 1-2 hours). Students wishing to enroll in clinical internship must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B or better grade, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair (during spring semester of that year).

MMFT 595 Special Study

1 to 3 hours. A specially designed and individually tailored course of research involving in-depth study of a particular question, problem, or issue presented by the student. The student must make application for the study prior to registration for the semester in which the study will be carried out. The application must be approved by both the faculty member overseeing the study and the department chair.

MSCN 503 Risk and Resilience in Youth

3 hours. This course is designed to introduce students to a variety of biological and social risk factors that impede the development of competence in children and/or adolescents. Early intervention and prevention services are explored. This course also assesses research findings in various areas, but especially focuses on resiliency research. Public policies, statutes, and regulations are reviewed that relate to children and adolescents with biological and social risk factors.

MSCN 504 Childhood and Adolescent Disorders, Diagnosis, and Treatment

3 hours. This course provides students with advanced concentrated study of the etiology, diagnostic criteria, recommended intervention strategies/treatment, and diagnostic procedures appropriate for the identification of children's mental health needs, as well as the physiological and social bases of mental health problems. Focus will be placed on the etiology, identifying features, prognosis, and preferred intervention for conditions that place a child at risk for maladaptive social or emotional adjustment.

MSCN 505 Ethical and Legal Issues in Education

1-3 hours. This course covers the American School Counseling Association (ASCA) code of ethics and the Oregon statutes. It gives students an opportunity to learn the process of ethical decision making and how to deal with ethical "traps." Students will practice ethical decision making through case studies and role-plays, and will be introduced to how to get their Initial School Counselor and Continuing School Counselor licenses. (Students pursuing a certificate in school counseling who already hold a master's degree in a mental health field and have taken, as part of their master's degree, a 3-credit-hour course in law and ethics can request a transcript review for a two-hour waiver, and sign up for 1 credit hour only.)

MSCN 506 Internship A: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling I

2 hours. Supervised internship in school counseling. All prerequisites (see the two-, three-, and four-year plans) must have been met before taking internship. Internship begins in fall and continues until spring, providing an opportunity for the student to function in all aspects of school counseling in the early childhood and elementary school settings, under close supervision and following the professional code of ethics closely. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B or better grade, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in internship.)

MSCN 507 Internship B: Middle Level and High School Counseling I

2 hours. Supervised internship in school counseling. All prerequisites (see the two-, three-, and four-year plans) must have been met before taking internship. Internship begins fall and continues until spring, providing an opportunity for the student to function in all aspects of school counseling in the middle school and high school settings, under close supervision and following the professional code of ethics closely. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B or better grade, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in Practicum.)

MSCN 508 Internship A: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling II

2 hours. A continuation of MSCN 506 Internship A: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling I, providing an opportunity for the student to function in all aspects of school counseling in the early childhood and elementary school settings, under close supervision and following the professional code of ethics closely. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B or better grade, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in internship.)

MSCN 509 Internship B: Middle Level and High School Counseling II

2 hours. A continuation of MSCN 507 Internship B: Middle Level and High School Counseling I, providing an opportunity for the student to function in all aspects of school counseling in the middle school and high school settings, under close supervision and following the professional code of ethics closely. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B or better grade, (c) apply for practicum internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in internship.)

MSCN 520 Personality and Counseling Theories

3 hours. A survey of major contemporary theories of counseling and personality development, with particular emphasis on the etiology and treatment of psychopathological states as interpreted within various theoretical frameworks. Theories are explored regarding their application within the context of doing school counseling. A biblical theory of personality is explored.

MSCN 550 Group Theory and Therapy

3 hours. A study of the field of group therapy with children and adolescents of various ethnic, cultural, and developmental needs. Various therapeutic approaches for a broad range of students and types of groups in and outside the classroom are studied. Students in this class will gain an understanding of group dynamics both theoretically and experientially.

MSCN 570 Lifestyle and Career Development

1-3 hours. A study of the foundational issues and resources of career counseling, the lifestyle and career decision-making process, career guidance programs for special populations, and future issues. Special focus will be given to cutting-edge technology and career counseling used in middle and high schools. The role of the middle and high school counselor and career counseling will be assessed. The integration of the whole person in career counseling is addressed.

Prerequisite: MSCN 501 Principles and Techniques. (Students pursuing a certificate in school counseling who hold a master's degree in a mental health field and have taken, as part of their master's degree, a 3-credit-hour course in career counseling can request a transcript review for a two-hour waiver, and sign up for 1 credit hour only.)

MSCN 597 Treatment Planning

1 hour. This course is intended to follow up MSCN 504 Childhood and Adolescent Disorders and operates in conjunction with MSCN 506 Internship A: Early Childhood and Elementary Counseling I or MSCN 507 Internship B: Middle Level and High School Counseling I. The student will explore comprehensive treatment planning strategies, including the development of written statements of cognitive, behavioral, and emotional symptoms; systemic processes; short-term objectives; intervention strategies, appropriate community referrals, and collaboration with the school systems and parents. Various therapeutic methods utilized in treatment and management of mental disorders will be presented. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass.

MSCN 599 Graduate Clinical Project

1 hour. The graduate clinical project (GCP) is a four-part clinical exam in which the student's perceptual, conceptual, and executive skills are evaluated as applied to an actual case example. In Part I, the student will prepare a comprehensive paper detailing his or her theory on the nature of persons and the therapeutic process. Through use of video, session transcripts, and written reflection, in Part II the student will demonstrate the application of this theory in an actual case presentation. In Part III, the student will present a three-year growth plan. Finally, the student's theoretical paper, case presentation, and growth plan will be evaluated by both a GDC faculty member and a licensed school counselor from the community. There are three grades a student can earn in this course: P=Pass, L=Long-term, and NP=No Pass. Needs to be taken concurrently with the second term of internship. Additional course fee is required.

School Psychology Courses

MSPS 501 Principles and Techniques in the School System

3 hours. This course examines and invites the student to experience issues, topics, and foundational skill building in school psychology. It moves from the introspective process to the mastery in application of the foundational principles and techniques learned. The integration of school psychology and theological truth will be introduced.

MSPS 502 The Exceptional Child in School

3 hours. This class introduces students to the cognitive, psychosocial, and psychomotor needs of students with a variety of disabilities. Focus is placed on a need-based model of assessment, program planning, and evaluation. Instructional strategies are evaluated in terms of their impact on various disabilities.

MSPS 505 Ethical and Legal Issues in Education

1-3 hours. This course covers the National Association of School Psychologists' (NASP) code of ethics and the Oregon statutes. It gives students an opportunity to learn the process of ethical decision making and how to deal with ethical "traps." Students will practice ethical decision making through case studies and role-plays, and be introduced to obtaining the Initial School Psychologist and Continuing School Psychologist licenses. (Students who already hold a master's or higher degree in a mental health field and are pursuing their certificate can obtain a review and verification of a graduate-level course on law and ethics in their master's program and request a two-credit-hour waiver and, if approved, need only take 1 credit hour.)

MSPS 507 Internship in School Psychology I

3 hours. The internship will be completed in a school system psycho-educational facility, with the goal of emphasizing the professional practice of school psychology. Students will be expected to complete a total of 1,200 hours over a two-semester internship (600 hours per semester) of school psychology practicum under supervision, provided weekly both at the site (individual) and at George Fox University (in groups). (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B grade or better, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in internship.)

MSPS 508 Internship in School Psychology II

3 hours. The second internship will be a continuation of the first internship, and completed within the school system psycho-educational facility. It is designed to stress the professional practice of school psychology. Students will be expected to complete a total of 1,200 hours over a two-semester internship (600 hours per semester) of school psychology practicum under supervision, provided weekly both at the site (individual) and at George Fox University (in groups). (Students must have: (a) successfully passed candidacy, (b) completed all prerequisites with a B grade or better, (c) apply for internship, and (d) attend the Internship Fair before enrolling in internship.)

MSPS 511 Advanced School Counseling Research I

1 hour. This course will help students learn about and apply emerging research in school psychology, learning, and school improvement. Special emphasis will be placed on diversity issues in each of these research areas. There will be a focus on how this information can help school psychologists be more effective in encouraging student achievement acknowledging individual differences and diversity issues.

Prerequisite: hold an Initial School Psychologist License.

MSPS 512 Advanced School Counseling Research II

2 hours. This course builds upon MSPS 511. It will focus on issues of learning and diversity, and the relevant research on these topics, such as culturally sensitive instruments. The course will be a combination of lecture, group discussion, and student presentations. Students will write a literature review focusing on learning and diversity (preapproved by the professor) of publishable quality.

Prerequisites: hold an Initial School Psychologist License and MSPS 511.

MSPS 513 Advanced Leadership, Collaboration, and Advocacy I: With School Personnel, Parents, and the Community

1 hour. This systems course will emphasize the importance of school counselors working from a systems perspective to encourage student success in the classroom. Special focus will be placed on how to work most effectively with colleagues, staff, parents, and the public, separately with each system when appropriate, and when to work collaboratively with two or more systems, and the impact it might have on the student. The role of the school psychologist as a leader, collaborating with others, and advocating for the student will be explored in consideration of ethical and legal guidelines.

Prerequisite: hold an Initial School Psychology License.

MSPS 514 Advanced Leadership, Collaboration, and Advocacy II: With Diverse and Special Interest Groups

1 hour. This systems course will explore how to work effectively with culturally, ethnically, and socio-economically diverse students and/or parents, teachers, school personnel, and communities. There will also be an emphasis on special interest groups and how to work collaboratively with students and/or parents, teachers, school personnel, and communities to encourage student success. It will also consider the role of the school psychologist in taking leadership, collaboration, and advocacy when working with diverse and specialized interest groups.

Prerequisites: hold an Initial School Psychologist License and MSPS 512.

MSPS 516 Law and the School Psychologist

1 hour. This course is designed for individuals with an Initial Psychologist License. It will address advanced legal issues encountered by school psychologists. Emphasis will be placed on reviewing school law pertaining to school psychologists. Through case discussion, individuals will have an opportunity to apply school law. A legal decision-making process for school psychologists will be introduced and applied in this course.

Prerequisite: hold an Initial School Psychologist License.

MSPS 520 Personality and Counseling Theories and Testing

3 hours. A survey of major contemporary theories of counseling and personality development, with particular emphasis on the etiology and treatment of psychopathological states as interpreted within various theoretical frameworks. Theories are explored regarding their application within the context of doing school counseling. A biblical theory of personality is explored. This course also focuses on basic statistical concepts of measurement and objective and projective personality assessment used by school psychologists, as well as the administration, scoring, and interpretation of objective personality measures and preparing written executive skills are evaluated as applied to an actual case example. In Part I, the student will prepare a comprehensive paper detailing his or her theory on the nature of persons and the therapeutic process. Through use of video, session transcripts, an Education

George Fox University offers education programs for both preservice and in-service educators. The MAT program provides initial preparation for entry into the teaching profession. Our Educational Foundations and Leadership area offers additional professional growth opportunities through the EdD, MEd, and administrative licensure programs.

Master of Arts in Teaching

(MAT Degree)

Program Description

The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) Program may be completed in one of three ways: 1) MAT Fulltime: a three-semester full-time format; 2) MAT in Your Community: a two-semester part-time, plus two-semester full-time format; or 3) MAT @ Night: a five-semester part-time format (the last semester is full time). The program is available to individuals who have completed an undergraduate BA or BS degree in a field other than education. The program allows students, upon completion of the program and passing scores on the appropriate standardized measures (Praxis Specialty Examination for secondary and middle-level licensure, ORELA for elementary licensure and middle-level authorization, and California Basic Educational Skills Test), to receive an Oregon Initial Teaching License.

The Initial Teaching License may bear endorsements in the following areas: advanced mathematics, agriculture, art, basic mathematics,* biology, business, chemistry, drama, family/consumer sciences, French, German, health education, integrated science,* Japanese, language arts, marketing, music, physical education, physics, Russian, social studies, speech communications, Spanish, and technology education.

[*These subjects may be added to another endorsement for high school applicants or can stand alone for elementary/middle school applicants.

These subjects must be combined with another endorsement for high school applicants.]

The three-semester, four-semester, and five-semester curricula include professional education courses and field experiences. Students build on their knowledge of subject matter as they develop pedagogical skills and research methodologies; gain knowledge about the psychological, sociological, historical, and philosophical foundations of education; and apply these understandings in early childhood, elementary, middle, and secondary classrooms.

All graduate candidates are required to have taken and passed the CBEST or Praxis PPST and ORELA prior to being admitted in the program. Secondary graduate candidates are required to have taken and passed the appropriate Praxis Specialty Exam. Middle-level graduate candidates are required to have an appropriate undergraduate degree in the desired content area and/or have passed the appropriate Praxis Specialty Exam. Candidates failing to meet this deadline may apply for an exception and be "conditionally admitted." Prior to full-time student teaching, students in the graduate elementary through middle-level program must have taken and passed the ORELA, and students in the graduate secondary education and middle-level program must have taken and passed the Praxis Specialty Exam for the discipline as necessary. If a student has not completed this requirement, she/he may apply for an exception; however, if an exception is granted and the student does not pass the required exams prior to graduation, the director will not sign any official documents recommending the student as a candidate for licensure in Oregon or any other state.

The goal of the curriculum is to provide a future teacher with the content and methods necessary to be an effective teacher and to meet the federal government's "No Child Left Behind" definition of a "highly qualified teacher." Thematic strands such as decision making, values, curriculum, classroom management, cultural proficiency, research, and technology are integrated throughout the curriculum. The themes add qualities to the program that are not reflected in single courses but are interwoven throughout the curriculum.

The teacher education program at George Fox University has been structured to provide academic and practical experiences that

EDUG 530 Learning Theory

2 hours. Theories of learning and associated teaching applications. Focus will be on views of knowledge, the learner, and the nature of learning and teaching.

The following courses in curriculum and instruction are authorization- and content-specific.

Each MAT student will complete a total of five credits in curriculum instruction as follows:

Early Childhood/Elementary Authorizations will enroll in EDUG 551 Methods for Teaching Language Arts and Social Studies in the Early Childhood and Elementary Classroom (2.5 hours) and EDUG 553 Methods for Teaching Math and Science in the Early Childhood and Elementary Classroom (2.5 hours).

Elementary/Mid-Level Authorizations will enroll in EDUG 552 Methods for Teaching Language Arts and Social Studies in the Elementary and Mid-Level Classroom (2.5 hours) and EDUG 554 Methods for Teaching Math and Science in the Elementary and Mid-Level Classroom (2.5 hours).

Secondary/Mid-Level Authorization will enroll in EDUG 556 Secondary Content Pedagogy (3 hours) according to their specific content area: art, biology, business, chemistry, family and consumer science, mathematics, music, integrated science, physics, social studies, technology education, German, Japanese, Russian; EDUG 557 Special Topics in Secondary Education (1 hour); and EDUG 558 Special Topics in Mid-Level Education (1 hour).

EDUG 551 Methods for Teaching Language Arts and Social Studies in the Early Childhood and Elementary Classroom

2.5 hours. A study of instructional strategies and the design, implementation, and evaluation of language arts and social studies curriculum for early childhood and elementary classroom. The pattern of course topics presented is nature of content knowledge, general pedagogical methods, subject-specific pedagogical methods, and integrated pedagogical methods.

EDUG 552 Methods for Teaching Language Arts and Social Studies in the Elementary and Mid-Level Classroom

2.5 hours. A study of instructional strategies and the design, implementation, and evaluation of language arts and social studies curriculum for elementary and mid-level classroom. The pattern of course topics presented is nature of content knowledge, general pedagogical methods, subject-specific pedagogical methods, and integrated pedagogical methods.

EDUG 553 Methods for Teaching Math and Science in the Early Childhood and Elementary Classroom

2.5 hours. A study of instructional strategies and the design, implementation, and evaluation of math and science curriculum for the early childhood and elementary classroom. The pattern of course topics presented is nature of content knowledge, general pedagogical methods, subject-specific pedagogical methods, and integrated pedagogical methods.

EDUG 554 Methods for Teaching Math and Science in the Elementary and Mid-Level Classroom

2.5 hours. A study of instructional strategies and the design, implementation, and evaluation of math and science curriculum for the elementary and mid-level classroom. The pattern of course topics presented is nature of content knowledge, general pedagogical methods, subject-specific pedagogical methods, and integrated pedagogical methods.

EDUG 556 Secondary Content Pedagogy

3 hours. A study of instructional strategies and the design, implementation, and evaluation of curriculum for content-specific secondary classroom. The pattern of course topics presented is nature of content knowledge, general pedagogical methods, subject-specific pedagogical methods, and integrated pedagogical methods.

EDUG 557 Topics in Secondary Education: Rethinking High School

1 hour. A study of structures, strategies, issues, designs, and possibilities for the organization of high schools and implementation of curriculum to meet the specific needs of high school students.

EDUG 558 Topics in Mid-Level Education: Teaching in the Middle

1 hour. A study of structures, strategies, issues, designs, and possibilities for the organization of middle schools and implementation of curriculum to meet the specific needs of mid-level students.

EDUG 560 Language and Literacy

2 hours. Language/reading, writing, and communication will be discussed, along with how they are applied across the disciplines.

EDUG 575 Practicum I: Enrichment Experience

2 hours. Planning, teaching, tutoring, and/or community service with grades P through 12 are possible options for this practicum. Each MAT program provides a unique experience for interaction in an authorization appropriate environment (P/NP grades only).

EDUG 576 Practicum II: Classroom Organization in Practice

3 hours. Observation and teaching in an elementary or secondary classroom. An opportunity to plan, implement, and evaluate the first work sample (P/NP grades only).

EDUG 577 Practicum III: Classroom Teaching

6 hours. Full-time supervised student teaching. Preservice teachers teach and evaluate lessons, assess student achievement, and evaluate themselves. Work samples will be implemented and evaluated (P/NP grades only).

EDUG 590 Graduate Seminar

2 hours. A seminar focusing on issues related to current trends and questions in education, classroom organization and management, and ethics/values in teaching. Classroom observations in minority, cross-cultural, and alternative school settings. Professional transition topics will include résumé writing, job-search strategies, placement services, and interviewing skills.

ESOL Endorsement

MAT students may choose to enroll in the MAT Plus ESOL endorsement, which is an 11 credit endorsement program with three courses taken throughout their MAT program, and one course taken in May/June after graduation. Coursework, a praxis exam, a work sample, and successful practicum experience are required for the endorsement. MAT students may also choose to take individual ESOL courses toward their ESOL endorsement during their MAT program. The endorsement courses blend with some MAT formats better than others.

Reading Endorsement

MAT students may choose to enroll in the MAT Plus Reading endorsement, which is an 11 credit endorsement program with three of the courses taken throughout their MAT program, and two of the courses taken in May/June after graduation. Coursework, a praxis exam, a work sample, and successful practicum experience are required for the endorsement. MAT students may also choose to take individual reading endorsement courses toward their reading endorsement during their MAT program. The endorsement courses blend with some MAT formats better than others.

Admission

1. Completion of a four-year baccalaureate degree program from an accredited college or university, with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in the last two years of course work.
2. Master of arts in teaching application form and $40 fee.
3. Two official transcripts from every college/university attended.
4. Passing scores on the CBEST exam, Praxis I, or PPST.
5. Completion of the character reference statement required by TSPC.
6. Three recommendations (forms in application packet).
7. A group assessment with the MAT Admission Committee.
8. If accepted into the program, a $200 tuition deposit is required.
9. February 1 application deadline for the full-time format, June 1 for the MAT @ Night format, and October 1 for MAT in Your Community. Applications may be reviewed after those dates on a space-available basis.
10. Preference will be given to those candidates who have had experience in schools working with students in their desired authorization level.

11. Preference will be given to those candidates who have passed either ORELA (early childhood, elementary, middle school) and the appropriate PRAXIS specialty exam.

Degree Requirements

The master of arts in teaching degree requires the student to earn a minimum of 36 semester hours, including 11 semester hours of practicum. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 is to be maintained for successful completion of the program. Students must pass appropriate exams to be recommended for licensure.

Educational Foundations and Leadership (EDFL)

The Educational Foundations and Leadership Department offers two graduate degrees:

Doctor of education (EdD)

Master of education (MEd)

The following endorsements and teaching or administrative licenses have been approved by the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) and can be earned either within a graduate degree or as a specific program:

- Reading Endorsement
- Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) Endorsement
- Library Media Specialist Endorsement
- Early childhood authorization
- Middle level authorization
- Initial Teaching License (for those with previous teaching experience but without a license)
- Continuing Teaching License
- Initial Administrator License
- Continuing Administrator/Initial Superintendent License
- Continuing Superintendent License

Educational foundations and leadership classroom-centered courses (this includes courses in the doctoral, master's, and TSPC-approved programs) are regularly scheduled at the Portland Center during fall and spring semesters, and on the Newberg campus during summer semester. Courses are often offered at additional sites throughout Oregon during the fall and spring semesters. Web-based courses are offered during fall and spring semesters. Students enrolling in Web-based courses are expected to enroll in courses prior to the start of the semester, to order their textbooks, and to have access to both the Internet and e-mail.

In addition to completing a graduate degree or TSPC-approved license or endorsement, educational foundation and leadership courses are also available to educators who need to renew or obtain an Oregon license but are not required to complete a graduate degree. Students may take up to 10 semester hours before formal entry into a program.

Doctor of Education

(EdD Degree)

Program Description

The Doctor of Education (EdD) Program prepares educators to be leaders in their chosen specialties. The program focuses on qualities of cultural, moral, and organizational leadership as the basis for leading complex education organizations.

This program assumes that leadership is: (1) a conceptual art, building on the power of theory and ideas; (2) a moral art, depending upon core values; and (3) a performing art, perfecting the integration of theory and values in practice and experience. Within the doctoral program students have the opportunity to meet the requirements for three administrative licenses for service in Oregon's public K-12 schools: Initial Administrator, Continuing Administrator, and Continuing Superintendent licenses. Oregon has reciprocal licensure arrangements with 25 other states, thus allowing those who seek employment elsewhere to meet the administrative licensure requirements for those states.

Students can also focus on becoming curriculum leaders or prepare themselves to teach or lead at the college or university level.

This program is designed to maximize accessibility for full-time educators. Students have an opportunity to complete the program in four years (more or less) through sessions on the George Fox University campus, Web-based courses, and in...

Program

The Doctoral Program comprises 55 semester units of course work and a minimum of 8 semester units of dissertation. Students must meet the following requirements by:

- Complete 17 semester units appropriate to the curriculum past the master's degree
- Complete 17 semester hours from the following perspective areas: ethics, foundational, teaching and learning, leading and research
- Complete 17 semester hours (through transfer or course work) in their chosen specialties

Doctor of Education Requirements (courses in italics are required)

The curriculum is designed so that students are required to take core course hours in the following perspective areas: ethics, foundations, teaching and learning, leading and managing, and research. Within each area students are allowed to choose electives that enhance their own areas of professional development, although some areas have required courses that are essential to the doctorate. Issues of cultural diversity are woven into courses within each perspective area.

Master of Education

(MEd Degree)

Program Description

The Master of Education (MEd) Program is designed to fulfill the professional development needs of educators who specialize in different aspects of K-12 and higher education. There are eight different specialties from which students can choose:

1. Master of education in curriculum and instruction (Students may elect to complete the TSPC requirements for the Initial or Continuing Teaching License.)
2. Master of education in literacy
3. Master of education in reading (meets TSPC requirements for the Reading Specialist Endorsement along with passing the Reading Praxis exam)
4. Master of education in English as a second language (meets TSPC requirements for the ESOL Endorsement along with passing the ESOL Praxis exam)
5. Master of education in library media (meets TSPC requirements for the Library Media Endorsement along with passing the Library Media Praxis exam)
6. Master of education in secondary education (meets TSPC requirements for the standard teaching license)
7. Master of education in educational leadership (meets TSPC requirements for the Initial Administrator License along with passing the Educational Leadership Praxis exam)
8. Master of education in higher education

For each of the above specialties, the master of education degree requires 36 semester hours of credit. Students may transfer a maximum of 10 semester hours from accredited institutions into their programs upon approval by the department.

Admission

For students seeking an MEd degree, admission requirements are as follows:

- Master of education application form and $40 fee
- Bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university
- Valid Oregon teaching license or the equivalent, such as an expired or out-of-state license, education degree, or documented and appropriate teacher experience (Applicants desiring the MEd degree that do not have a teaching license should submit a letter of explanation as to how the MEd fits with their professional goals.)
- One- to two-page essay as described in the application
- One official transcript from all colleges or universities attended
- Three references on forms provided in the application booklet
- Completed Teachers Standards and Practices Character Questionnaire
- Minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA for most recent 60 semester or 90 quarter hours (and an explanation if the grade point is below 3.0)

For non-degree-seeking students applying for fewer than 8 cumulative semester hours, the following are required:

- Part-time application and $40 fee
- Bachelor's degree in education or other applicable degree from a regionally accredited college or university

Degree Requirements

The master of education requires the student to earn a minimum of 36 semester hours for each specialization. Each specialization shares a common foundations core of 5 semester hours and a research core of 8 hours. Within the foundations and research core requirements some choices can be made by students:

Foundations Core (5 hours)

EDFL 670 Ethical Foundations of Education	3
Or (ethics course varies by specialization)

Administrative Licenses

Program Description

George Fox University offers candidates the opportunity to earn as many as three licenses that prepare educators to serve in Oregon public schools as K-12 building or district-level administrators. The Initial Administrator License can be earned as a specialization in the master of education degree, as a stand-alone license past the master's degree, or as part of the doctor of education degree. The Continuing Administrator/Initial Superintendent License and the Continuing Superintendent License can be earned as stand-alone licenses past the master's degree or as part of the doctoral program.

Program Goals

George Fox University is committed to providing a program that has as its goal: preparing competent and ethical leaders to meet the personnel needs of schools in Oregon. This can best be accomplished by partnering with public and private schools to identify and develop leaders who have an equal commitment to developing these skills with faith, vision, and love as their foundation.

Schools in the 21st century require new ways of thinking. Leaders will need to help create a vision of the kind of culture and program needed to develop schools of excellence in teaching and learning, and to build support from all stake holders to progress toward that shared vision.

George Fox University's administrative licensure program supports this style of leadership by focusing the curricula on the Oregon Educational Act for the 21st Century. The program is designed to prepare an educator to be a change agent — one who understands current school practices and then works within the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context to facilitate new ways of helping all students become productive citizens and supporting all teachers to become leaders within schools.

At the completion of the administrative license course work and practicum experiences, candidates will:

- Understand the developmental needs of students at all authorization levels
- Be able to conduct and use research as a tool for improving a learning organization
- Understand the goals of the Oregon Content Standards and how to use them as a guide in assessing your own school's goals and evaluating progress
- Be prepared to lead teachers in helping students meet the standards and in continuing their professional development

Initial Administrator License

Program Requirements

The Teacher Standards and Practices Commission requires documentation of at least three years of successful licensed teaching or personnel experience in public schools or regionally accredited private schools and evidence of administration potential based on assessments of skills in leadership, management, and human relations as supported by supervisors' recommendations, prior to making application for the Initial Administrator License.

Candidates must also earn a score of 630 or above on the Praxis Test Specialty Area — Educational Leadership: Administration and Supervision (#0410), and submit the original score report with all license application materials as outlined in OAR 584-080-0011 to the Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC) including verification of a master's degree from a regionally accredited institution or the foreign equivalent approved by TSPC.

Curriculum

The Initial Administrator License Program consists of four foundation or core courses, followed by a yearlong sequence of practicum experiences and projects. The candidates transfer core course content into actual practice in school settings. This course work can be embedded within a master's program or may be taken as a licensure-only program accessed through face-to-face or online classes as scheduled. The university and site mentors will meet to verify the candidate's demonstration and documentation of the following knowledge, skills, and competencies listed in OAR 584-017-0250:

1. Demonstrate and promote ethical standards of democracy, equity, diversity, and excellence and promote communication among diverse groups.
2. Support the establishment and implementation of high skill and knowledge expectations designed to meet stated goals and objectives for students.
3. Develop and implement a plan with staff and other stakeholders for school improvement designed to increase student achievement using the best practices for curriculum design, instruction, and assessment.
4. Engage staff in an ongoing study of current best practices and relevant research and demographic data, and analyze their implications for school improvement.
5. Demonstrate and promote values, ethics, beliefs, and attitudes that achieve the goals of the school and district.
6. Demonstrate knowledge of the organization of a school within the context of the district and community.
7. Establish positive school-community relations and encourage parent participation that assists staff in achieving district and/or building goals.
8. Collaborate in the design and implementation of professional staff development programs to increase the effectiveness of the school program.
9. Demonstrate knowledge of supervision, professional development, and evaluation of personnel to ensure effective instruction.
10. Facilitate alternative learning environments when student progress is less than desired.
11. Assist in the work of district decision-making groups, including the school site council.

12. Develop collaboratively a learning organization that meets the needs of students within the constraints of school, district, and community resources and priorities.
13. Manage school financial resources to meet established priorities.
14. Manage the school in accordance with statutes, administrative rules, school district policies, and collective bargaining agreements.
15. Demonstrate an understanding of Oregon school law and finance.
16. Exhibit an understanding of human development, curriculum, and methods for early childhood, elementary, middle school, and high school students.

Core Courses

EDFL 500 Instructional Supervision	3
EDFL 640 Leadership in Education	3
EDFL 671 Ethical Perspectives on Educational Leadership	3
EDFL 682 Legal Perspectives on Educational Policy and Finance	3

Practicum experiences may begin at the completion of at least three of the four core classes or on the approval of the program director for candidates who are assigned half-time administrator positions.

Practica

The two semesters of practica have three components: on-site experiences, online academic projects, and a professional portfolio. Practicum experiences begin at the completion of at least three of the four core classes or on the approval of the program director. Administrative license candidates will begin their professional portfolio at the start of EDFL 648 Initial Administrator Practicum I. Candidates will add to the portfolio throughout their practicum, ending with EDFL 649 Initial Administrator Practicum II. Each candidate assembles a portfolio that documents satisfactory performance in at least five of the following areas of responsibility as listed in OAR 584-017-0280:

1. Leadership in establishing learning goals and evaluation of programs
2. Selection, supervision, and professional development of personnel
3. Budget preparation and management
4. Student management/student activities
5. School building design/management of facilities
6. Curriculum development and implementation
7. Development and coordination of participatory (site-based) decision making
8. Communication of district goals and programs to students, parents, and community constituencies
9. Technical requirements of mandated programs, such as special education and talented and gifted

Continuing Administrator/Initial Superintendent License

Program Requirements

The TSPC requires documentation of at least three years of successful licensed administrative experience at the half-time level or above (.5 FTE), in public schools or regionally accredited private schools, education service districts, state-operated or federal schools, or any private schools registered by the Oregon Department of Education, prior to making application for the Continuing Administrator/Initial Superintendent License.

Curriculum

This 18-hour continuing administrator/initial superintendent licensure program is designed to match experienced practitioner mentors with experienced administrator candidates. This course work can be embedded within a doctoral program or may be taken as a licensure-only program and can be accessed through face-to-face or online classes as scheduled. The program director will facilitate a self-assessment of current skills, at the building and district level, to enable the candidate to demonstrate and document the following advanced competencies as listed in OAR 584-017-0260:

1. Understand and apply emerging research on teaching, learning, and school improvement to increase district effectiveness.
2. Implement research-based educational practices that ensure candidate achievement and are sensitive to individual differences, diverse cultures, and ethnic backgrounds.
3. Exhibit collaboration with colleagues, staff, parents, and the public to enhance the school's performance and its reputation as a high quality learning environment for all students.
4. Demonstrate effective leadership in communication with diverse and special interest organizations.
5. Collaborate with patrons, staff, and interested organizations in the development, evaluation, and improvement of policies and programs to meet school district needs.
6. Implement practices that ensure effective organizations and management of school district policies and procedures.
7. Develop productive school, board, and community relations.
8. Demonstrate an advanced understanding of Oregon school law and school finance.
9. Demonstrate an understanding of planning, maintenance, and management of facilities.

Skill Development Core Courses (9 hours)

EDFL 650 Managing Organizational Resources

2. Understand planning, maintenance, and management of facilities at a school district level.
3. Develop a process for goal setting for the school district that involves community, school board, and staff.
4. Use research that enhances best practice to implement the goals of the district.
5. Leadership with students, staff, school board, and the community.
6. Use various evaluation techniques in order to improve policies and programs across the district.
7. Collaborate with patrons, staff, and interested organizations to enhance community relations for the school district.

EDFL Graduate Courses

Teaching and Learning Perspectives

EDFL 500 Instructional Supervision

3 hours. Offered fall and summer. Format: online and/or classroom centered. This course is designed to help educational leaders understand key ideas central to ongoing research on teaching and learning to establish educational policy and transform educational practice at their institutions. The course emphasizes ways in which cultural, social, and organizational contexts influence learning. Students will learn to use the clinical supervision model and other tools for supervising and evaluating teacher performance based on best practices. The course will examine the leader's role in establishing and maintaining an environment that is conducive to student and adult learning.

EDFL 501 Curriculum Development collect and share ideas and materials that encourage the construction of mathematical understanding.

EDFL 512 Hands-on Science

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. This course is intended to enhance an educator's skills, knowledge, and confidence in basic science instruction in the elementary/middle school classroom. Qualitative and quantitative science projects will be presented that consider a child's natural curiosity and propensity to ask questions.

EDFL 514 Work Sample Seminar

2 hours. Offered spring. Format: classroom centered. This course is designed to introduce students to the work sample requirement for the Initial Teaching License programs in the state of Oregon. Students are required to teach a 10-day unit, evaluate student learning during the unit, and submit written reflection on their teaching of the unit. Students will also be observed and evaluated during the teaching unit. Pass/No Pass

Prerequisite: EDFL 519 Practicum or simultaneous enrollment.

EDFL 515 Selected Topics in Curriculum and Instruction

1-3 hours. Offered fall, spring, and summer. Format: independent research under the direction of a faculty member. These courses are developed to provide the teacher with in-depth knowledge in the content of subject matter taught. Content-specific courses will be offered as needed in, but not limited to, the following areas: advanced mathematics, basic mathematics, biology, chemistry, drama, elementary education, health, family and consumer sciences, language arts, music, health and human performance, social studies, and speech.

EDFL 522 Middle Level Education

2 hours. Offered spring. Format: online. This course introduces the student to the organization, curriculum, and unique aspects of a middle level program. This course is required for teachers desiring to add the Oregon middle level authorization to their teaching license.

EDFL 523 Middle Level Methods

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. This course introduces the student to effective teaching strategies at the middle school. This course is required for teachers desiring to add the Oregon middle level authorization to their teaching license.

Reading and Literacy PerspectivesEDFL 530 History and Foundations of Literacy Learning

2 hours. Offered spring and summer. Format: classroom centered. Thoughtful classroom practice depends on sound theory. This course examines some current competing theories, looks at the implications of various literacy theories as they impact classroom decision making, and, through reading and discussion, develop a personal understanding of literacy processes. The linguistic framework of reading and its place in the language arts will also be explored.

EDFL 531 Analysis of Reading and Writing Assessments

2 hours. Offered fall and summer. Classroom teachers become acquainted with a wide variety of methods for assessing student progress in reading and writing. Administration and scoring of these tests will be explored. Information about how testing results can facilitate teaching and learning is the goal.

EDFL 532 Advanced Strategies in Literacy Instruction: Assessment and Remediation

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. This course focuses on current methods and materials for reading/literacy instruction. The strategies used by proficient readers will be explored and teaching methods will be modeled and implemented. Methods of assessment and strategies for remediation will also be explored.

EDFL 533 Advanced Studies in Children's and Adolescent Literature

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. This course focuses on a critical examination of children's literature as literature, considers curriculum development based on children's literature, and on a further development of a broad understanding of literacy learning issues.

EDFL 534 Issues and Application of Literacy Instruction

2 hours. Offered spring. Format: classroom centered. This course focuses on the issues related to public and school-based concerns about literacy learning. The discussion of issues will lead to research-based applications that can be translated into the classroom practice at the elementary, middle, or high school level.

EDFL 536 Reading and Writing in the Content Areas

2 hours. Offered fall. Format: classroom centered. This course focuses on the reading and writing needs of the student at the middle level and in the high school. The teaching of critical reading and writing strategies will be included as well as assessment tools. This course is required for those pursuing the middle level and high school authorizations of the Reading Endorsement, but is appropriate for teachers of all levels.

EDFL 537 Emergent Literacy

2 hours. Offered summer. This course explores theoretical principles and practices based on current research. Emphasis is on strategies for coming to print, print conventions, and reading aloud. Shared, guided, and independent reading and writing is also explored. These strategies are based on theoretical assumptions from the psychology of language and cognition development and linguistics.

EDFL 538 Organization of Reading Programs

3 hours. Offered fall. Format: classroom centered. The content of this course includes: the organization of reading programs within the context of state and federal regulation and within the structure of the school-wide program; the types of testing used to diagnose and monitor student progress; the methods that can be used to involve parents, paraprofessionals, and volunteers; and the methods available to assess program effectiveness. Observations in a variety of school settings will be organized.

EDFL 539 Early Childhood and Elementary Reading Practicum

2 hours. Offered fall and spring. The reading practicum will provide a context in which to apply methods, assessment techniques, and teaching strategies in a school setting. It will also provide opportunity for an observation of a reading program in application. The practicum setting must include assessment, teaching, and evaluation of students at both authorization levels. Pass/No Pass
Prerequisites: EDFL 530 History and Foundations of Literacy Learning; EDFL 531 Analysis of Reading and Writing Assessments; EDFL 532 Advanced Strategies in Literacy Instruction; EDFL 538 Organization of Reading Programs; or by permission.

EDFL 540 Elementary and Middle Level Reading Practicum

2 hours. Offered fall and spring. The reading practicum will provide a context in which to apply methods, assessment techniques, and teaching strategies in an elementary and middle school setting. It will also provide opportunity for an observation of a reading program in application. The practicum setting must include assessment, teaching, and evaluation of students at both levels of authorization. Pass/No Pass

EDFL 630 Advanced Developmental Psychology

2 hours. Offered spring and summer. Format: classroom centered. Principles of human development — infancy through adolescence — will be discussed in relation to classroom application, with a focus on practice that is appropriate for the developmental level of the student.

EDFL 631 Implementing Inclusion in the Regular Classroom

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. This course builds upon foundational knowledge of exceptionalities introduced in preservice teacher education programs, and includes an update of recent legal cases and reauthorization of special education laws, with an emphasis on providing strategies and resources for educational services to exceptional learners in regular classrooms.

EDFL 633 Classroom Guidance

3 hours. Offered summer (even years). Format: classroom centered. Explore the guidance methods used by classroom teachers. The coordination of the work of agencies outside the school with those of the support programs in the school will be covered. Interactions with parents and parent groups will be emphasized. Classroom teachers will also explore the roles of all student services programs within the school setting, including those programs that deal with exceptionality. Ethics and confidentiality of the teacher-student relationship will be covered.

EDFL 634 Adult Development in Educational Organizations

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: online or classroom centered. This course explores ways for shaping an educational organization as a healthy place for everyone's growth and development, with special attention to adult students, faculty, administrators, and support staff. The course will approach the field of adult growth with a variety of theoretical and practical questions, such as: What are the implications of various theories of adulthood for how we define "development," "maturity," and "wisdom"? Are there common formats for the quest for wisdom that apply to the guidance of students? Established by the Florida State Board of Education in 1964. The professional leadership in education.

EDFL 642 Student Life: Issues, Policy, and Planning

2 hours. Offered summer (odd years). Format: classroom centered. This seminar examines the historical and philosophical rationale regarding student issues, policy, and planning at the K-20 levels. Issues include residence life, safety, staffing and supervision, and program development for student emotional and social growth. The course emphasizes translating student life policy and planning into enhanced student learning within current educational contexts.

EDFL 643 Enrollment Issues: Marketing and Retention

2 hours. Offered summer (even years). Format: classroom centered. This seminar examines the theoretical and practical basis for providing support to academic departments in marketing, recruiting, advising, and retaining students in K-20 educational organizations.

EDFL 644 Advancing the Organization: Fund Raising

2 hours. Offered summer (even years). Format: classroom centered. This seminar focuses on developing a fund-raising plan for private or public nonprofit institutions. This practical outcome is developed within the theoretical context of planned giving and institutional purpose.

EDFL 648 Initial Administrator Practicum I

2 hours. Offered fall and spring. Practicum experiences are carried out at a building level of responsibility by working concurrently in two different authorization level sites. Initial Administrator License candidates will begin a 360-hour practicum in elementary AND in middle level/high schools under the direct supervision of a university supervisor and a licensed school administrator. A minimum of 90 hours is required at each level. Assignments will require candidates to learn about issues at the site, work with mentors to resolve the issues, and evaluate how they are being handled. These experiences will be supplemented by online administrative academic projects that focus on school governance and partnerships along with school management topics. The university supervisor and candidates will communicate via the Internet providing feedback to colleagues on various projects. Two Saturday Seminars are required and will focus on current topics of administrative competencies. Pass/No Pass

EDFL 649 Initial Administrator Practicum II

2 hours. Offered fall and spring. Practicum experiences continue at a building level of responsibility. Initial Administrator License candidates will complete a 360-hour practicum in elementary AND in middle level/high school under the direct supervision of a university supervisor and a licensed school administrator. Practicum experiences are supplemented by online administrative academic projects that focus on curriculum and staff development, supervision and evaluation, and personnel hiring. The supervisors and candidates will communicate via the Internet. Pass/No Pass

EDFL 650 Managing Organizational Resources

3 hours. Format: online with executive weekend seminar. This is a core requirement of the continuing administrator program and requires admission to the doctoral program, the continuing administrator program, or specific advisor approval. Educational leaders must balance the allocation of scarce resources among competing interests while managing the organizational structure and empowering those who support the organizational mission. This course prepares educators to address the value tensions inherent in the allocation of resources and the educational consequences linked to those fiscal decisions. Issues of efficiency, equity, adequacy, and control in educational finance will be specifically addressed from historical, economic, moral, legal, and development, collective bargaining, grievance resolution, board meeting management, board member development, and advanced personnel issues such as dismissal and sexual harassment investigation.

Ethical Perspectives

EDFL 670 Ethical Foundations of Education

3 hours. Offered fall and summer. Format: classroom centered. Students learn a perspective on human relations in education that includes issues such as problem solving, consensus building, conflict resolution, ethics, and building relevant community connections.

EDFL 671 Ethical Perspectives on Educational Leadership

3 hours. Offered spring and summer. Format: classroom centered. This course examines how belief structures undergird the methods educators use to motivate people to learn. Through the light of ethical theory, students examine how organizational leaders respond to the situations they face. Students also reflect on and apply their own values and ethical understanding to shed light on case studies that represent situations they often face as educational leaders.

EDFL 675 Faith and Learning Seminars

1 hour. Offered fall, spring, and summer. Format: classroom centered and online. Seminars integrating a Christian perspective on life with aspects of learning, leading, and believing. Examples of possible seminars include:

- Believing and Learning: Developing One's Faith
- Believing and Learning: Developmental Stages of Faith
- Integrating Faith: Educational Theory and Practice
- Biblical Foundations: Moving Toward an Integrative Christian Understanding
- Integrating Faith: Understanding Gender and Race
- Biblical Foundations: Issues of Peace, Equality, and Justice

Foundational Perspectives

EDFL 680 Ph8343hBBT/TT1w2 cIWE36 37g 4fchB8educational leaders.

3 hours. Offered summer (odd years). Format: classroom centered. This course examines and invites the student to experience issues, topics, and foundational skill building in counseling and advising at the college campus for administrative staff in student personnel settings. The focus is primarily on principles, techniques, and a personal introspective process, and stresses the boundaries of peer and advisor counseling and the relationship to professional counselors on campus and other mental health organizations.

EDFL 686 Political and Social Perspectives on Education

3 hours. Offered spring (odd years). Format: classroom centered. Educators operate in a complex web of political relationships — within schools and universities, between educational institutions and their communities, and across levels of government. This course is designed to enable educators to become more effective and responsible actors within this web of political and social relationships in order to improve, restructure, and transform educational institutions. The following questions are examined: What is power? How is political consciousness formed in children and adults? How do social problems become political issues? How is the political decision-making agenda set? How are policy issues decided? How do policy decisions affect and how are they affected by the organizational structure of institutions? How can educational leaders use political power to transform schools? The issues of change; desegregation; decentralization; equality of educational opportunity; structure of educational organization; teacher/student relationships; reform in education at elementary, secondary, postsecondary levels; and multiculturalism are also examined.

EDFL 687 Critical Issues in Higher Education

3 hours. This course examines contemporary trends and issues in American higher education designed to orient students to issues, ideas, and literature that constitute the study of higher education, with emphasis on underlying social and political issues that shape higher education and organizational change.

EDFL 690 International Perspectives on Education

3 hours. Offered fall (odd years). Format: classroom centered. Education is ever on the agenda of national governments. What role is education expected to play in national development? In this course students will examine the varied ways by which different nations tackle issues such as equity, efficiency, and quality in education. The course will also examine the conceptual and methodological questions underlying the field of comparative education. Particular attention is given to types of social and political analysis that may be applied to comparative and cross-national studies in education.

EDFL 692 Historical Perspectives on American Education

3 hours. Offered spring (even years). Format: online. This course is designed to help educational leaders understand current educational policy from a historical perspective. If we examine the whole of culture — its institutions, texts, rituals, and techniques — what can we learn that will help us meet current challenges in educating citizens to continue supporting our democratic values? In this course we explore that question from several different perspectives and periods in history. We look at education in the lives of individuals, in the struggle of families, in the work of teachers, in the reform of school systems, in the education of teachers, and in the role of education in society. We study books, articles, and other sources of information that help us understand the history of education in America and its impact on the present.

EDFL 692 History on American Education

3 hours. Offered spring (odd years). Format: online. This course examines the history of education in America and its impact on the present. We look at education in the lives of individuals, in the struggle of families, in the work of teachers, in the reform of school systems, in the education of teachers, and in the role of education in society. We study books, articles, and other sources of information that help us understand the history of education in America and its impact on the present.

EDFL 695 Special Study

2-3 hours. Offered fall, spring, and summer. Format: independent research upon the direction of a faculty member. These courses are developed to provide the student with in-depth knowledge in the content of subject matter taught. Content-specific courses will be offered as needed in, but not limited to, the following areas: advanced mathematics, basic mathematics, biology, chemistry, drama, elementary education, health, family and consumer sciences, language arts, health and human performance, social studies, and speech.

Prerequisite: approval from the doctor of education or the master of education director and the EDFL department chair.

Research Perspectives

EDFL 701 Quantitative Research Methods

3 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. Those who make organizational decisions often request quantitative research data to help them solve organizational problems. When the research data is flawed, organizations produce bad social policy. This course helps beginning educational researchers balance the competing demands of formal experimental and survey design principles with the ever-present practical constraints of the real world so that they can conduct sound quantitative research. Emphasis will be placed on formulating research questions, identifying relevant target populations, selecting respondents for study, refining definitions of the effects of interest, identifying relevant comparisons, selecting appropriate measures, determining how many subjects to study, taking advantage of the results of previous research and pilot studies, and anticipating the unanticipated.

Prerequisites: EDFL 703 (or can be taken concurrently) and EDFL 704 (note: doctoral students can test out of EDFL 704).

EDFL 702 Qualitative Research Methods

3 hours. Offered summer. Format: classroom centered. Qualitative research does not mean just using words instead of numbers. This research tradition is increasingly being used in education to answer questions for which experimental and quantitative methods are inappropriate or incomplete. This course introduces the basic issues of theory and method in qualitative research and provides a structured, supportive environment for learning the essential skills of qualitative research. These skills include negotiating a research relationship with those studied, identifying and critiquing one's own assumptions about the people and issues studied, developing research questions, conducting observations and interviews, confronting ethical issues, analyzing qualitative data, and communicating the results of research.

Prerequisites: EDFL 703 (or can be taken concurrently) and EDFL 704 (note: doctoral students can test out of EDFL 704).

EDFL 703 Bibliographic Research and Writing

2 hours. Offered fall, spring, and summer. Format: classroom centered. Students will learn the elements of educational research and writing appropriate graduate education programs. Research methods include bibliographic searches using electronic databases, interlibrary loan, and electronic card catalog. The writing emphasis will include writing syntheses of research findings, writing term papers and research proposals. The course will also emphasize the citation style required in education and psychology research writing and the use of electronic resource software. Advising note: Students are encouraged to take EDFL educational settings. Focuses on the translation of research questions into research design, and how each aspect of the research design subtly shapes and reshapes the questions asked, and the "answers" obtained. By the end of the course, students should be capable of designing a study — or a series of experimental/quasi-experimental studies — to examine a research issue or question of interest to them or those they work with. This includes an evaluation of the pros and cons of various designs, determining a reasonable sample, selecting or designing a set of valid measures, and other related issues.

Prerequisites: EDFL 701, EDFL 703, EDFL 704 (or test out for doctoral students).

EDFL 707 Survey Research Designs

2 hours. Offered fall and summer. Format: classroom centered and online. This presents the techniques of processing and analyzing non-experimental and quasi-experimental quantitative data. Focuses on problems of conceptualization, organization, and gathering non-experimental and quasi-experimental quantitative and qualitative data. Includes relationships between data, predictions, questionnaire construction, correlation and regression analysis, and sample selection.

Prerequisites: EDFL 701 (required for doctoral students), EDFL 703, EDFL 704 (or test out for doctoral students).

EDFL 708 Program Evaluation Research Designs

2 hours. Offered spring. Format: online. This course teaches the tools needed to evaluate the effectiveness of educational programs and policies. It assumes a basic familiarity with social science research methods and applies those methods to program evaluation. This course informs educational leaders in evaluation purpose, design, and methods for understanding the role of evaluation in program planning, implementation, and accountability. The course focuses on understanding the purposes of evaluation; the role of the evaluator; identification of questions; experimental, quasi-experimental, descriptive, and exploratory designs; indicators of effectiveness; qualitative and quantitative data sources; modes of analysis; presentation of evaluation results; and the role of evaluation conclusions in organizational decision making.

Prerequisites: EDFL 703, EDFL 704 (or test out for doctoral students), and either EDFL 701 or EDFL 702 (required for doctoral students).

EDFL 709 Ethnographic and Case Study Research Designs

2 hours. Offered spring. Format: classroom centered. This course is designed to develop conceptual and technical skills needed for designing and executing ethnographic research designs that can be implemented in classrooms, schools, and other educational settings. Focuses on the following skills: observing and recording behavior in natural settings; problem definition and focus; sampling; controlled comparisons and meaningful variation; designing single and multiple case studies; data storage and retrieval systems; and trustworthiness (reliability/validity) of ethnographic research. Topics may include classroom ethnography, advanced ethnographic writing and/or multimedia design, discourse analysis, and microethnography of social interaction.

Prerequisites: EDFL 703, EDFL 704 (or test out for doctoral students), and EDFL 702.

EDFL 710 Historical Research Designs

2 hours. Offered summer. Format: online. This course prepares students to use historical research tools for examining educational issues. History as a mode of inquiry will be a central element. While scholars in other fields can create their own evidence through experiment and observation, those who use historical research tools must rely upon clues left by others. The historian's challenge lies in unearthing evidence and knowing what questions to ask of the evidence. This course teaches students to identify and locate historical sources, to formulate historical claims on the basis of that evidence, and to interpret the possible significance of such claims in relation to existing historical knowledge. Focuses on both written and oral history.

Prerequisites: EDFL 692, EDFL 694, EDFL 702 (required for doctoral students), EDFL 703, EDFL 704 (or test out for doctoral students).

EDFL 711 Master's Project Proposal

1 hour. Offered fall, spring, and summer. The master's research project involves three stages: completing a project proposal, conducting the project, and completing the project paper and oral presentation. This course is the first course in a three-course sequence that students enroll in to finalize a project proposal. Student works under the guidance of the student's faculty research committee chair to clarify a research topic, identify data sources, and prepare a written proposal.

Prerequisites: EDFL 703 and 704.

EDFL 712 Master's Project Research

1 hour. Offered fall, spring, and summer. The master's research project involves three stages: completing a project proposal, conducting the project, and completing the project paper and oral presentation. This course is the second stage in the culminating activity for the Master of Education Program research project. Student works under the guidance of assigned faculty research committee to conduct a research project as approved by the committee.

Prerequisite: EDFL 711.

EDFL 713 Master's Presentation

1 hour. Offered fall, spring, and summer. The master's research project involves three stages: completing a project proposal, conducting the project, and completing the project paper and oral presentation. This course is the third stage in the culminating activity for the Master of Education Program research project. Student presents a written and oral presentation of the research project to faculty research committee and professional peers.

Prerequisite: EDFL 712.

EDFL 715 Master's Research II

1-4 hours. Research for and preparation of master's thesis or action research project. Required of master's-level students who did not complete their thesis or action research project in EDFL 712.

EDFL 720 Dissertation Research

2 hours. Research for and preparation of doctoral dissertation.

Prerequisites: EDFL 701, 702, and two research design courses.

EDFL 721 Dissertation Research

2 hours. Research for and preparation of doctoral dissertation.

Prerequisite: EDFL 720. Can be enrolled concurrently with EDFL 720 with the permission of the Doctor of Education Program director.

EDFL 722 Dissertation Research

2 hours. Research for and preparation of doctoral dissertation.

Prerequisite: EDFL 721.

EDFL 723 Dissertation Research

2 hours. Research for and preparation of doctoral dissertation.

Prerequisite: EDFL 722. Can be enrolled concurrently with EDFL 722 with the permission of the Doctor of Education Program director.

EDFL 725 Dissertation Research

2 hours. Required of doctoral level students who did not complete their dissertation research in EDFL 720-723.

Notes: Students in the research design courses (EDFL 702-710) will be expected to write research proposals appropriate to their degree level (action research, thesis, or dissertation).

Doctoral students may take a maximum of four hours of doctoral dissertation research hours in any semester.

Continuing Teaching License Seminars

ECTL 591 Continuing Teaching License Seminar I

1 hour. Offered, fall, spring, and summer. Format: classroom centered and online. This seminar is designed to focus on a brief history of the CTL, Oregon Administrative Rules and the 10 Advanced Proficiencies that dictate CTL programs, the components and requirements of the GFU CTL program, and the philosophy that drives the notion of second licensure for professional teachers in Oregon. This seminar is for professional educators to thoughtfully and carefully examine their practice and the performance of their students in relation to the 10 Advanced Proficiencies. In addition, teachers will consider the impact on student achievement brought about by their collaborative work with students, parents, colleagues, and their school communities in relation to the 10 Advanced Proficiencies. Pass/No Pass

ECTL 592 Continuing Teaching License Seminar II

1 hour. Offered fall and spring. The practicum experience is designed to ensure that CTL candidates are teaching, assessing, and establishing a classroom climate conducive to learning and collaboration with parents and colleagues as stated in the 10 Advanced Proficiencies. This practicum experience will require one orientation session and a minimum of two classroom visits/observations. Ideally, the university supervisor will observe instruction and provide feedback for the CTL candidate based upon the 10 Advanced Proficiencies while the candidate is employed in a K-12 school and during the completion of the "Preparing an Analysis of Student Work" task. Pass/No Pass

ECTL 593 Continuing Teaching License Seminar III: Portfolio Assimilation and Portfolio Review

1 hour. Offered fall, spring, and summer. Each CTL candidate will develop a personal professional portfolio to present for review at the conclusion of this seminar. Candidates arrange to meet individually with the instructor of the course to review the assimilation process and to organize their portfolio review committee composed of appropriate district and university personnel. Pass/No Pass

Course Offerings

BUSG 500 Mission and Vision

3 hours. This course covers both theory and application in the competency areas needed to be capable managers in individual organizational contexts: performance, relationships, values, crisis, and leadership. Sessions examine how managers manage (or should manage); what their contribution is and should be; what results mean in the organizational context; how performance is assessed; managers' responsibilities to themselves, the people who work for and with them, and the communities they operate within. Attention is given to how managers do all of the above with competence, character, effectiveness, and enjoyment.

BUSG 525 Global Environment

3 hours. As world citizens, people are increasingly aware of the globalization of markets, economies, strategies, and structures in our world. This class offers an overview of the issues encountered in transnational enterprises, with a concentration on understanding the nature of international business, and the development of cultural awareness. Students will understand the functional differences in transnational organizations and be able to identify key issues to be resolved in internationalizing, recognizing that these processes have both positive and negative results.

BUSG 534 Ethical and Legal Responsibilities

3 hours. This course introduces practical legal issues that arise in the work environment and the ethical tools to understand and inform day-to-day activities in the workplace. Issues such as contracts, human resources, tort, intellectual property, competition and sales, the judicial system, white-collar crime, forms of organization, and appropriate communications are covered. The threads of ethical decision making, alternative dispute resolution, and Christian values run throughout the course and are covered specifically in several topics.

BUSG 555 Transformational Leadership

3 hours. Explores both historical and contemporary leadership theories and models. Particular emphasis is given to evaluating leadership theories from a values perspective and determining the ways in which they can be applied to the most current developments in organizational change strategies. Using this knowledge, students are presented with ways in which leadership can be reconceptualized and applied to meet the requirements of today's increasingly complex organizations.

MAOL 521 Human Resource Development and Diversity

3 hours. Explores the field of human resource management as a context for specific training and development strategies. The class focuses on the role of human resources in the achievement of all business goals, the legal environment of the workplace, and issues relating to career development and succession planning. It also develops a multicultural sensitivity among individuals within organizations. This course integrates diverse perspectives toward the goal of students applying the perspectives in their own organizations.

MAOL 522 Leadership and Human Development

3 hours. Reviews theory and research on adulthood and aging, including current psychological theories of adult development. Course work probes strategies for creating environments conducive to high levels of self-motivation.

MAOL 531 Organizational Change

3 hours. Examines the steps involved in creating a learning organization. Interaction between leadership, strategic planning, and effective decision making are analyzed. Theories of leadership as a backdrop for understanding the dynamics of positive organizational change are studied. Students assess how change is planned, initiated, and sustained for the long term.

MAOL 532 Organizational Planning and Control

3 hours. Reviews fundamental principles in the management of financial resources, as applicable in industrial, service, and nonprofit organizations and institutions. Focus will be on the procedures used to plan, execute, and review performance from the perspective of a general manager. Students obtain financial information from an appropriate organization, then plan, analyze, and interpret the results.

MAOL 542 Organizational Communication and Negotiation

3 hours. Emphasis is placed on electronic/visual media and public speaking. This course seeks to develop the student's presentation skills, with an emphasis on persuasive speeches. The course also provides the student an opportunity to practice negotiation strategies and techniques.

MAOL 544 Professional Development I

1 hour. Introduces the students to the Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership Program. Emphasis will be placed on team building as students are presented with strategies for enhancing their problem-solving and decision-making skills within a group setting.

MAOL 545 Professional Development II

1 hour. Analyzes each student's own leadership attitudes and abilities using instrumentation and feedback tools. Students will discover ways in which these assessment processes and procedures can be used to encourage professional growth among other potential leaders in their organization.

MAOL 546 Professional Development III

1 hour. Analyzes leadership styles and abilities directed primarily toward providing each student with feedback and recommendations. This includes developing and executing strategies for professional and personal leadership growth.

MAOL 551 Research Methods

3 hours. Enables students to identify issues, locate and evaluate relevant literature, design data collection tools, gather pertinent information, and analyze and apply the information within an organizational setting.

MAOL 552 Service Learning Project

3 hours. Provides an opportunity in which students work with a public benefit organization to apply skills, theory, course concepts, and research-based decision-making skills. A faculty mentor will structure the learning, coordinate with the cooperating organizations, assess level and significance of student learning, and monitor the overall experience. Students will provide oral and written reports to the organization and to the class.

George Fox Evangelical Seminary

Seminary Heritage

George Fox Evangelical Seminary is an evangelical, multidenominational, university-based school committed to equipping women and men academically, spiritually, emotionally, theologically, and culturally for ministry in the church and world in the greater Northwest and beyond. We are committed to graduate theological education, professional development, and spiritual formation. We are dedicated to provide the church with the future leaders it seeks, to train leaders for the present and the future, to provide a place for those who seek to be on the forefront of church development and those who seek spiritual renewal, and to offer flexible schedules for busy people in an increasingly globalized society.

George Fox Evangelical Seminary began in 1947 as the Western School of Evangelical Religion. In 1951, it became Western Evangelical Seminary. The original campus was on the Evangelical Church conference grounds at Jennings Lodge, east of Portland. In 1993, the seminary moved to a new centrally located and more easily accessible campus near Interstate 5 and highways 99W and 217. In 1996, it merged with George Fox College to form George Fox University, and changed its name on January 1, 2000, to George Fox Evangelical Seminary. The site of the seminary is now the university's Portland Center.

The first students came from the founding denominations: the Evangelical Church and the Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends. Soon the Free Methodist and Wesleyan churches lent their support. Today, more than 30 denominations are represented in the student body.

When the seminary began, it fulfilled the dream of its first president, Paul Petticord, and other regional Christian leaders, who recognized the need for a Wesleyan seminary in the Pacific Northwest. The ideal was set forth in an early catalog:

...to train men and women in the definite doctrines of faith set forth in the constitution and bylaws and to give them such definite guidance and training that they may go out into the world with a positive message of salvation possible only in Jesus Christ. Not only is this training to be scholastic, but deeply spiritual. Not only theoretical, but practical in the usage of necessary methods essential for this day and age. This training is to be given by professors who are of high scholarship and of practical abilities and experienced in winning the lost to a definite relationship in Christ.

George Fox Seminary faculty members come from a variety of evangelical backgrounds. They share a common commitment to sound scholarship, warmhearted personal faith, and effective pastoral practice that continues to characterize the seminary's approach to theological education.

The curriculum now includes not only the MDiv, the foundational degree for pastoral ministry, but also the MA in Christian ministries, a flexible, two-year program with specialized concentrations, designed for leaders in church and other ministry settings. The MATS degree, with emphases in either Bible or theology/history, continues to serve those called to teaching or eventual doctoral study. The doctor of ministry degree, for experienced pastors who hold the MDiv or its equivalent, is a cohort-style program with two tracks: Leadership and Spiritual Formation and Leadership in the Emerging Culture. Also offered is the MA in Ministry Leadership degree, designed to equip persons seeking a pedagogically mature theological education in preparation to be associate pastors, specialized ministry or parachurch leaders, missionaries, church planters, or campus/camp pastors. The MA in Spiritual Formation degree is for those who desire a deeper personal walk with Christ, a grounding in Bible, theology, and church history, and the development of ministry skills for helping others become more Christlike in everyday living.

Memberships

The seminary holds memberships in organizations that enable us to fulfill our mission.

Association of Theological Schools

The Association of Theological Schools (ATS) is our accrediting agency. The seminary holds an Accredited Membership in the ATS.

Evangelicals for Social Action

Evangelicals for Social Action (ESA) is an association of Christians seeking to promote Christian engagement, analysis, and understanding of major social, cultural, and public-policy issues. ESA emphasizes both the transformation of human lives through personal faith and also the importance of a commitment to social and economic justice as an outgrowth of Christian faith.

The Association for Clinical Pastoral Education

- The Wesleyan Theological Society

The Friends Center

The Friends Center at George Fox Evangelical Seminary is a program supported by the Friends denomination with goals of educating, training, mentoring, and equipping those who have been called to leadership in the Friends Church in the Northwest and beyond.

In addition to supporting the regular degree programs of the seminary with Friends-specific courses, the center provides seminar, workshop, conference, and individual-study courses for Friends students as well as leaders already serving in local congregations. The director is available on the seminary campus to informally mentor and consult with students and to gather Friends students together for worship, reflection on their course work, and the chance to dialogue with one another about ministry in the local church.

Information and Technology

Personal spiritual formation and the acquisition of professional ministry skills are at the heart of the seminary's mission. As the world has moved into an information age, skills in information literacy and technological competence are important for professional ministry. We are doing several things to prepare for ministry in the information age:

Grounding in Information Literacy

A person who is "information literate":

- Knows when information is needed
- Knows how to formulate an effective search strategy
- Knows how to access information
- Knows how to evaluate information he or she has accessed
- Knows how to incorporate information into his or her work

Students will find that course objectives will require them to strengthen their general information literacy.

Participation in a Technologically Enriched Environment

A Lilly-Endowment grant has brought new technology resources to the classroom instruction of seminary students. "Smart classrooms" (classrooms equipped with computer projection equipment with full multimedia capability and access to all network and Internet resources) enrich the in-class experience. Course websites and online access to licensed databases and library resources enable ongoing work and vibrant exchanges among students and faculty between class sessions. Faculty members have also strengthened their skills in the effective use of technology in teaching, and students often serve as interns and teaching assistants.

Exposure to Critical Software Tools

Faculty members are committed to orienting students to the critical software tools most relevant to their future ministries: personal-productivity software, Bible-research software, church-management software, and other helpful applications.

Access to Online Licensed Databases

All students have online access to valuable databases for study and research: ATLAS Religion Index, Academic Search Premier, PsycInfo, Sociological Abstracts, ERIC, and Dissertation Abstracts are a few of the more than 50 discipline-specific databases available. Students have access to the full text of the top theological journals of the past 50 years. Students can access these at the library or from home via the Internet through the George Fox University Proxy Server.

Resources for Advanced Study

Encounters with historical and contemporary texts in theology and religion are an integral part of a seminary education. The Portland Center Library houses 67,000 volumes of the university's 203,000 print-item collection and receives more than 300 periodicals. In addition, a regional consortium provides daily delivery from its combined collections of 27 million items. Interlibrary loans through an international reserve of 65 million items ensure that faculty and students have access to the variety of voices that speak to theological issues.

Participation in Electronically Enhanced Courses

Many of the seminary's courses are "electronically enhanced." A course that is electronically enhanced has a live class period once a week and an interactive website that directs the remainder of the work for the week (between 6 and 7.5 hours). Students at a distance do not need to be in class every day, but can come once or twice a week and do the rest of their work online.

Access to Computer Labs

The Portland Center has a well-equipped computer lab with full software, e-mail, and Internet access. The lab is open six days a week.

Online Information About the Seminary

The seminary maintains a website at seminary.georgefox.edu. The site provides information about degrees and certificates, departments, faculty, admission, and library resources, as well as a campus tour and history of the seminary.

Community Life

Spiritual Life

The preparation of women and men for ministry requires us to engage the entire person — cognitive and affective, personal and professional. This means that GPAs do not tell the whole story about a student's preparedness for a program at seminary, nor do they tell the whole story about their preparedness for work in their chosen area of ministry when they leave seminary. Helping students to understand their temperament and relational skills may be as crucial to their success in ministry as helping them master a body of knowledge. Because of this, assessment of students must address more than just the cognitive aspects of their development.

The seminary conducts two assessments for students. The first is carried out after one semester of study and assesses the student's potential for success in seminary study. The second is candidacy, which is conducted at the midpoint of their study. At this assessment, the faculty members are better able to address the nature of the student's calling, gifts, and abilities.

During these times of assessment, several possible outcomes may be determined. A detailed description of these outcomes is found in the Student Assessment Plan. These times of assessment provide opportunity to affirm the gifts of students and to guide them in a direction that will maximize their time of study according to their gifting and their calling.

Scheduling

The seminary offers courses in a unique rotating block schedule. The large majority of the seminary's three-credit courses are taught in three-hour "blocks" on Mondays and Thursdays. Each day has three blocks, one each in the morning, afternoon, and evening. From year to year, courses "rotate" to different blocks. For example, a course offered on Monday morning one year will be offered on Thursday afternoon the next year. For the student, that means that if the student commits to certain blocks, eventually all the needed courses will rotate to that block. The greatest flexibility in scheduling is gained by being available to all six blocks. However, if a student commits consistently to three or four blocks, he or she will find that almost the entire curriculum will come to them in two years. The one-credit spiritual-formation courses have their own rotation and are offered in late afternoon and early evening blocks on Mondays and Thursdays.

Doctor of Ministry

(DMin Degree)

Program Objectives

The doctor of ministry (DMin) is the highest professional degree for those in parish or related ministries. It is designed for educated, experienced practitioners who desire to stimulate renewal in themselves and in their ministries through advanced training, reflection, and study. The doctor of ministry is designed to engage ministry professionals in the integration of their experience with new knowledge, research, and reflection.

The primary goals of the degree are to give students:

1. A better understanding of their spirituality and how to implement a program for ongoing spiritual growth and personal and professional renewal
2. A better understanding of the fundamental principles and dynamics of leadership and what leadership style best suits their gifts and personality
3. Increased competence in utilizing the tools from biblical studies, theology, and philosophy to develop and implement effective ministry strategies
4. Increased competence in the application of current thinking and resources to congregational leadership, preaching and worship, spiritual direction, and pastoral care
5. Increased competence in church-management skills, strategic planning, and leadership development
6. Increased competence in identifying problem areas in a given ministry and devising and implementing a specific course of action by which to effectively address those areas

Admission Requirements

What distinguishes the DMin from academic doctorates such as the PhD, ThD, and STD is that its primary focus is on the practice of ministry. The DMin is also distinctive from other professional degrees such as the EdD and the PsyD in that it builds on the Project and Dissertation

(4 hours required)

DMIN 550 Dissertation	4
DMIN 555 Dissertation Continuation (1 hour per semester until complete)	1

Candidacy

After a student has finished all course work (32 semester hours), he or she is ready to begin the candidacy process. To qualify as a doctoral candidate, each student must:

1. Maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 with no course grade lower than a B-
2. Submit a topic for the final dissertation and gain approval from the primary advisor
3. Complete all leveling work (if applicable)

When these steps have been completed, the DMin program director will present a report and recommendation to the resident DMin faculty for consideration of the student's qualifications for candidacy. Students advanced to candidacy continue in the program. Students not advanced to candidacy are given specific guidelines for reevaluation.

The doctor of ministry office will notify students of their status following the second year of the program.

The Dissertation

To complete the DMin program, a dissertation is required. This project involves research and writing at both the theoretical and practical levels and serves to evaluate the student's competency in a specialized area of ministry related to his or her personal experience and interest.

In the research orientation courses and through the support of a dissertation advisor, each student receives guidance in choosing a research topic and preparing a proposal for the dissertation. As a prerequisite to candidacy, the student's proposal is submitted to the DMin Committee for approval.

When the dissertation is complete, the candidate submits the dissertation to two readers: the faculty mentor and another reader selected by the DMin Committee at the time the project proposal is approved. As part of the evaluation, the candidate must give an oral defense of the dissertation before the readers.

Doctor of Ministry in Leadership in the Emerging Culture

Program Summary

The delivery system of the doctor of ministry track in leadership in the emerging culture (DMin LEC) includes participation in several seminars and conferences offered through major teaching churches around the country and abroad; personal mentoring by select faculty advisors; online interactivity with cohort members and professors; three "advance" experiences; as well as reading, reflection, research, and writing.

Students select the specific conferences in light of their educational and vocational goals and in consultation with their faculty advisors. Students then draft a learning plan for each semester that customizes assignments around their experiences and maximizes the realization of their educational goals. The lead mentor and faculty advisors oversee the process and engage students both individually and collectively through asynchronous discussion postings, e-mails, and weekly real-time group meetings via the course website.

The amount of collateral work beyond attendance at conferences and seminars is governed by several factors:

- The "seat time" involved in the event itself
- The amount of work completed in conjunction with the event itself
- Other activities and assignments associated with the semester in which academic credit is calculated for a given conference or seminar

Students are responsible for all costs associated with transportation, conference registrations, conference housing, books, and technology support.

Required course work is to be completed over a two-year period, and a doctoral dissertation will be written in the third year. Students begin the program by attending an orientation retreat that commences at the George Fox University Portland Center

Note: This overview reflects both the general sequence in which students will attend conferences and seminars conducted by teaching churches and other entities (such as educational institutions, parachurch organizations, and missionary societies) and the discrete time frame within which all course work needs to be completed. A total of 32 semester hours must be completed within six sequential semesters, starting with the fall semester of year one and ending with the summer semester of year two.

Candidacy

After a student has finished all course work (32 semester hours), he or she is ready to begin the candidacy process. To qualify as a doctoral candidate, each student must:

1. Maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 with no course grade lower than a B-
2. Submit a topic for the final project and gain approval from the primary advisor
3. Complete all leveling work (if applicable)

When these steps have been completed, the DMin program director will present a report and recommendation to the resident DMin faculty for consideration of the student's qualifications for candidacy. Students advanced to candidacy continue in the program. Students not advanced to candidacy are given specific guidelines for reevaluation.

The doctor of ministry office will notify students of their status following the second year of the program.

The Doctoral Dissertation and Project

To complete the DMin program, a doctoral dissertation is required. This task involves research and writing at both the theoretical and practical levels and serves to evaluate the student's competency in a specialized area of ministry related to his or her personal experience and interest.

In the research orientation courses and through the support of a project advisor, each student receives guidance in choosing a research topic and preparing a proposal for the doctoral dissertation. As a prerequisite to candidacy, the student's proposal is submitted to the DMin Committee for approval.

Additionally, students may produce a project wherein the proposed solution delineated in the doctoral dissertation is implemented. The project incarnates a practical, real-world solution to the stated ministry problem utilizing at least two of the following media forms: video, audio, Internet, and text. Completing a project is optional.

When the doctoral dissertation and project (optional) are complete the candidate submits them to two readers: the faculty advisor and another reader selected by the DMin Committee at the time the project proposal is approved. As part of the evaluation, the candidate must give an oral defense of the doctoral dissertation and project (optional) before the readers.

Master of Divinity

(MDiv Degree)

Program Objectives

The vision of the faculty in the Master of Divinity Program is to foster the ability to:

Understand God

1. Students will be able to interact with Christian Scripture, history, and theology; to interpret the truths critically; and to express them faithfully.
2. Students will be able to experience an ever-deepening sense of the reality of Christ through spiritual formation.

Understand Self and Others

3. Students will be able to understand themselves and relate to others as created in God's image and called into community.
4. Students will be able to engage in the just transformation of societies through personal and social holiness motivated by love.

Lead as Christ Leads

5. Students will be able to lead the church under the lordship of Jesus Christ in its mission and ministries.
6. Students will be equipped practically to preach, teach, exercise pastoral care, equip, and lead in the local church.

Degree Requirements

The curriculum leading to the master of divinity degree is designed for men and women preparing to be Christian ministers, missionaries, chaplains, evangelists, or to enter some other form of Christian service. The MDiv course is designed to enable the student to prepare for ordination (recording). However, each student looking forward to ordination in a particular denomination must secure recommendation from, and follow procedures already established in, that church for such recognition. The seminary assumes no responsibility of this nature.

Following are the requirements for the MDiv degree:

- Satisfactorily complete 96 semester hours of work with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above
- Be accepted by the faculty for degree candidacy
- Be recommended by the seminary faculty for graduation from George Fox University

Total hours required for degree: 96

MDiv Concentrations

Students can choose to use most or all of their MDiv electives to concentrate in one of the following areas:

- Biblical Studies (taking 15 BIST hours beyond the 24 listed above)
- Christian History and Theology (taking 15 CHTH hours beyond the 18 listed above)
- Pastoral Studies (taking 15 PSTD or CMIN hours beyond the 30 listed above)
- Spiritual Formation and Discipleship (taking credits necessary to meet the requirements listed below for the Certificate in Spiritual Formation and Discipleship)

Clinical Pastoral Education

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) brings seminary students into supervised ministry with people in crises. The heart of CPE is ministry with people and learning from that ministry through reflection, discussion, and evaluation with other students and a certified CPE supervisor. CPE training centers are usually located in hospitals and medical centers. George Fox Evangelical Seminary is a member of the Association of Clinical Pastoral Education. Therefore, any seminary student in the MDiv degree program may choose to do his or her internship in a CPE setting. Students pay regular seminary tuition for seminary credits awarded for CPE units. However, students may be eligible to be reimbursed for the cost of CPE units. Reimbursement is limited to 75 percent of the seminary tuition paid for the credits awarded for CPE experience. Students can apply for reimbursement by submitting receipts upon successful completion of the CPE program. Students who feel called to hospital chaplaincy would take the following recommended path at George Fox Evangelical Seminary:

Hospital Chaplaincy Path

Acceptance into the MDiv degree program 1 Tf6nr65.22 1 Tmaed for CPmGorge Fox 1 Tfemio a MDivdents cam7000aceg recomed

2. Completion of a unit of CPE training at an approved training site. A chaplaincy student would take PSTD 565 CPE training

(6 hours). These are typically offered in two formats:

- a. Summer 11-week intensive = 1 unit (100 hours of structured group and training and 300 hours of clinical practice — stipend offered by some hospitals)
 - b. Fall — spring extended program = .5 unit each semester (100 hours of structured group and training and some clinical practice — no stipend)
3. Ordination or a certificate of ministry from the person's denomination.
 4. After completion of the MDiv, the individual would apply for a year of residency at an approved CPE training hospital. These are full-time paid positions for which the individual completes an additional 3 units of CPE. The seminary CPE director keeps a file of residency positions available. Application should be made one year before desired placement.
 5. After fulfilling the requirements of the Association of Professional Chaplains, the individual would apply for certification. Students are encouraged to become student members of APC.
 6. The seminary CPE director keeps a file of chaplaincy position openings.

MDiv Curriculum for Hospital Chaplaincy Students

1. All the normal curriculum requirements for the MDiv degree.
2. Internship requirement would be PSTD 565 CPE unit one (6 hours). The student would not take PSTD 575 Pastoral Internship.
3. Students may substitute CMIN 520 Communication in Christian Ministry for PSTD 510 Essentials of Preaching.
4. A student coming to the seminary with previous CPE units may be awarded up to a maximum of 9 credits.

Registering for PSTD 565 Clinical Pastoral Education

Students should apply for acceptance into an approved CPE center one year ahead of their desired internship date. In Oregon there are four centers: Legacy Health System, Oregon State Hospital, Providence/Portland Medical Center, and Veterans Affairs Medical Center. The ACPE directory with information concerning the centers, the contact persons, and application processes is available from the seminary faculty CPE director. The student contacts the CPE coordinator at the preferred site, fills out an application, and pays the application fee. Once the student is accepted, he/she would register for PSTD 565. Unit one of CPE is equal to 6 semester credits. CPE courses are graded Pass/No Pass. Upon completion of the training, the student submits the final supervision report to the seminary faculty director in order to record the course grade.

Military Chaplaincy

Those who feel called to military chaplaincy should contact the branch of service in which they desire to serve. The chaplain representative for the area will acquaint you with the scholarships, requirements, and steps toward accomplishing this objective. Those students who attend Military Chaplaincy School will receive 8 hours as substitute for PSTD 501 Pastoral Counseling, either PSTD 553 Contextualized Urban Ministry or PSTD 554 Global Mission of the Church, and PSTD 575 Pastoral Internship (2 hours).

Master of Arts (Theological Studies)

(MATS Degree)

Program Objectives

The vision of the faculty in the Master of Arts (Theological Studies) Program is to provide a forum where the student will:

1. Gain knowledge appropriate to the field of specialization
2. Grow in the ability to analyze pertinent texts and materials
3. Develop the capacity to think critically
4. Learn research, writing, and communication skills
5. Prepare for future degree work

Degree Requirements

The Master of Arts (Theological Studies) Program is designed for men and women who desire graduate study in the field of theological studies with an emphasis in:

- Biblical studies
- Christian history and theology
- Integrated studies (allowing a combination)

This is not intended as a pastoral degree program. Following are the requirements for the MATS degree:

- Satisfactorily complete a minimum of 64 semester hours with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above within five years after advancement to candidacy.
- Meet all requirements for degree candidacy. In all cases, this will include a personal interview with the seminary faculty.
- Be recommended by the seminary faculty for graduation from George Fox University.

Language Requirement (Biblical Studies Concentration)

Students in this concentration will be introduced to the biblical languages through BIST 511 Introducing Biblical Hebrew and BIST 521 Introducing New Testament Greek. The student will elect to focus further study on at least one of the two languages by taking either BIST 512 Interpreting the Hebrew Testament or BIST 522 Interpreting the Greek Testament. The student who chooses to focus on Hebrew will take the Hebrew sequence in the first year and the introductory Greek course in the fall of the second year. Likewise, the student who chooses to focus on Greek will take the Greek sequence the first year and the introductory Hebrew course in the fall of the second year. The student may elect to complete both sequences to gain proficiency in the study of both testaments.

Thesis or Project Option

In recognition of the varying needs of students obtaining the MATS degree, the seminary offers three tracks to completion of the degree. The choice of track is to be made only in consultation with the student's academic advisor.

1. Coursework Track

This track is designed for students who desire further study in their area of concentration, but do not intend further academic study of theology and who would not profit significantly from the writing of a master's thesis or production of a master's project (see below). Instead of taking BIST/CHTH 571/572 Thesis Research and Writing or 573 Master's Summative Project, students electing this track will complete additional courses (two in place of 571 and 572, or one in place of 573) in their concentration.

Project Track

BIST/CHTH 571/572 Thesis Research and Writing, students electing this track will complete one additional course in their concentration plus completion of a master's project (BIST/CHTH 573, see description below).

3. Thesis Track

This track is designed for students intending further academic study of theology or who wish to learn the skills involved in researching and writing an advanced thesis in theology. Students electing this track will take BIST/CHTH 571 and 572.

Thesis/Project Requirements

1. In order to begin the thesis or project, a student must have completed 26 semester hours in an MA degree program or 54 semester hours in the MDiv program.
2. Students must have a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 to be eligible to write a thesis or project.
3. With approval of the academic advisor, the student will register for
 - o Thesis Track: BIST/CHTH 571/572 Thesis Research and Writing for two consecutive semesters
 - or
 - o Project Track: BIST/CHTH 573 Master's Summative Project for one semester
4. In consultation with the MATS thesis director, each student will choose faculty advisors/readers.
 - o Thesis Track (two advisors/readers): The primary thesis advisor is normally a member of the seminary faculty and has primary responsibility for overseeing thesis work. The second reader may be chosen from a wider field of qualified academics with expertise in the thesis topic.
 - o Project Track (one advisor/reader): The faculty project advisor is normally a member of the seminary faculty.
5. Thesis/Project Description

The primary advisor will work with the student to define the thesis topic or the nature and scope of the project.

- o Theses should be 75-100 pages in length and should demonstrate the ability to
 - Formulate and research a narrowly defined problem
 - Master a well-defined issue in academic study
 - Interact equitably with other scholars and positions
 - Write in a clear manner consistent with scholarly standards
 - o Projects may include, but are not limited to
 - Media presentations
 - Course curriculum
 - Website development
6. Thesis/Project Proposal
 - o Thesis Proposal: Along with completion of two thesis-writing classes (1½ hrs. each), the student must submit a formal thesis proposal for acceptance by the primary advisor and second reader (elements found in course syllabus). For deadlines, see the schedule provided below.
 - o Project Proposal: In consultation with the faculty project advisor, the student must submit a project proposal for formal approval by the advisor.

All work submitted, from proposal to final draft, must adhere to the form and style guidelines as described in the most recent edition of K. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 8th ed., Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007.

11. All theses and projects will receive a letter grade.

Course Schedule

In addition to attending two sessions on the research and writing process, the student should carefully observe the following deadlines.

Task	Beginning Fall Semester*	Beginning Spring Semester*	Beginning Summer Semester* (with special permission only)
First draft of proposal due to faculty research advisor	early October	early February	mid June
Proposal presented for faculty approval	late October	late February	mid July
Research and writing	November-March	March-July	July-November
Completion of first draft	7 weeks prior to last day of spring semester	7 weeks prior to last day of fall semester	7 weeks prior to last day of fall semester
Submission of final thesis	4 weeks prior to last day of spring semester	4 weeks prior to last day of fall semester	4 weeks prior to last day of fall semester
Oral defense before faculty advisor and second reader	2 weeks prior to last day of spring semester	2 weeks prior to last day of fall semester	2 weeks prior to last day of fall semester
Deadline for the submission of archival copies (2) of the thesis	1 week prior to last day of spring semester	1 week prior to last day of fall semester	1 week prior to last day of fall semester

* If needed and approved by the instructor for BIST/CHTH 571/572, thesis writers may be granted one additional semester for completion of the thesis without grade penalty. In this case the student must register for BIST/CHTH 575 Thesis Continuation; 1 hr. for this third semester. Arrangements for an additional (third) semester must be made prior to the deadline for first draft submission and must be accompanied by a new schedule of completion with deadlines. Theses requiring more than three semesters will normally suffer a grade penalty.

 These are firm deadlines. Failure to meet these deadlines will automatically result in postponement of possible graduation until following semester. Theses submitted late (may include a third semester if previously arranged) may receive a grade no higher than "A-minus."

Registration

First semester: BIST/CHTH 571 (3 hours)
 Second semester: BIST/CHTH 572 (3 hours)
 Third and subsequent semesters: BIST/CHTH 575 (1 hour)

Master of Arts in Christian Ministries

(MA Degree)

Program Objectives

The master of arts in Christian ministries is a professional degree that prepares men and women for professional and spiritual leadership in educational and discipleship ministries within church or parachurch settings. The curriculum is designed so that having received the master of arts in Christian ministries, the graduate will be prepared to lead and facilitate ministries that effectively seek to "present every person complete in Jesus Christ." The student will be equipped to:

1. Administer and evaluate existing ministries, programs, and systems within a Christian community
2. Initiate new ministries and programs based on a biblical and theological framework
3. Articulate and employ a philosophy of ministry that is holistic, respectful and inclusive of all people, and biblical
4. Effectively recruit, disciple, and train laity for the work of the ministry
5. Carry out educational ministry with both professional and theological competence and, in most cases, qualify for ecclesiastical certification and endorsement
6. Demonstrate respect for the worth of all people, based on biblical truth and an understanding of the created gifts of personality, learning style, and spiritual giftedness

Degree Description and Uniqueness

The MA in Christian ministries is unique in the following ways:

1. It requires core courses that are philosophic and historical in nature while practical, reflective, and considerate of the current demands of Christian ministry.
2. It requires biblical, theological, and spiritual-formation courses, which students must integrate into practical ministry and use as a basis for thinking about, creating, and understanding Christian ministry.
3. It allows students to participate in the creation of their course of study by offering various concentrations and elective courses to equip them for specific areas of ministry.
4. It requires an internship in which the student will apply previously learned theory, participate in carefully supervised ministry, and develop a method of reflecting theologically on the practice of Christian leadership.

This degree is designed to educate and nurture men and women as Christian ministers and human beings in areas of integrity, attitude, interpersonal relationships, spirituality, discipline, and vision. The degree is aimed at enhancing the student's commitment to lifelong ministry, professionalism, lifelong learning, and reflection skills that will be practiced in solitude and in community.

The Christian ministries degree offers the following concentrations:

- Church leadership
- Spiritual formation

Degree Requirements

The curriculum is designed to equip men and women for a variety of occupations in Christian ministry. A student looking forward to certification by a denomination or parachurch organization must secure recommendation from the desired institution and fulfill the expected procedures and competencies required for the desired certification. The seminary assumes no responsibility of this nature. The MA in Christian ministries does not substitute for a master of divinity degree in preparation for pastoral ministry. The requirements for the MA in Christian ministries are as follows:

1. Satisfactory completion of a minimum of 64 semester hours with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above.

2. Meeting all requirements for degree candidacy. In all cases, candidacy will include a personal interview, the submission of written work, and evaluation by the seminary faculty.
3. Recommendation by the seminary faculty for graduation from George Fox University.

Master of Arts in Ministry Leadership

(Available Fall 2007)

(MA Degree)

Program Objectives

The master of arts in ministry leadership is a 56-credit-hour professional degree designed to equip persons in ministry who want accessible, affordable, and pedagogically mature theological education, spiritual formation, and professional training. Graduates will serve in a variety of ministry roles such as:

- Associate pastors
- Specialized ministry leaders such as youth, women, men, or children
- Parachurch leaders
- Overseas missionaries and ministry personnel
- Church planters
- Campus or camp pastors

The program objectives are as follows:

1. To enable the individual student to mature into God's fullness
2. To encourage habits of authentic disciplines for thinking and living in Christ's presence
3. To train students to understand themselves and relate to others as created in God's image and called into community and ministry
4. To gain a critical and constructive understanding of the biblical and theological foundations of the Christian tradition
5. To enable students to understand the mission of God in the world and their place in it
6. To equip students to understand the mission of the church, the church's role in the world, and their relationship to that mission
7. To equip transforming leaders to lead their churches and groups to be healthy and effective places of transformation

Degree Description

The curriculum includes a leadership-in-ministry core, biblical and theological foundations, and spiritual formation courses. The degree is offered in a hybrid format with week-long intensives in the fall and spring and online courses in the summer over a period of three years. A hybrid course is a combination of face-to-face classroom experiences and online experiences. A learning community is created for the transfer of information, exchange of ideas, critical-thinking development through discussions and papers posted and read online, and acquired wisdom through sharing professional experiences.

The MAML is designed around leadership-in-ministry courses, biblical and theological foundations courses, specialization courses, and spiritual formation courses. Leadership in any field requires attention to the interdisciplinary and integrative nature of the topic. Therefore, students in the MAML learn about leadership from biblical, historical, sociological, and theological perspectives. The study of leadership involves exposure and training in disciplines such as conflict resolution, reconciliation skills, cross-cultural awareness, communication, organizational systems studies, strategic change processes, and individual and social transformation processes. The spiritual formation courses give the student exposure to development of deep moral and spiritual values, spiritual disciplines, and self-awareness and self-management skills. The student also has the ability to customize his or her training to fit any particular interest or calling.

Degree Distinctives

- Target: Persons in ministry without formal theological education irrespective of geographical location
- Duration: Three years of two one-week intensives on campus in the fall and spring, and two online intensives in the summers

- Delivery: A cohort group experience with a hybrid education format of online and face-to-face learning
- Customization: Internship, special study, and two conference courses provide 8 hours of specialization in an area such as student ministry, church planting, drama ministry

Degree Requirements

The curriculum is designed to equip men and women for a variety of occupations in Christian ministry. A student looking forward to certification or ordination by a denomination or parachurch organization must secure recommendation from the desired institution and fulfill the expected procedures and competencies required. The seminary assumes no responsibility for these processes. The MA in ministry leadership does not substitute for a master of divinity degree in preparation for senior pastoral ministry. The requirements for the MA in ministry leadership are as follows:

Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation

(MA Degree)

Program Description

The master of arts in spiritual formation is a 42-credit, professional degree designed for evangelical Christians who desire a deeper personal walk with Christ; a grounding in Bible, theology, and church history; and the development of ministry skills for helping others become more Christlike in their everyday living.

Program Objectives

The vision of the faculty is to provide a professional ministry program for lay persons who desire to further their Christian understanding in a formational and academic context. Program objectives are:

- To enable the individual to mature into God's fullness
- To encourage habits of authentic disciplines for thinking and living in Christ's presence
- To gain a critical and constructive understanding of the biblical and theological foundations of the Christian tradition
- To define, implement, and assess spiritual-formation processes in individuals and groups in a variety of social and cultural settings
- To train discerning and gifted persons as spiritual guides in the Christian tradition
- To equip individuals for lay leadership and teaching in the ministry specialization of spiritual formation.

Degree Requirements

The master of arts in spiritual formation is designed for:

- Men and women who desire training in biblical and theological studies, in spiritual formation, and in discipleship, and who want a degree
- Spiritual directors who desire to augment their education with a degree program
- Persons who feel called to spiritual-formation ministry in the church or parachurch settings and want a degree program
- Professionals who desire formational experiences and training in an academic environment known for its excellence

A student looking forward to certification by a denomination or parachurch organization must secure recommendation from the desired institution and fulfill the expected procedures and competencies required for the desired certification. This is not intended as a pastoral degree program. Following are the requirements for the MASF degree:

- Satisfactory completion of a minimum of 42 semester hours with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above.
- Meeting all requirements for degree candidacy. In all cases, candidacy will include a personal interview, the submission of written work, and evaluation by the seminary faculty.
- Recommendation by the seminary faculty for graduation from George Fox University.

Seminary Courses

BIST 505 Biblical Book Study in English

3 hours. This course studies the text of a biblical book based on the English text and will apply interpretive principles learned in courses such as BIST 506, 507, 508, 509, and 543. It may be taught in conjunction with BIST 515 OT Book Study in Hebrew or

BIST 521 Introducing New Testament Greek

3 hours. An introduction to New Testament Greek in which the student is exposed to the basic principles of New Testament Greek grammar, syntax, and exegesis, to the Greek text of the New Testament, and to the major tools used in its study. While the basics of Greek have to be the center of focus in this introductory course, attention also is given to the Greek text of the New Testament.

BIST 522 Interpreting the Greek Testament

3 hours. This continuation of BIST 521 adds to the student's knowledge and understanding of New Testament Greek through further exposure to the Greek text of the New Testament. While it pays close attention to matters of grammar, the central focus is the text itself, its interpretation, and its use.

Prerequisite: BIST 521 Introducing New Testament Greek.

BIST 525 New Testament Book Study in Greek

3 hours. Greek text book studies apply principles of hermeneutics and exegesis to original Greek texts.

Prerequisite: BIST 522 Interpreting the Greek Testament or its equivalent.

BIST 530 Septuagint

3 hours. A course of readings in the Septuagint (LXX), mostly in passages that are quot-62t hours. LXX),hours.

3 hours. A theological study of the presentation of the person and work of Christ in the various books of the New Testament. Special emphasis is given to the Gospels, the Pauline writings, and contemporary scholarship. Students are encouraged to take BIST 508 or 509 (NT 2) prior to this course.

BIST 561 Paul and His Letters

3 hours. This course will seek to understand Paul and his letters by focusing on the topic of Paul and the law. The issues surrounding Paul and his understanding of the law impact how believers are expected to live in relation to the Old Testament law (is the law still required?), how grace and moral responsibility are to be balanced in the Christian life, and how we understand salvation in relation to other religious traditions (especially Jewish-Christian relations). Attention will be given to the so-called "new perspective on Paul." Students will (1) read the major contributors on this issue, including traditional and newer approaches; (2) study key NT texts (Galatians; 2 Corinthians 3; Philippians 3; Romans 1-11); and (3) analyze the impact of Paul's view of the law for church ministry and theology. Students are encouraged to take BIST 509 (NT 2) prior to this course.

BIST 571 (first semester) Research/Thesis in Biblical Studies

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

BIST 572 (second semester) Research/Thesis in Biblical Studies

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

BIST 573 Master's Summative Project

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

BIST 575 Thesis Continuation

1 hour. Required for third and subsequent semesters of thesis research and writing.

the church in contemporary culture.

CHTH 530 Women in Church History

3 hours. Reviews the biblical basis of women's leadership and the role women have played in Christian history. Explores issues relating to women in contemporary ministry through readings, case studies, discussion, and interaction with guest speakers.

CHTH 546 Contemporary Theological Trends

3 hours. A critical examination is made of significant writings of contemporary theologians, both in Europe and America. An attempt is made to keep abreast of literature in this field, and to evaluate it in the light of evangelical beliefs. Present trends such as New-Age thought, postmodernism, and other theological themes also will be examined in relationship to appropriate evangelical responses to 21st-century culture.

Prerequisite: CHTH 512 Christian History and Theology II: The Reformation and Its Ramifications.

CHTH 547 History of Biblical Interpretation

3 hours. A study of the history of the interpretation of the Bible. Emphasis on the principles of hermeneutics and their theological development. Application to preaching and teaching in the church today.

CHTH 550 Christian Ethics

3 hours. A systematic study of philosophical, biblical, and Christian ethics for the purpose of applying the Christian ethical ideal to personal, social, economic, and political problems of our contemporary world.

CHTH 552 Essentials of Christian Theology

3 hours. This course in systematic theology provides a practical synthesis of Christian doctrine. It builds upon the student's understanding of the historical development of theology in relation to its biblical roots. The principal goal is to reflect upon the normative sources for theology, with a view toward equipping students to engage their own denomination's heritage and mission of the church in the world.

3 hours. John Wesley's personal and theological background, methodology, and major theological themes receive primary attention. The theology of holiness is examined from the basis of Scripture, Wesley's theology, and the later teachings of the Holiness Movement. The integration and application of holiness and social concerns is examined and students are given opportunities to experience and practice a holiness that is engaged in bringing the kingdom of God into the wounded places of the world. Students will also be involved in independent research in areas related to their ministry focus.

CHTH 571 (first semester) Research/Thesis in Biblical Studies

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

CHTH 572 (second semester) Research/Thesis in Biblical Studies

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

CHTH 573 Master's Summative Project

3 hours. See requirements outlined in Master of Arts in Theological Studies.

CHTH 575 Thesis Continuation

1 hour. Required for third and subsequent semesters of thesis research and writing.

CHTH 585 Seminar in Christian History and Theology

1 to 3 hours. A seminar represents the involvement of a group of students with a professor studying a specially selected topic. Students are encouraged to submit suggestions for seminar topics to the departmental chair. Such requests, as well as faculty interests and special opportunities, will be considered in arrangements for a seminar.

CHTH 595 Special Study in Christian History and Theology

1 to 3 hours. A specially designed and individually tailored course of research, involving in-depth study of a particular question, problem, or issue presented by the student. The student must make application for the study prior to registration for the semester in which the study will be carried out. The application must be approved by the faculty member overseeing the study and the departmental chair. Special arrangements for regular courses of study must be approved by the dean.

Christian Ministries

CMIN 500 Theology and Purpose of the Church

3 hours. This course will introduce students to the nature, purpose, practice, and functions of the church. Special attention will be given to how the church functions in contemporary society.

CMIN 510 Ministry to Families

3 hours. This course is a study of the family: its historical and contemporary religious and cultural structure and function. Questions will be addressed such as: What does it mean to be a family? What are the biblical models of families? How can families integrate faith and spiritual formation into their family life? What is a Christian family? The class will also consider how the church can and must minister effectively to families.

CMIN 520 Communication in Christian Ministry

3 hours.

CMIN 520 Communicatithe/530stry

3 hours. Examines the human and spiritual roles, tasks, and development of adults. Attention will be given to the processes and contexts by which adults are discipled as individuals and in community. Biblical and theological foundations for discipleship as it relates to moral and faith development, and to service in the church and community will be explored. The course focuses on developing spiritual-gifts-based ministry, and mobilizing, coaching, and supporting adults in the local church, which includes building small groups for Christian community and spiritual formation.

CMIN 560 Principles of Teaching

3 hours. Students will research and practice the art of teaching. They will be introduced to various methods of teaching, and to the variety of ways one can structure a lesson plan. The class will focus equally on the importance of preparation and presentation.

CMIN 575 Internship

3 hours. The seminary cooperates with churches and parachurch ministries to provide internship experience under the supervision of qualified pastoral and administrative leaders. The internship requires a minimum of 120 hours on-site at the ministry selected and attendance at three classes, usually held on selected Saturdays. Reflection papers, regular meetings with the ministry supervisor, and assigned readings are also required. Students are expected to secure their own ministry site and supervisor, which must be approved by the faculty internship director. Students should take the internship course during the last half of their program. A Christian Ministries Internship Handbook is available in the bookstore and explains in detail all of the requirements of the course. MATS students will complete a teaching internship with similar requirements.

CMIN 585 Seminar in Christian Ministry

1 to 3 hours. A seminar represents the involvement of a group of students with a professor studying a specially selected topic, such as children's ministry or youth ministry. Students are encouraged to submit suggestions for seminar topics to the department chair. Such requests, as well as faculty interest and special opportunities that become available in the Portland area, will be considered in arranging a seminar.

CMIN 595 Special Study in Christian Ministry

1 to 3 hours. This course is a specially designed and individually tailored course wherein the student requests an in-depth study of a particular question, problem, or issue. This individually designed course will include extensive reading, regular meetings with the professor, research, and written papers or projects. The student must make application for the study prior to registration for the semester in which the study will be carried out. The topic for this type of study is selected by the student and then approved by the faculty member overseeing the study and the department chair. Requests for taking regular courses of study as a special study course must be approved by the dean.

Doctor of Ministry

Year 1 Courses

DMIN 511 Spirituality and the Personality

3 hours. A study of the relationships between personality, practices of spirituality, and spiritual formation. Using the resources of biblical and theological studies, the traditions of spiritual formation, and the insights of various tests of counseling and psychology, students will assess their own personality and spiritual journey. They will also consider how they may use specific understandings and practices to stimulate and sustain their own holistic spiritual development.

DMIN 512 Spiritual Formation in the Minister

2 hours. An exploration of the particular opportunities, challenges, and liabilities that the life of ministry brings to spiritual formation. This course examines the formational roots that animate the minister, as well as the experiences in ministry that threaten spiritual vitality and authenticity. Special attention is also given to the practical means in ministry to nurture spiritual development in oneself.

DMIN 513 Introduction to Research and Resources

1 hour. Introduces the tools for study and research in spiritual formation and leadership. This will include orienting students to the resources of both campuses (George Fox University's Murdock Learning Resource Center, Portland Center library, Internet presence and capacities, etc.), as well as how to use electronic communication and software tools effectively in research. Additional course fee required.

DMIN 514 History and Theology of Christian Spirituality

2 hours. Examines the biblical, theological, and historical foundations for understanding spiritual formation and for practices in spirituality, and explores how spiritual experience and theology influence one another. Includes reflections on spirituality in shaping ethics. Students will be challenged to look for specific ways in which to integrate the subject matter of this seminar into their own ministry settings.

DMIN 516 Contours of Leadership in Emerging Culture

3 hours. A cornerstone course in which students develop a learning plan that identifies their educational and ministry goals, the four conferences or seminars they will be attending throughout the duration of the program, a narrative rationale for the selection of the particular conferences or seminars thus identified, and the specific paper and practical project they intend to produce for the first module. They will attend the first of these conferences or seminars, write an essay, and complete a practical project that is in keeping with the stated goals of their learning plan. Additional course fee required.

DMIN 517 Engaging Leadership Concepts

2 hours. An interactive course that engages students in three online venues: e-mails, discussion postings on WebCT, and real-time connectivity via technology that allows for synchronous interaction. The purpose of the course is to provide a forum in which students hone each other's thinking about one's role and philosophy of leadership in the emerging culture.

process of spiritual growth. Examines in historical context the variety of models the church has used to deepen people's faith in God and to live out that faith in action. It will include monastic, mystical, Eastern Orthodox, Reformed, Anabaptist, Pietist, and Wesleyan models and will examine how these models have been adapted in contemporary developmental models of spiritual formation.

ecclesiology that is biblical, historical, contextual, eschatological, and that can be translated into practice. Attention is given to the expansion of the gospel as it relates to culture. What is the church? What is the church for? What is our role in relationship to the church? These three questions provide the framework for this course.

MLDR 520 Missional Leadership

3 hours. This course studies the biblical, historical, and cultural development of leadership as a missional response to God's concerns in the world. The history of leadership studies and the various leadership theories are explored. The qualities and skills of the missional leader are discussed. Particular emphases on the leader's global view of Christianity, the leader's creative and entrepreneurial development, and his or her stewardship responsibility are the focal points of the course.

MLDR 530 Personal Transformation

3 hours. The Scriptures are replete with examples and teachings about the transforming power of faith in a person's life. This course focuses on the person of the leader and the deep change he or she needs to experience in his or her soul. The scriptural, historical, developmental, and biological nature of personal transformation is explored. Special attention is given to personal transformation as a whole-body experience and to the leader's role in creating an environment that maximizes the conditions for personal transformation.

MLDR 540 Culture & System Change

3 hours. Designed to give the missional leader perspectives and tools for interpreting and guiding a cultural system toward deep change. Insights from various disciplines, such as anthropology, social psychology, and organizational science, stimulate the exegesis of culture in fresh ways. Jesus as a change master in a complex cultural system is the model for guiding effective and lasting change.

MLDR 561/562 Ministry Leadership Conference

Two 1-hour courses. These courses are offered in the fall and spring semester of the third year for the purpose of specialized learning opportunities. Conferences expose students to ideas and experiences outside their normal environment. A student attends a conference from a list of approved conferences, or petitions the course facilitator concerning some other conference. The conference must last at least two days. The student will read 500 pages of materials recommended by the conference, and prepare a 1,000-word report on the conference including: topic, place, dates of conference; seat time; sessions/presentations attended with brief paragraph on each one; an evaluation of the conference including key insights and questions.

MLDR 595 Special Study in Ministry Leadership

Three 1-hour courses. Offered in the student's second year. The courses are designed to give a student an opportunity to customize his or her learning experience. A course facilitator will provide the format and structure for choosing the topic, gathering information and doing the study and work, and presenting the learnings in a written, artistic, or technological form.

Pastoral Studies

PSTD 501 Pastoral Counseling

3 hours. An introduction to the counseling role of the minister. The purpose of the course is to acquaint the student with basic counseling methods in relation to the typical situations encountered in pastoral ministry. Special attention will be given to marital fulfillment of these responsibilities.

PSTD 510 Essentials of Preaching

3 hours. This course introduces students to the theology of preaching and to the principles of sermon construction and delivery. The purpose of preaching as an essential element in the ministry of the church will be considered, as well as the various sermon types and communication techniques used to convey the timeless message of Scripture within a contemporary setting.

PSTD 520 Advanced Preaching

3 hours. An advanced-level preaching course in which homiletical theory and practical application are brought together. The course consists mainly of student preaching and peer evaluation and builds on the foundational principles covered in PSTD 510. The goal is to enhance both the student's theology of preaching and skills in sermon preparation and delivery.

PSTD 540 Understanding Leadership and Congregations

3 hours. Integrating understanding of the complexities of leadership traits and behaviors within the context of the church organization is the focus of this course. Leadership inventories and assessments, case studies, feedback, and simulation exercises are used to help students identify their leadership gifts and to clarify the leadership role of the minister. Congregational insights about structure, culture, health, politics, and organizational development help give a systems perspective to the leadership role.

PSTD 550 World Religions

3 hours. A survey of the major religions of the world, in a context of Christian ministry. The uniqueness of Christianity is noted in its relation to contemporary religions.

PSTD 553 Contextualized Urban Ministry

3 hours. This course involves the student in ministry in an urban context. It lays the theoretical and cultural foundation for doing cross-cultural ministries, and it enables the student to examine critically the "cultural baggage" that may encumber the clear communication of the gospel message. A significant component of field experience in an urban setting is required.

PSTD 554 Global Mission of the Church

3 hours. A course on the world mission of the Christian Church, including an intensive cross-cultural mission experience of at least one week and a study of the history of Christian missions. Course readings and meetings will prepare for and follow up on the immersion field experience.

PSTD 564 The Theology and Practice of Worship

3 hours. This course examines the purposes of worship and its biblical, theological, and historical roots. It also focuses on evaluating current trends in worship, understanding the connection of worship to evangelism, learning how to plan and lead worship, and exploring the role of music and the arts in worship.

PSTD 565 Clinical Pastoral Education

6 hours. Chaplain internship at an approved CPE center. Upon completion of one CPE unit, the student sends a copy of the final supervisor's report to the CPE director in order to receive 6 credits for the course. See Hospital Chaplaincy section of the MDiv program description for more information.

PSTD 575 Pastoral Internship

2 to 6 hours. A full range of pastoral experience, including preaching at an approved church with a minimum of 10 hours a week of supervised involvement. See CMIN 575 description for more information.

PSTD 580 Evangelism

3 hours. Examines the biblical, historical, and theological roots of evangelism. Considers the various methodologies and programs of applied evangelism as they relate to the local church for the purpose of fulfilling the mission of the church. Focuses particularly on providing congregational leadership and vision in personal and corporate evangelism.

PSTD 584 Church Administration

3 hours. The purpose of this course is to enhance professional competence in pastoral ministry by providing insights and skills pertaining to the administration and management of the local church. Particular attention will be given to time management, conflict resolution, delegation, conducting meetings, coordinating committees, communication among staff, managing the church office, volunteer recruitment, training and support, church finances, and tax and legal considerations.

PSTD 585 Seminar in Pastoral Studies

1 to 3 hours. A seminar represents the involvement of a group of students with a professor studying a specially selected topic. Students are encouraged to submit suggestions for seminar topics to the departmental chair. Such requests, as well as faculty interests and special opportunities, will be considered in arrangements for a seminar.

PSTD 591 Seminar in Marriage and Family Counseling

1 hour. An introduction to marital and family dynamics and process. Strategies and techniques of prevention and intervention will be discussed. Specific attention will be given to the minister's own marriage and family.

PSTD 595 Special Study in Pastoral Studies

1 to 3 hours. A specially designed and individually tailored course of research involving in-depth study of a particular question, problem, or issue presented by the student. The student must make application for the study prior to registration for the semester in which the study will be carried out. The application must be approved by the faculty member overseeing the study and the departmental chair. Special arrangements for regular courses of study must be approved by the dean.

Spiritual Formation and Discipleship

SFAD 010/510 Knowing Self, Knowing God

1 hour. Provides an opportunity for students to develop their own self-awareness in the context of their Christian faith and preparation for ministry. Through lecture, reflection, and intentional community, the course equips students to be critically and positively reflective on their giftedness, calling, personal spiritual histories, and the strengths, weaknesses, and spirituality of their personality types.

SFAD 020/520 Prayer

1 hour. Provides an opportunity for students to develop, in community, deeper and more satisfying prayer lives. As the essential relational discipline of the Christian journey, prayer is examined in its various forms as modeled by Jesus and the church. The student will experience liturgical, intercessory, conversational, confessional, centering, and meditation prayers. The paradoxes and problems of prayer also are explored.

SFAD 030/530 Spiritual Life

1 hour. Introduces students to classical exercises of the spiritual life. Certain disciplines — community, study of the Scriptures, confession, integrity, purity, simplicity, social justice, and compassion — are explored in order to bring the student into a deeper relationship with God. The process involves lecture, training, community, and personal practice and reflection.

traditions, such as the Wesleyan, with its biblical and theological foundation for uniting holiness and justice, provide an established model for relating prayer and social action. This course will explore the Wesleyan model and other Christian traditions, both ancient and modern, that provide spiritual resources for social action rooted in prayer and contemplation. Service to others is both a means and an end of spiritual formation.

SFAD 036/536 Spirituality, Shame, and Grace

1 hour. Based on an understanding of persons as created in God's image yet broken, this class explores how shame manifests itself in one's life. Emphasis is given to how the Christian faith unknowingly reflects a shame-based identity and perpetuates shame in the life of the believer. By exploring God's response of grace, the believer finds healing, breaking the distorted image of God created by shame-based faith systems.

SFAD 040/540 Images of God

1 hour. Designed to give the student opportunities to explore images of God as portrayed through Old and New Testament stories, prayers, and poetry, through Christ's words and deeds, and through the work of Jesus' first disciples. These images are compared to the student's internal images of God, which shape one's thoughts, emotions, and actions. The course guides the student toward allowing God to transform, build, and strengthen these images.

SFAD 541 Spirituality and the Heavens

1 hour. An exploration of the relationship between the meaning, process, and experience of creation and our existence as spiritual beings. Of particular interest will be the conditions in which God's creative work is most likely to occur. Astronomy is the primary discipline for our exploration.

SFAD 542 Spiritual Formation in Marriage

1 hour. Offered in a seminar format every other summer, this course explores the spiritual dynamics of a couple in the intimate marital relationship. Attention is given to how couples can cultivate a meaningful shared spiritual life. Though the student registers for the course, both the student and the student's spouse attend the retreat.

SFAD 543 Spiritual Formation and the Family

1 hour. Offered in a seminar format every other summer, this course examines how one can recognize and experience grace in and through family relationships. Attention is given to how one can practice family living as a spiritual discipline. Though the student registers for the course, the student's family is invited to attend.

SFAD 544 Spiritual Formation for Women

1 hour. Examines the issues and challenges of spirituality that are unique to women from a biblical, historical, and sociological perspective. Spiritual formation involves the body, mind, and emotions, so gender plays a significant role. This course studies issues such as intimacy, dependency, anger and fear, power, abuse and victim patterns, impact of physiological changes on the woman's spirituality, women's leadership styles, and the changing roles of women and men in culture and the church.

SFAD 546 Spirituality and the Stewardship of Creation

1 hour. Offered in a retreat format every other summer, this course explores the relationship of the student's spiritual life to the spiritual discipline of stewardship. Attention will be given to stewardship of self and of resources, but a particular focus will be made on the stewardship of creation. The seminar (in an outdoor setting) involves lecture, discussion, silent and written reflection, and small group interaction. Additional course fee required.

SFAD 547 Spiritual Formation Through Journaling

1 hour. Designed to guide students in their personal spiritual formation through journaling, and to equip them for assisting in the formation of others through this discipline. Journaling methods used to accomplish this purpose include dialogue, meditation, and imagination.

SFAD 048/548 Spirituality and Personality

1 hour. Designed to provide a means for in-depth spiritual formation through greater self-awareness using the Enneagram personality profile tool. The Enneagram will help students delve into basic attitudes of their personal and spiritual lives and explore directions for individual and communal growth.

SFAD 549 Spiritual Formation for Men

1 hour. Examines the issues and challenges of spirituality that are unique to men. Spiritual formation is holistic, so gender plays a significant role in one's spiritual development. This course studies issues such as intimacy, power, aggression, lust, anger, and the changing roles of women and men in society and the church.

SFAD 550 Spirituality and Children

1 hour. Based on Jesus' high estimation of children, this course explores the role of children as our teachers. The course gives attention to the notion of our own child-selves and to our own childhood. Specific areas of inquiry are biblical references to children, the spirituality of children, historical and contemporary adult-child relationships, and the social destruction of childhood spirituality. This course intends that renewed observation of "soulfulness" in children will enrich the spirituality of class members.

SFAD 056/556 Spirituality and the Writings of the Mystics

1 hour. An exploration of the mystical tradition of spiritual development. Students will read and reflect on representative selections from both male and female Christian mystics, looking at the theology, images of God, and practices that have shaped the contemplative tradition of Christian spirituality. Included in the course is a small-group practicum to assimilate contemplative practices into the student's devotional life.

SFAD 562 Celebration and Despair in the Psalms

1 hour. The psalms of ancient Israel provide models of appropriate human response to the breath of life as lived before God. In a strange but hopeful way, these immanent human songs of the seasons of human experience also become the source of the divine word of guidance, salvation, and grace.

SFAD 566 Spiritual Formation and the Parables

1 hour. Jesus used parables to communicate truth and to stimulate the growth of his followers. This course examines Jesus' use of parable stories, the power of stories to shape and give meaning to one's spiritual journey, and the use of storytelling and story-finding to enable others to move into a meaningful relationship with God.

Advanced Training Courses

SFAD 070/570 Spiritual Direction Experience

1 hour. A two-semester course designed to give MDiv, MASF, and SFAD certificate students an intentional one-on-one exploration of their spiritual life with a trained guide. Since a dynamic relationship with God requires attentiveness to one's interiority and to one's lived experience of faith in community with others, the spiritual-direction model is used. Course is closed to other degree students. This course is a Pass/No Pass course. Additional course fee required.

SFAD 071/571 The Art of Spiritual Direction

2 hours. Spiritual direction as a discipline for intentionally guiding persons in their spiritual growth is the focus of this course. Topics of the course include the heritage of spiritual direction; the theological, biblical, and psychological premises for the practice of spiritual direction; the difference between spiritual direction and psychotherapy; and the role of spiritual direction in the growth of the spiritual life. This course is a Pass/No Pass course. Additional course fee required.

Prerequisite: SFAD 071/571 The Art of Spiritual Direction.

SFAD 080/580 Group Spiritual Formation

1 hour. Enables students to gain experience in, and learn how to create, small groups that intentionally seek to form participants spiritually. The course focuses on building a spiritual-formation curriculum, utilizing small-group dynamics, and experiencing mutual accountability, with the intention of providing a resource vital to future ministry. Students will have a small-group-practicum experience with supervision.

SFAD 585 Seminar in Spiritual Formation and Discipleship

1 hour. A seminar represents the involvement of a group of students with a professor studying a specially selected topic. Students are encouraged to submit suggestions for seminar topics to the departmental chair. Such requests, as well as faculty interests and special opportunities, will be considered in arrangements for a seminar.

SFAD 091/591 Spiritual Leadership

1 hour. An examination of the unique nature and responsibility of spiritual leadership. The theology of spiritual leadership is analyzed in today's culture. Elements such as accountability, appropriate boundaries, devotional habits, life balance, and retreats and solitude and emotional, spiritual, and physical health are reviewed. Elements that inhibit the exercise of spiritual leadership are explored, such as burnout, depression, addictions, lack of self-differentiation, intimacy issues, sexual misconduct, fears, lack of discipline, conflict, and the misuse of power and innocence.

SFAD 595 Special Study in Spiritual Formation and Discipleship

1 hour. A specially designed and individually tailored course of research involving in-depth study of a particular question, problem, or issue presented by the student. The student must make application for the study prior to registration for the semester in which the study will be carried out. The application must be approved by the faculty member overseeing the study and the departmental chair.

Academic Policies

The following information applies to undergraduate School of Professional Studies (SPS) and all graduate students attending George Fox University. If a policy is specific to an SPS, graduate, or seminary program, it will be noted. Programs of George Fox University may have their own policies related to enrollment and academic requirements. Students should consult their program's directors or guide with regard to specific policies.

Academic Sessions and Credits

The academic year at George Fox University is divided into two semesters of 15 weeks. In addition, the university operates a summer session that is integral to all graduate programs offered by the university.

In addition to traditional course formats, some courses are offered online, or partially online (Internet enhanced). The SPS, MAT, MAOL, and DMin programs are offered through a cohort model in which small groups of students attend class together through the entire program.

The unit of credit is the semester hour, which traditionally is granted for the successful completion of a course meeting 50 minutes per week for one semester. Credit for all courses is indicated in semester hours. All student requirements, advancements, and classifications are based on these units.

Attendance

The responsibility rests with the student to maintain standards of satisfactory scholarship. Regular class attendance is expected of each student in all courses. Specific consequences of class absences are included in the program guide or syllabus for each course. Students are never "excused" from their course work because of absences, and students are advised to notify professors of absences in advance whenever possible. Professors may request that students provide documentation of reasons for absence before allowing the student to make up work. Documentation includes the following:

- Prolonged illness – Students are to visit Health and Counseling Services or their personal physician to obtain verification of the illness.
- Family emergencies – Students need to be able to provide documentation of the emergency.

The university academic calendar provides the instructional dates for all programs. Students are expected to attend classes through the last day of each semester unless illness or an emergency situation exists.

No student will be received after the first academic week of any semester except by approval of the dean and registrar. Classes missed because of late registration will be regarded the same as an absence.

Classification of Students

Full-Time Status

Full-time student status in all graduate (including seminary) degree programs is 8 semester hours. A student need not maintain full-time status, but should be aware of the continuous enrollment policy and that financial aid programs are usually limited to those enrolled at least half time, which is 4 to 7 hours per semester. Some financial aid programs are limited to those enrolled full time. Only full-time students may represent the university in an official capacity or may hold a major office in an organization.

Regular Students

Students who have satisfied entrance requirements and are following a program leading to a degree are called regular students.

They are classified as follows:

- Juniors: students enrolled in a bachelor program who have completed 62 semester hours
- Seniors: students enrolled in a bachelor program who have completed 93 semester hours
- Graduate: students enrolled in a master or doctoral program who generally have a BA or BS degree from a regionally accredited college or university

Special Students

“Special student” is the term used for either of the following:

1. A student who is not seeking a George Fox University degree. This student is taking courses for personal enrichment or professional certification.
2. A student who is interested in pursuing a George Fox University degree but has not been formally admitted to graduate study. Any special student wishing to enter a degree program must fulfill regular admission requirements and be admitted. Special student enrollment does not guarantee subsequent admission to any graduate program/department. A maximum of 10 hours taken as a special student may apply to a degree program.

Special students may be required to receive permission from the director, or chair, of the program prior to enrolling in courses. Some graduate programs limit the number of hours a special student may take or require approval.

Because of the format of the SPS, MAT, MBA, MAOL, and DMin programs, attendance as a special student is not permitted. The Graduate School of Clinical Psychology chairperson must approve attendance in the PsyD program for special, nonadmitted students.

Applicants are required to pay the nonrefundable $40 special student application fee, and tuition is based on the current per-credit-hour rate.

Probation and Provisional Students

A student whose cumulative GPA falls below the level established for satisfactory academic progress (see Satisfactory Academic Progress and Eligibility) will be classified as a probation student. A student placed on probation status may continue to receive financial aid, subject to financial aid policies. An applicant who does not meet expectations for admission may be admitted as a provisional student. A provisional student will not be advanced to regular status until these requirements are satisfied. Some programs may limit the number of hours for which a provisional student may enroll.

Auditors

Subject to instructor and/or program director and/or chair approval, any regular or special student may audit courses from which he or she wishes to derive benefit without fulfilling credit requirements. Auditors are not permitted in some programs because of the cohort model and program requirements. Additionally, prerequisite course requirements must be met before approval to audit will be granted. This must be established with the registrar at time of registration. Class attendance standards are to be met.

Registration

The Office of the Registrar maintains student registration for classes, degree audit information, and grades. Students may change their academic majors and advisors and order transcripts through this office.

All students are expected to register online, within the time period designated on the university calendar and to begin classes on the first day. In addition, each student should be aware of the regulations that appear under Course Numbering System.

Services to Disabled Students

Instructional assistance for disabled students is available through the learning laboratory. Where necessary, course requirements are reasonably adjusted based on students' requests and appropriate documentation.

Disabled students needing accommodations in their program or living situation should contact the director of the Academic Resource Center and Disability Services, 503-554-2314, well in advance of attendance, so that specific attention can be made to assist in providing living arrangements and learning accommodations. More information is available at georgefox.edu/offices/disab_services.

Academic Advising

Faculty advisors are assigned to most entering students by the director, or chair, of the program to which the student is admitted. Generally, only regular faculty serve as advisors. Where possible, accommodation is made for matching students with faculty in their primary field of study or who are their personal preference. However, advisee loads and other considerations may dictate student-advisor assignments.

Generally, students must meet with their faculty advisor prior to registration to discuss their course load and obtain approval for courses selected. While it is the final responsibility of the student to ensure the appropriate courses are taken, the faculty advisor assists in this process. The faculty advisor's permission is generally required before any online registration or registration changes may be made. The faculty advisor or program director will verify all course requirements have been satisfied prior to graduation.

Academic Load

The student's load will be determined in conference with the student's advisor. No student may enroll for more than 17 hours, except by special permission of the program director, faculty advisor, and the registrar.

Registration Changes (Add/Drop)

Registration changes (add or drop) may be made online with advisor permission. The last day to add or drop courses or to exercise a pass/no pass option is established in the academic calendar. Adds and drops are not permitted for cohort programs.

Course Withdraw

A student wanting to withdraw from a class (without withdrawing from the university) must complete a course withdraw form available from the registrar's office (Newberg, Portland Center, Boise Center, and Salem Center). Failure to submit the form with approvals will result in an F grade recorded for all courses involved. There is a fee of $10 for a course withdraw.

Withdrawal from a course (with a W grade) must be completed within the date established in the academic calendar. Beyond this date, an academic petition is required, and cause (emergency conditions) must be established. The student is responsible for all tuition according to the university refund schedule.

Withdrawal From the University

If a student wishes to officially withdraw from all course work at George Fox University, either during or at the end of a semester/enrollment period, the student must notify the registrar's office directly to initiate the withdraw. An official withdraw begins when a student submits a completed withdraw form with required approvals to the registrar's office. Additional information is available in the Compliance with Federal Laws and Regulations, 74 Fed. Reg. 81,581-3, 61301-5, Emergency Compliance Procedures for the 17th

Grade Reports

A student's semester grades, with a semester GPA and a cumulative GPA, are posted on the grade report and are available to the student two weeks following the close of each semester. The GPA is based on George Fox University credits only.

Semester grades are determined by the instructor's evaluation of the student's daily participation in class, performance on periodic tests, work on research papers and class projects, and achievement on final examinations. Grade points are assigned for each hour of credit earned according to the following system:

Letter Grade	Meaning	Points Per Semester Hour
A	Superior	4
A-		3.7
B+		3.3
B	Good	3
B-		2.7
C+		2.3
C	Average	2
C-		1.7
D+		1.3
D	Passing but inferior	1
F	Failing	0
I	Incomplete
W	Official withdrawal
X	No grade reported by instructor
NP	Not passing
L	Long-term

Plus (+) and minus (-) grades may be designated by a professor and will be entered on the transcript. Points will be calculated for the student's GPA accordingly.

time of matriculation, provided attendance is continuous and full time (or at the hours required by the cohort program). Likewise, a student may graduate under the requirements applicable at the time of admission to a program, provided attendance is continuous and full time (or at the hours required by the cohort program).

Students taking an approved leave of absence may remain under the original catalog at the time of matriculation. Two exceptions may be noted: (1) In the event of a change in requirements in a program, the student may elect to fulfill the requirements of a revised program, provided attendance has been continuous and full time; (2) The university may face a situation beyond its control and foresight that may necessitate a revision in available courses. In such situations, the interests of the student will generally be protected.

The university reserves the right to withdraw courses with insufficient enrollment, add courses for which there is demand, upgrade programs, revise teaching and time assignments, regulate class size, adjust administrative procedures, and determine levels of competence of students and prerequisites for admission to classes and programs.

Satisfactory Academic Progress and Eligibility

Students are expected to maintain satisfactory academic progress. Satisfactory academic progress toward a degree as a full-time student is defined as completion at a rate not to exceed 150 percent of the published length of the program while maintaining a minimum cumulative GPA.

Degree	Published Length (years)	150% (years)	Minimum GPA
BA	1.5	2.25	2.00
BS	1.5	2.25	2.00
MA	2.0	3.0	3.00
MASF	2.0	3.0	3.00
MATS	2.0	3.0	3.00
MDiv	3.0	4.5	3.00
MEd	1.0	1.5	3.00
MAT	1.0	1.5	3.00
MBA	2.2	3.3	3.00
DMin	3.0	4.5	3.00
EdD	4.0	6.0	3.00
PsyD	5.0	7.5	3.00

In addition, no grade shall be lower than a B in designated graduate courses (see relevant program guide for a list of these courses). If students do not meet this standard, they must retake the course or courses and perform at a B level or better.

Academic warning, probation, or suspension may also be issued to graduate students for the following reasons:

- A grade of C in more than 6 hours of coursework
- A grade of D or F in any course
- A failing (no pass) grade in practica/internship
- A semester GPA below 3.0 for two consecutive semesters
- Failure to retake a course in a timely manner as specified by the school dean

The standard for satisfactory academic progress for students attending at a less than full-time rate will be adjusted based on the rate of enrollment.

- Play therapy certificate: 10 semester hours
- Master of business administration: 9 semester hours
- Master of education: 10 semester hours
- Doctor of education: 17 semester hours
- Doctor of management: 9 semester hours
- Doctor of psychology: 35 semester hours (maximum of 23 semester hours psychology; 12 hours Bible and theology)

Commencement

The university awards degrees twice a year at its April/May and December commencement exercises. Application for graduation is to be made by at least one semester prior to commencement. All graduating students are expected to participate in commencement exercises. A graduation fee is charged (including for those students unable to participate). Students completing degree work at other times of the year may receive a formal letter from the registrar indicating that their work is complete. Diplomas are not issued until all academic and financial obligations have been met.

Graduation Requirements

Students wishing to receive a graduate degree from George Fox University must meet the following requirements:

1. Accumulate the number of credits required by the degree program in which the student is enrolled
2. Complete the required course work while meeting minimum cumulative GPA requirement of 3.0 for graduate students and 2.0 for SPS degree-completion students
3. Complete all degree requirements for the major/degree
4. Fulfill residency requirements at the university
5. File an Application for Degree form at least one semester prior to expected graduation
6. Pay in full all accounts at Student Financial Services

In order to participate in commencement ceremonies, a student must have completed all degree requirements.

Second Degree

Students earning a second concurrent degree pay an additional $20 graduation fee if participating in only one ceremony.

Students earning a second degree will pay the standard graduation fee.

Final Examinations

Students are required to take final examinations as specified in course syllabi. Students wishing to apply for change of final exam time must apply with the registrar's office by the end of the 10th week of classes.

Academic Honesty

It is assumed that students at George Fox University will endeavor to be honest and of high integrity in all university matters. A lack of respect and integrity is evidenced by cheating, fabricating, plagiarizing, misuse of keys and facilities, removing books and other property not one's own, defacing and altering, and the disruption of classes.

Cheating is defined as "intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise." It is assumed that whatever is submitted by a student is the work of that student and is new work for that course. Fabrication is "intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise or form." Plagiarism is "intentionally or knowingly representing the words or ideas of another as one's own in any academic exercise." One who facilitates any of the above is equally responsible with the primary violator.

Penalties may include restitution, an F on an individual paper or exam, loss of campus position or employment, an F on a course, disciplinary probation, and suspension.

Graduate and Seminary Admissions

George Fox University offers 18 graduate programs: four doctoral programs in clinical psychology (PsyD), education (EdD), management (DOM), and ministry (DMin); master's-level programs in business administration (MBA), education (MEd) — including an administrative licensure program — organizational leadership (MA), teaching (MAT), psychology (MA — part of the PsyD program), counseling (MA), marriage and family therapy (MA), school counseling (MA), and school psychology (MS); and five master's-level seminary programs, master of divinity (MDiv), master of arts in Christian ministries (MA), master of arts in spiritual formation (MASF), and master of arts in theological studies (MATS). In addition, the master of arts in ministry leadership (MAML) will be offered in 2007.

To be considered for admission, applicants are normally required to have a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a minimum 3.0 GPA in their last two years of academic work. An applicant whose cumulative GPA is below this may be considered for admission on academic probation.

Individual graduate and seminary programs have unique admission deadlines, requirements, and procedures established by the university. Application information for graduate study is available upon request. Applications are also available at the George Fox website. For graduate education and psychology programs, write to the Office of Graduate Admissions, George Fox University, 414 N. Meridian St. #6149, Newberg, OR 97132-2697, or request an application by calling 800-631-0921. For all other graduate and seminary programs, write to the Office of Graduate Admissions, George Fox University, 12753 S.W. 68th Ave., Portland, OR 97223, or request an application by calling 800-493-4937.

Meeting minimum entrance requirements of a given program does not guarantee admission. Admission may be granted to applicants who do not meet all admission requirements at the minimal level if other indicators suggest probable success in the program.

Standardized admission examination requirements vary according to program. Information about required tests and testing dates and sites may be obtained from the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Application Procedures for Graduate Students

Application deadlines for graduate programs vary. Please consult the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Applicants to graduate programs at George Fox University must submit the following materials to the Office of Graduate Admissions:

1. Application for admission to the appropriate program for which admission is sought. (A second application to George Fox University is not required.)
2. One-time $40 application fee.
3. If applicable, a passing score on the program-required entrance examination (CBEST, Praxis I and/or II, MSAT, PPST, GRE, or GMAT). Scores must be fewer than five years old to be acceptable.
4. Official transcripts from regionally accredited postsecondary institutions attended.
5. Three or four references, depending on the program for which admission is sought. (Forms are included in the application packet.)
6. Applicant's Admission Statement or essay, as required by the program.
7. Once all materials have been received by the admissions office, the Admissions Committee will review the application. For most programs, a group or personal interview is required.
8. Admitted students pay a tuition deposit prior to enrollment. The deadline for this deposit is outlined in the letter of admission.

Refer to application packets or catalog descriptions of individual degree programs for the specific admission requirements.

George Fox University reserves the right to select students on the basis of academic performance and professional qualifications. George Fox University does not discriminate against students on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, disability, or any other status to the extent prohibited under applicable nondiscrimination law in the administration of its admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, educational programs, athletics programs, cocurricular activities, or other university-administered programs.

Readmission of Former Students

To apply for readmission after an absence of one or more semesters, a student should request an Application for Readmission from the Office of Graduate Admissions. In most cases, readmitted students must meet any new or revised graduation requirements and may be asked to go through regular admission procedures.

Students who withdraw risk nonacceptance of that credit upon readmission unless such has been approved by the graduate program director and the registrar prior to leaving.

Interrsq92atiowil
Campus Visitation

Students interested in enrolling at George Fox University are encouraged to visit the campus, preferably when classes are in session. A visit provides an opportunity to observe classes, see the campus facilities, and talk with students and professors. It also will give university personnel an opportunity to get to know the student better. When possible, visits should be arranged five days in advance through the Office of Graduate Admissions, which is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Newberg campus and the Portland Center.

Prospective graduate students may arrange campus visits by contacting the Office of Graduate Admissions at Newberg, 800-631-0921, or Portland, 800-493-4937.

Financial Aid Application Deadlines

Prospective students are encouraged to apply by May 1, because financial assistance decisions are made shortly thereafter. Applications are welcome after that date, but only federal Stafford Loans will be available for financial assistance. Because financial assistance is extremely difficult to obtain midyear, the university encourages students with these needs to enter in the fall semester.

International Students

George Fox University is an Equal Opportunity Institution. For information regarding the application process for international students, contact the Office of Graduate Admissions at Newberg, 800-631-0921, or Portland, 800-493-4937.

Students who have received an MAOL degree from George Fox University will receive advance standing and 24 hours credit toward the MBA degree. Students then complete 18 hours of additional required coursework for the MBA degree. This policy will remain in effect until December 2007.

Seminary Advanced Standing

George Fox University will consider applicants for advanced standing at the seminary subject to the following:

1. Students admitted with advanced standing may be granted such standing a) without credit by exempting students from some courses but not reducing the total number of academic credits required for the degree, or b) with credit by reducing the number of hours required for the degree.
2. If George Fox chooses to grant advanced standing with credit, it must determine by appropriate written and oral examination that students have the knowledge, competence, or skills that normally would be provided by the specific courses for which they have been admitted with advanced standing. George Fox has articulation agreements with selected undergraduate schools detailing advanced standing. Prospective students are encouraged to ask the admissions counselor concerning the details.
3. Advanced standing with credit cannot be granted on the basis of ministerial or life experience or the content of undergraduate work alone.
4. If advanced standing is granted with credit on the basis of appropriate evaluation, not more than one-sixth of the total credits required for an ATS-approved degree may be granted in this way.
5. At least 50 percent of the concentration hours must be taken at George Fox Evangelical Seminary.
6. A student must meet the minimum residency requirements of the individual programs: 32 hours for the master of divinity, master of arts in theological studies, and master of arts in Christian ministries.
7. Appropriate fees may be assessed for processing and evaluation.
8. Faculty may identify certain courses that are not available for advanced standing.

School of Professional Studies Admissions (SPS)

Enrollment in the degree-completion program at George Fox University consists of two parts:

- Part One is admission to the university as a degree-seeking student. This allows students to take general education courses offered by the School of Professional Studies and, if eligible, apply for financial aid.
- Part Two is application for admission to the major program and cohort group. Students may complete Part One and Part Two simultaneously or separately, depending on their qualifications.

Below is a checklist of the documents you will need to submit for each part.

Part One (Admission to the university)

- Application for admission
- $40 application fee
- Completed Payment Planning Form
- Official transcripts from all prior colleges/institutions attended
- Completion of 31 semester hours, with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher
- Professional resume documenting a minimum of five years work experience or equivalent

Application Deadlines

Part One process must be completed no later than two weeks prior to start of classes.

Part Two (Admission to major program and cohort)

- Application for cohort admission
- Completion of 78 semester hours (with a George Fox GPA of at least 2.25)

- Completion of one academic recommendation and one professional recommendation

Finances

George Fox University maintains high educational standards at the lowest possible cost. A portion of the cost is underwritten by gifts from alumni, friends, churches, businesses, and institutions. An extensive financial aid program assists students in meeting university costs.

The board of trustees reserves the right to adjust charges at any time, after giving due notice. No changes will be made during a semester, nor, unless special circumstances make such action necessary, will changes be made during a given academic year.

Student Financial Services

This office awards scholarships, grants, loans, and other forms of financial assistance, and it bills students for tuition, fees, room and board, and other expenses related to attending college. Representatives and counselors assist with payment plan options and advise students regarding financial aid.

Tuition, Fees, and Expenses (2006-2007)

Program costs listed are estimates, based on current-year hourly tuition rates. Tuition generally increases each year, so students should consider that total annual costs will increase each year.

Students registered for 8 hours or more each semester	$70 per semester
Students registered for 4-7 hours each semester	$35 per semester

This fee covers the cost of student activities, services, social events, and the student centers.

Health/Counseling Fee

Health/counseling fee, per semester	$60
-------------------------------------	------

This fee provides access to Health and Counseling Services for full-time graduate students attending on the Newberg campus.

Health Insurance

Evidence of acceptable medical insurance for accidents, sickness, and prolonged illness is required by the second week in the semester of all full-time students. Students are required to enroll in the university-approved student medical insurance plan unless an insurance waiver form and proof of insurance are submitted at the time of registration indicating comparable coverage elsewhere. A new waiver form must be submitted each academic year.

The premium is subject to change each year by the underwriter but is estimated at $1,200 for 12 months coverage, payable on the first-semester billing.

Health and Counseling Services fee: per-visit fee charged for students not attending on the Newberg campus who use services of Health and Counseling Services.

$20 per visit

Deposits and Admission Fees

Application fee (nonrefundable, submitted with application for admission)	$40
Tuition deposit for graduate students	$200
Tuition deposit for seminary students	$100

Registration, Records, and Graduation fees

Late registration fee (applicable if registration is not made prior to the first day of classes each semester)	$50
Registration change fee (applies to students withdrawing from a portion of their enrollment, but not all; charged per registration transaction, beginning on the first day of classes. There is generally no removal of tuition charges after the last day to change registration, or end of add/drop period.)	$25
Graduation fee:

Seminary candidacy assessment fee	$125
Counseling department candidacy assessment fee	$125
Seminary graduate research/thesis	$100

Departmental Fees

Several classes require an extra fee to cover special facilities, equipment, transportation, etc., ranging from $10 to $830 per class, although some specific courses may be higher. (*DMin LEC cohort retreat fees are $830 per retreat, or total of $2,490 for all three retreats.)

Account service charge: Open accounts (other than approved installment plans) are subject to a 1-percent-per-month interest charge on the unpaid balance. Late payment fees for installment plans vary according to the plan.

The "enrollment period" is defined as the period for which a student is enrolled.

The "payment period" is defined as the loan payment period for which the student is eligible. The payment period is used only when calculating the return of funds for academic programs that have two loan disbursement periods within one academic period, such as the School of Professional Studies MOL and MBIS programs.

A "Postwithdrawal Disbursement" is a financial aid or loan disbursement that the student was eligible for prior to withdrawal, but had not yet received.

Removal of Institutional Charges

Students who choose to reduce their course load, and who do not completely withdraw from the university, will receive a removal of tuition, course fees, and other associated fees consistent with the following policy (also available in the Office of the Registrar and the Student Financial Services Office). Each "week" refers to 1/15 of class hour total. The add/drop fee is $25.

1st week: 100% of institutional charges removed, add/drop fee assessed

2nd week: 75% of institutional charges removed, add/drop fee assessed

3rd week: 25% of institutional charges removed, add/drop fee assessed

4th week: all institutional charges remain, add/drop fee assessed

Adjustments of charges for summer graduate housing will generally be calculated as follows:

Students are charged on a weekly basis for housing. Any portion of a week used is charged at the weekly rate. Housing is limited to out-of-area residents with limited availability. Charges are removed for weeks not used. The Office of Student Life determines weeks used.

After the second week of the enrollment period, there is generally no adjustment of health insurance, student body fees, health counseling fees, activity fees, parking permit fees, and course fees. (Removal of course fees will be considered if the student submits faculty approval showing that the institution did not incur costs as a result of the student's anticipated participation in activities and/or supplies were not issued.)

Generally, there is no adjustment of add/drop fees or interest. When a student withdraws completely from the university for reasons other than documented and verified medical or hardship reasons, refunds of tuition, excluding abbreviated sessions (see "Abbreviated session" information below), will generally be calculated as follows:

- A student whose withdraw date is within the first week of the enrollment period generally receives a 90 percent removal of charges.
- A student whose withdraw date is within week two generally receives a 75 percent removal of charges.
- A student whose withdraw date is within week three generally receives a 50 percent removal of charges.
- A student whose withdraw date is within week four generally receives a 25 percent removal of charges.
- A student whose withdraw date is within week five, or later, generally receives no adjustment.

Abbreviated sessions are shorter in length resulting in a smaller percentage of tuition, if any, that may be removed. Generally speaking, a removal of tuition will only be considered if the student has been granted an academic drop for the course and if financial aid eligibility is not impacted.

Students requesting medical or hardship financial considerations must do so in writing to the Student Financial Services Office within 30 days of last date of attendance.

Note: No transcripts will be released until the student's account is paid in full. This includes current charges, balances that are the result of financial aid funds returned, and fines that may be assessed after the student leaves.

Removal of Institutional Aid

If a student withdraws and is granted a removal of tuition, George Fox University allows the student to retain a percentage of the disbursed institutional financial aid equal to the percentage that they have been charged, but not to exceed standard charges minus $100. Standard charges are considered to be tuition and fees. The order that institutional financial aid is removed is at the discretion of Student Financial Services.

Removal of Title IV Funds

The Return of the Title IV Federal Funds

These policies apply to students who withdraw entirely or take an approved leave of absence from George Fox University without earning credit for the enrollment period, or to students who are asked to withdraw for academic, disciplinary, or financial reasons.

Note: Both The Return of the Title IV Funds and Removal of Institutional Aid policies and the George Fox University Removal of Institutional Charges Policy must be considered when determining the financial impact of withdrawing completely from the university.

Return of Title IV Funds

Federal law requires that all Title IV funds disbursed to the school be included in the return calculation, including funds in excess of the student account balance that the institution has forwarded to the student and eligible funds pending disbursement. (See Postwithdrawal Disbursement.)

The percentage of Title IV funds returned is based on the number of calendar days the student was enrolled; including the established withdraw date, and allowable charges.

After 60 percent of the period has transpired, there is no return.

To estimate the amount that will be returned to federal aid programs:

1. Divide the days transpired by the total number of days in the period. (See Withdraw Date and Refund Calculation Period above.)
2. Convert this number to a percentage by moving the decimal point two places to the right and round to one decimal place. This generally equals the percentage of aid that is considered "earned" and subsequently may be retained.
3. Subtract the percentage of aid retained from 100 percent. This generally, if 40 percent or more, is the percentage that will be returned.

(Example: If a student's withdraw date is established as the 21st day of a period that is 111 days long, 21 days would be divided by 111 days to equal .1892, which converts to 18.9 percent. This is the amount of aid retained. One-hundred percent minus 18.9 percent equals 81.1 percent of aid that must be returned.)

When considering the impact of withdrawing, it is recommended that an estimated calculation be requested from the Student Financial Services Office prior to deciding to withdraw.

In accordance with federal regulations, the return of Title IV funds is made in the following order:

- Unsubsidized Stafford Loans
- Subsidized Stafford Loans

George Fox University | 1111 North 10th Street | Portland, OR 97208 | 503.535.3939 | www.georgefox.edu

Financial need is determined by a uniform method of analysis of information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The need analysis helps the university determine the contribution the student is expected to make. The difference between this expectation and the cost of attendance at the university is the "need" that financial aid attempts to fill.

Financial assistance awarded by George Fox University takes the form of grants, loans, and employment. "Need-based" financial assistance comes from the federal government and from the university. Students awarded federal aid are subject to the laws regulating those programs. For instance, all federal assistance requires signed statements from the recipient attesting that the funds will be used only for educational purposes, that the student is not in default on any government loan nor owing a refund on any government grant, and that the student has registered with the Selective Service or that he or she is not required to do so.

Loans, Scholarships, and Grants

The university participates in the federal William D. Stafford Subsidized and Unsubsidized Direct Loan programs. Eligibility for both Stafford loans is determined from the FAFSA information, as well as by the number of hours enrolled in and whether the student has been accepted to a qualified degree-seeking program. Students are encouraged to be cautious when applying for loans, but to consider the value of receiving financial assistance when needed and of paying some of the cost of education later when they are better able to do so. The university expects loans to be a significant part of the financial aid award for graduate students, but the student must decide whether loans are necessary based upon his/her financial situation. Students who are taking out a Stafford loan for the first time with George Fox University are required to go through an entrance interview. The Student Financial Services Office will provide information about that requirement and how to satisfy it.

Governmental Funds and Provisions

Prospective and enrolled students may request and receive information from the Student Financial Services staff concerning available financial assistance and student consumer information.

Financial resources are supplied by the federal government through Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended. Students may inquire at Student Financial Services about eligibility for aid, criteria for selection, award amounts, and rights and responsibilities.

Veterans Affairs (VA) Assistance

The university is listed with the U.S. government as a recognized graduate school for the training of veterans. All prospective students eligible for VA assistance should write to the university registrar for VA-approved program information and follow procedures required by the Veterans Affairs for transfer of training to George Fox University. To be recommended for VA assistance, the student must continue as a bona fide registrant throughout the semester. Those receiving VA assistance must meet the minimum academic standards of the university for enrollment and progress toward degree completion and to enroll must have an approved VA benefits voucher authorizing payment. The Montgomery GI Bill is considered a resource against all aid sources except for the subsidized Stafford loan.

Seminary Institutional Aid Programs

Several scholarship/grant programs are available for eligible students. Seminary grants are awarded annually.

Unless otherwise specified, students must be enrolled full time with 8 hours or more for each semester to receive a scholarship or grant.

The Clapp Scholarship is awarded to master of divinity students.

The Julius Clifton Bruner Scholarship Fund was established by Iris J. Bruner in memory of her husband for graduate theological education.

The Ketterling-Schlenker Memorial Scholarship Fund was established to assist students demonstrating financial need. Preference is given to students from North Dakota, Montana, or the Midwest.

The Clara and Harlan Macy Memorial Scholarship was established by family members to help seminary students going into pastoral ministry.

The Chuan Cheng Morrisey Missions Memorial Scholarship Fund is awarded to students preparing for cross-cultural ministry (preferably with Chinese) or to Chinese students preparing for cross-cultural ministry to non-Chinese.

The H.W. and Wilma Ogden Scholarship is awarded to Free Methodist students in the ministry program at the seminary.

The Richard Parker Scholarship was established by Jeannette Parker in memory of her husband. It is awarded to students in the master of divinity, master of arts in Christian ministries, or master of arts in theological studies programs.

The John and Emma Pike Scholarship is awarded to master of divinity students committed to full-time pastoral ministry upon graduation.

Earnings from the Arthur T. Shelton Scholarship Fund are awarded to students coming from the states of Oregon and Washington.

Earnings from the Lydia C. Sundberg Memorial Fund are awarded to international students who will return to their homeland, or students planning to enter missionary service.

The Glenn and Allee Yoder Memorial Scholarship was established in 1993 by their family for the educational advancement of Christian students.

Eligibility for all of the above scholarships is based on evidence of financial need and is limited to tuition only. If a student's enrollment status changes, the amount of the scholarship may be decreased accordingly. A student may not be on academic probation more than one semester to maintain eligibility. Awards are limited to the amount of funds available and to seminary courses taken for credit only, not audit courses or off-campus courses and seminars.

Seminary Church Matching Grants: The Church University Fellowship Award Program was established to partner with churches who offer scholarship programs to assist their students who attend George Fox University. The church must apply and send payment postmarked by Aug. 1, 2006, for the fall semester and Dec. 1, 2006, for the new seminary students in the spring. Qualifying students may receive up to $600 of matching funds. See General Program Description/Application for matching policies.

Seminary Multiethnic Scholarships are awarded to current and prospective students who are U.S. citizens and ethnic minorities. These scholarships are based on need.

Partners in Ministry Grants are provided for all spouses enrolled in the partners in ministry certificate program. Scholarships are limited to one course per semester. Scholarships will be applied only to those courses in the program.

Pastor and Teacher Enrichment Grants are available for full-time pastors, Christian educators, and mission personnel not pursuing a degree program, for courses taken on an audit basis.

Seminary Grant

The Seminary Grant is available to all students whose federal financial aid form determines need and who have at least a 3.5 cumulative GPA. Also, the federal financial aid form results must be received by the Student Financial Services by May 1. All new entering seminary students will be considered on need only, but the cumulative GPA must also be maintained with at least a 3.5 cumulative GPA to continue receiving the Seminary Grant.

Seminary International Student Award

All international students will be awarded an International Grant based on 20 percent of the tuition for a full load of 8 hours. Students must maintain at least 8 hours per semester and can receive 20 percent of any credits over 8 hours, as well. It is the student's responsibility to let Student Financial Services know if taking more than 8 hours. All international students must apply for admission by May 1 of each year in order to receive the International Grant.

Seminary Research Scholars and Teaching Assistants

Several seminary students are selected each year to serve as research scholars and teaching assistants for full-time faculty. Prospective research scholars and teaching assistants should make application for the position with the endorsement of the faculty member by May 1 prior to the academic year. Qualifications for the position are considered. An applicant must be a registered student. Though not required, a research scholar is typically in her/his second or third year of study. Research scholars and teaching assistants are considered student employment positions. Remuneration will be at the established university student employment rates.

Seminary Student Employment

Several seminary students are selected each year for campus employment assignments at the Portland Center of George Fox University. These positions vary throughout the year depending on the staffing needs. Both financial need and qualifications for the position are considered. Applications are available from the Portland Center admissions office. A campus employment student must be a registered student. Remuneration will be at the established university student employment rates.

Other Scholarship Programs for Seminary Students

Information and applications for the following scholarship programs may be obtained by contacting the appropriate denominational and conference offices directly.

Brethren in Christ Church Scholarships: A $500 annual tuition scholarship is provided students of the Brethren in Christ Church.

Evangelical Church, Pacific Conference: The Pacific Conference of the Evangelical Church offers financial aid to its ministerial students who are attending the seminary and who are under the guidance of the conference Board of Ministerial Relations. Both basic tuition scholarships and service-grant loans are available.

Evangelical Men Scholarship: The Evangelical Men of the Evangelical Church (Pacific Conference) grant an annual tuition scholarship to a student of their choice.

Free Methodist Church Scholarships: Tuition scholarship assistance is provided for all Free Methodist students who meet the standards determined by the denomination through the John Wesley Seminary Foundation.

Higbee Memorial Scholarship: The Oregon Conference of the Free Methodist Church is custodian of a scholarship fund for Free Methodist students. The fund is in honor of Dellno Higbee.

Northwest Yearly Meeting of Friends Church Scholarship: A limited number of Friends students may receive tuition scholarship assistance from allocated funds set apart for this purpose by Northwest Yearly Meeting.

Paul T. and Vera E. Walls Foundation Scholarships: These scholarships are designated to provide assistance to seminary students who are members of the Pacific Northwest Conference of the Free Methodist Church.

Waldo Hicks Memorial Scholarship: His widow, Frances Hicks French, and her two sons, Bruce and David, have designated this annual scholarship to assist a student of the Friends Church.

Wesleyan Church Scholarship: Funds are made available to Wesleyan students on a loan basis. Repayment is dependent on years of service in the denomination following seminary training.

Compliance With Federal Laws and Regulations

George Fox University does not discriminate against students on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, disability, or any other status to the extent prohibited under applicable nondiscrimination law in the administration of its admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, educational programs, athletics programs, cocurricular activities, or other university-administered programs.

The following offices may be contacted for information regarding compliance with legislation:

Director of admissions: student consumer information

Vice president for finance: wage and hour regulations, The Civil Rights Act of 1964 (race, color, or national origin), and age discrimination

Vice president for student life: Title IX (nondiscrimination on the basis of sex)

Director of Student Financial Services: Title IV (Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended), student consumer information, the Pell Program, Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grants, the Perkins Loan/Direct Loan Program, the Stafford Loan Program, the Parents Loan for Undergraduate Students Program, and the Supplemental Loans for Students Program

Registrar: Rehabilitation Act of 1973, veterans' benefits, Immigration and Naturalization Act, and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

George Fox University accords all the rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) to students who are enrolled. No one shall have access to, nor does the institution disclose any information from, students' education records without the written consent of students except to personnel within the institution with direct educational interest, to persons or organizations providing students' financial aid, to accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function, to persons in compliance with a judicial order, and to persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of students or other persons. All these exceptions are permitted under the Act.

Students are afforded the right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception that permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate education interests. A school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position; a person serving on the board of trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an educational record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. jth a sd8/evie above are considered as "directory information" according to federal law. Nondirectory information, notably grade records, are sexual contact. More subtle forms of inappropriate behavior such as offensive posters, cartoons, caricatures, comments, and jokes of a sexual nature are prohibited, as they may constitute sexual harassment when they contribute to a hostile or offensive work, academic, or student life environment.

Complaint Procedure for Harassment

If any employee or student believes he or she has witnessed discrimination or harassment, has been discriminated against, or has been subjected to sexual or other forms of harassment, the person should immediately report it as follows:

1. If the alleged incident involves two students (outside the context of student employment), the vice president for student life or the dean of students should be contacted.
2. If the alleged incident involves a student and a faculty member, the academic dean, the provost, or the vice president for student life should be contacted.
3. If the alleged incident involves one or more support staff, administrators, faculty members, or student employees, then a supervisor, the director of human resources, the provost, or any vice president should be contacted.

Complaints are to be investigated promptly and appropriate corrective action taken. No one will suffer retaliation for reporting concerns about discrimination or harassment.

Retaliation is prohibited for good-faith reporting of concerns about discrimination or harassment. Employees who are asked to testify during an investigation are expected to cooperate fully. Retaliation against them for doing so is not tolerated. Any employee found to have engaged in discrimination, harassment, or retaliation is subject to immediate disciplinary action as deemed appropriate by the university, up to and including termination.

Withdraw Process From the University

The registrar's office is designated by the institution as the contact for all withdraws: part-time, during-semester, or complete withdraws. If a student wishes to officially withdraw from all course work at George Fox University either during or at the end of a semester/enrollment period, the student must notify the registrar's office directly to initiate the withdraw. An official withdraw begins when a student submits a completed form with all required approvals to the registrar's office. In most cases, an exit interview will also be required.

Generally the student will be awarded W grades for all courses affected by an official withdraw.

The student is then considered to be officially withdrawn.

The student is responsible to return all institutional property to the appropriate office or department, such as library books, keys, athletic equipment, lab equipment, etc. Students are financially responsible for all items not returned.

The student will be notified by Student Financial Services of financial obligations when the withdraw calculation is completed. For a copy of or examples of the removal of institutional changes policy, please contact Student Financial Services.

The official withdraw date is established by the registrar's office. Generally, the withdraw date is the date the withdraw form is completed and submitted to the registrar's office or the date established on the withdraw form.

For during-semester withdraws, students generally lose enrollment privileges five working days after the official withdraw date established by the registrar's office. These services may include, but are not limited to, e-mail, library, student activities, food service, on-campus housing, health, and other related services associated with enrolled student status. The university reserves the right to remove privileges immediately upon official withdraw notification.

Rescind Notification of Intent to Withdraw

If a student wishes to cancel his or her official withdraw from the institution, that student must submit to the registrar's office, in writing, his or her intent to complete the current term of enrollment. This rescinds the student's notification of intent to withdraw.

Unofficial Withdraw

If a student fails to follow the official withdraw process, he or she will be considered to have unofficially withdrawn. If the student unofficially withdraws, the institution will generally use the 50 percent point of term or a documented earlier or later date of academic activity or attendance as the official withdraw date. Generally, the student will be awarded F grades for all courses affected by an unofficial withdraw.

Appeal

An appeal of the established withdraw date is to be submitted in writing to the registrar's office within 60 days from the established withdraw date.
